Castro Hurls Hot Charges At Urrutia

May Take Over As President In Cuba Upheaval

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro resigned as prime minister of Cuba Friday night, accusing President Manuel Urrutia of "an attitude bordering on treason."

He also accused the President, a former judge he personally put in office earlier this year, of immobility and of failing to discharge his duties.

BULLETIN
HAVANA, Saturday (UPI) — Fidel Castro withdrew his resignation as prime minister of Cuba early Saturday after forcing President Manuel Urrutia Llea to resign

This in turn, Castro told a television audience, has created "discrepancies of moral order."

He did not immediately elaborate.

SECOND ACCUSATION

This is the second time within the past two weeks that the bearded rebel leader had accused close associates of treason or near treason. The other was the case of former Cuban air force chief, Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, who accused Castro of being a Communist.

Urrutia, who has also strongly criticized communism in Cuba was not available for comment. At the presidential palace he refused to receive newsmen.

Heavy pressure was building up to force Urrutia out of office, perhaps to make way for Castro to take over as president.

Urrutia's quick resignation was expected.

Castro declared in a TV speech: "My resignation is caused by the impossibility to discharge my duties in the present circumstances because of difficulties with the President."

Shortly before Castro spoke, the the powerful, half-million-member Sugar Workers Assn., called for Urrutia to resign in deference to Castro.

There had been rumors from time to time of differences between Castro and Urrutia over matters of policy and the way Castro was carrying it out.

Castro put Urrutia in office aft-

Baton Rouge Port Counsel Resigns Post

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Greater Baton Rouge Port Commission said Friday Theo F. Cangelosi has submitted his resignation as its legal counsel.

The resignation came in a letter to Ernest D. Wilson, commission president.

Cangelosi has come under criticism of Gov. Earl K. Long since the governor's commitment to Texas and Louisiana mental institutions last month.

He stepped out as attorney for Gov. and Mrs. Long in the mixup of their filing cross-suits for legal separation.

But Cangelosi made it clear his stepping aside as legal officer for the Port Commission here does not mean he will quit his post as chairman of the Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors.

Cangelosi has been on the LSU board about eight years and has 12 more years to serve on a 14-year appointment by Gov. Long.

The governor has indicated earlier he wanted to get Cangelosi out of the port job.

Cangelosi said, "If the chairman of the LSU board, whomsoever he might be, would resign under such circumstances as the present he would do irreparable damage to LSU academically and otherwise.

"Under no circumstances, whatsoever, therefore, would I resign as chairman of the LSU board."

Cangelosi said his withdrawal as general counsel for the Port Commission here "'is effective at the pleasure of the commission."

Soviet Composer Plans U. S. Visit

MOSCOW (AP) — Composer Dmitri Shostakovich will visit the United States for a month starting in September. Sergei Aksyuk, one of the leaders of the Soviet Composers Union, announced the trip Friday at a news conference and said it will repay a visit by a group of American composers.

Tass said Shostakovich will be accompanied by Dmitri Kabalevsky and Tihon Khrennikov, two other well-known composers, and Eugenn Kapp, an Estonian musician.

Kidnapping Case Suspect Charged

HAMBURG, Ark. (Special) — Kenneth W. Ellis, 28, of Pioneer, charged with kidnaping and armed robbery, will be taken to the Arkansas State Hospital in Little Rock within a few days for mental observation.

Meanwhile, an attractive Montrose, Ark. housewife reported that Ellis molested her three hours before he kidnaped Mrs. Ira G. Riley, 33, near here Thursday afternoon.

Ashley County Prosecuting Attorney Jimmy Linder said late yesterday that he will not press charges against Ellis in connection with the molesting of Mrs. James Vaughn, 30, of Montrose.

Linder filed kidnapping and armed robbery charges against sullen, blue-eyed Ellis yesterday, and set his bond at $50,000.

OBSERVATION

Ellis will be kept at the state hospital for 30-days observation.

Mrs. Vaughn and her nine-year old son identified Ellis yesterday as the man who forced his way into their rural home at 11:30 a.m. Thursday.

The tall, slender brunette told Ashley County Sheriff B. A. Courson that Ellis held a single-barrel shotgun on her, made her tie her son's hands and lock him in an outdoor toilet, then ordered her to disrobe in a bedroom.

He did not harm her daughters, age 1 and 2, who were asleep on the bed, but molested

Schools

In this column, in a past issue, it was stated that Monroe's public schools would open the day following Labor day. This is incorrect, states Supt. W. W. Ward of the Ouachita Parish Public schools. August 31, will be opening date for parish and city schools here.

Explaining the early opening, Superintendent Ward states that when he first became connected with the school here in 1940, the opening date was September 16.

Now he explains that as an entire week is allotted for Easter vacation, instead of only two days as once was the case, it is vitally important to open school earlier. That is why it will be on August 31 this year. Thus, in a comparatively few weeks, schools will again be in session.

Test Of Cosmic Ray Rocket Fails

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP) —The Navy's second attempt to fire a 150-mile-high cosmic ray rocket fizzled Friday.

The second stage of the Nike-Asp combination failed to fire, officers said. The rocket reached an altitude of 90,000 feet, they said, before falling back into the Pacific Ocean.

Officer Gets Fired For Plans To Wed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—"They don't think I'm good enough for him," sniffed showgirl Jackie Winter Friday after the sheriff fired her fiance, Detective Chief William O'Reilly.

"It's that undersheriff, Lloyd Bell — he hates my guts," Miss Winter told reporters. She refused to say why.

O'Reilly, 45, got the sack Thursday after Sheriff W. E. (Butch) Leypoldt received a formal announcement of his planned wedding Aug. 2 to Miss Winter at Christ Episcopal church.

Leypoldt said he warned O'Reilly three months ago, when he took out a marriage license, that the union would not be in the best interest of the department.

"They're trying to imply something about Jackie," O'Reilly said, "and they're wrong."

The sheriff, however, said, "It is the policy of police departments everywhere to terminate officers who marry wealth."

"I don't want any captain of mine coming to work in a Cadillac and living in a $50,000 house."

Miss Winter, 27, insisted she is not wealthy, but does own a Cadillac.

"I worked as a showgirl when I first came here two years ago," she said. "Since then I've invested my earnings in real estate, and I'm still paying on it."

O'Reilly said he wasn't sure what kind of work he would do, now that he has been fired after seven years on the force.

Miss Winter, however, wasn't worried. She said she had a job starting Aug. 20 as a chorus girl in the line at one of the casino hotels in this gambling resort. She

Admits Shooting Brothers; Arms, Legs Hacked Off

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP)—Police said Friday that tall, dark-haired Viola Hyatt told them she killed and mutilated two brothers living on her father's farm, then hauled the bodies up to 50 miles away before dumping them.

The plump, 30-year-old resident of White Plains, Ala., a small community in northeast Calhoun County, was questioned for about six hours Thursday night before she began to tell the story, officers added.

Walter L. Allen, chief investigator for the State Department of Public Safety, said two warrants were issued charging Miss Hyatt with murder. Sheriff Roy Snead of Calhoun County said it will be up to a grand jury to fix the degree of murder.

IDENTIFY VICTIMS

Floyd Mann, state public safety director, said four things contributed to the motive in the brutal slayings three weeks ago.

He listed them as physical abuse to her by the men, physical abuse to her father, "Drinking habits" of the men which irritated the family, and argument over the use of a car.

Authorities identified the victims as Emmett Harper, 48, and Lee Ander Harper, 55.

Both lived in a box-type house trailer near the unpainted frame farm house where Miss Hyatt lived with her elderly father and

Registration Books Close Here At Noon

The voter registration books for Monroe close at noon today, and will not be re-opened until August 19.

Mrs. Mae Lucky, Ouachita Parish registrar of voters said that her office in the Courthouse will remain open until 12 for all Monroe residents wishing to register as voters.

State law requires that registration books be closed for 30-days prior to an election.

On August 18, Monroe property owners will go to the polls to decide on a proposed $5½ million revenue bond issue election.

The City Council called for the election at the request of the Utilities Commission, for an addition to the city power plant.

Pointing out that if the election passes it will involve no additional taxes, officials commented that the bonds will be paid for by revenues from the Utilities Commission.

Only voters in Wards 3 and 10 within the Monroe city limits will be affected by the closing of the registration books.

Eligible persons residing in all other wards and precincts of the parish outside Monroe may continue to register during the 30-day period, Mrs. Lucky explained.

Arkansas Joins In Court Fight

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Arkansas received permission Friday to join Louisiana in a federal court challenge of the Civil Rights Commission.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett of Arkansas had asked permission to file a brief as a friend of the court of support to plaintiff's testing the legality of the commission.

A special three-judge federal court was created to consider the question here Aug. 7 after U. S. District Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. last Sunday granted a temporary restraining order banning the commission from forcing 17 registrars to testify on complaints they had unlawfully deprived Negroes of their rights to vote. The request for the order was filed by Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion of Louisiana.

AFTER HECTIC NIGHT

Aides Quit Long To Return Home

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Gov. Earl K. Long tried Friday to kick down the door of a hotel room to get at sleeping aides who deserted him on a tour of Juarez, Mexico, nightclubs.

The aides simply couldn't keep up with Long, who is 63 and suffering from a nervous breakdown, heart trouble and the aftereffects of a stroke.

So Long, after sunup, stormed into the Hilton Hotel to berate his companions for their lack of stamina. The door was locked and Long tried to kick it in.

"G-- D--- you, wake up in there," Long shouted in rage. Cap Douglas Durrett of the Louisiana State Police tried to pacify Long but the Governor pushed him aside.

TELLS OFF FRIENDS

A bellboy eventually arrived with a key. Long pushed into the room and in loud, profane language told his friends what he thought of them.

Durrett, a tough, veteran state police officer, went into the room and tried to act as a peacemaker. He came out weeping.

"And they say he's sick," Durrett said. "Why, right now, that man could whip any 50 men in Texas."

Exhausted by his rage and an extensive tour of the nightclubs of Juarez, across the border from El Paso, Long finally went to sleep.

While Long was asleep, State Sen. B. B. (Sixty) Rayburn and State Rep. Spencer Myrick, two of Long's closest friends, left in a Louisiana National Gurad C45 plane, taking Durrett with them.

They said they had to go home "on business" and Rayburn said he will rejoin Long Sunday. But it was known that they were on the point of exhaustion.

After Long awoke Friday, he called in State Police Capt. Joe Anselmo and ordered him home. Anselmo packed his bag and left for the El Paso Airport.

Long arrived in El Paso Thursday night after a leisurely trip across West Texas from Fort

Gibbs Seeking Re-Election As Representative

Brushing aside reports that he may be a candidate for the state senate, Rep. Lawrence Gibbs of Monroe yesterday announced he is a candidate for re-election.

Here is Gibbs' statement:

"Until now I have been reluctant to make a public announcement regarding my plans. I have been requested by many of my friends to make the race for the Senate from the Ouachita-Jackson Parish district. After considering all that would be involved, I have decided to run for re-election to the House.

"My decision was based partly on the fact that Senator James D. Sparks and Representative Gilbert Faulk have both declined to run for re-election. This means that I would be the only experienced legislator representing our parish, and I felt that I could accomplish more for our people by remaining in the House, where all appropriation bills originate and where an experienced legisla-

Foreign Aid Funds Hiked By Conferees

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A congressional conference committee handed President Eisenhower a partial victory Friday by approving a $3,556,200,000 foreign aid bill that was bigger than either the Senate of House had originally approved.

The compromise measure, however, was still about 353 million dollars short of the $3,909,000,000 Eisenhower sought to bolster U.S. Allies around the world against the Communist threat. This represented a cut of about 9 per cent.

Even so, the compromise total was an improvement from Eisenhower's viewpoint over the $3,542,600,000 voted by the House and the $3,543,320,000 voted by the Senate.

BATTLE NOT OVER

The President had threatened to recall Congress in special session this fall unless the lawmakers approved what he called an adequate aid bill.

The compromise now goes to both houses for final approval.

Although the measure appeared certain of congressional passage, the foreign aid battle was far from over. Economy advocate will get a further crack at the program when Congress considers another bill carrying the actual cash authorized by Friday's measure.

Congress wound up voting $3,298,072,500 for the program last year.

The fact that the compromise was larger than either the Senate or House totals resulted from the fact that the conferees generally

JEOPARDIZES EDUCATION

Miss Omaha Gives Up Beauty Crown

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Blue-eyed, blonde Miss Omaha gave up her beauty title Friday rather than jeopardize her Catholic college education.

Mary Jean Belitz, 18, said she had been told that if she kept the title and participated in the Miss Nebraska contest, she would be barred from re-entering Duchesne College where she'll be a sophomore in the fall.

Mary Jean said she also was told by the Very Rev. C. M. Reinert, S. J., president of Creighton University, she could not transfer to that Catholic university.

Neither the Creighton nor Duchesne presidents were available for comment.

The chief obstacle to taking part in the beauty contests, Mary Jean said she was told, is bathing suit competition.

Earlier this month, Sue Ingersoll, 20, New Mexico's Miss Universe hopeful, said she would remain in that contest despite a Catholic Church announcement that it would deny her the sacraments for an unspecified period of time if she participated.

Body Found On Campus Road In Car

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — A shapely, dark-haired waitress admitted Friday night, police reported, that she shot and killed the young golf pro she loved. The slaying occurred earlier in the day on the St. Lawrence University campus.

The 23-year-old woman, Miss Theresa de Francesco of Rochester, said the man did not return her love, Dist. Atty. Charles E. Bowers of St. Lawrence County said.

Bowers said she would be charged with first-degree murder.

SHOT TWICE

The body of Richard Smith, 27, was found dangling from his car, which had skidded to a stop on a road on the university campus. He had been shot twice, at close range.

Smith was golf coach at the university and pro at a nearby country club.

Police in Rochester said Miss De Francesco pleaded guilty in 1952 to a shoplifting charge. She was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for one year.

State police picked up Miss De Francesco late Friday as she rode toward Watertown in a taxicab hired at Massena. The search for her had extended throughout northern New York.

Troopers said the .22-caliber revolver with which Smith was slain was found in her luggage.

A man who had driven her around for several hours, unaware that she was the object of a widespread search, was released after police questioning.

Crowd Panics In Stadium, 62 Are Killed

SEOUL, Korea, Saturday (UPI) —At least 62 persons were reported killed and hundreds injured Friday when a sudden rainstorm sent thousands of panic-stricken persons stampeding out of a crowded stadium in Pusan.

Latest reports said the death toll included 34 women and more than a dozen children.

Orient Press news agency said the death toll was expected to rise.

The victims were crushed, smothered and trampled to death in the wild confusion and panic.

Dispatches sent from Pusan by Orient Press said thousands of spectators rose almost in a body and began pushing and clawing their way out of the stadium through a narrow gate when the storm struck.

Police telephone lines to Pusan were knocked out of service by winds and rains from typhoon Billie, which roared up from Formosa and Japan early Friday and fanned out violently over the Yellow Sea and the Asian mainland.

An estimated 50,000 persons were reported to have been in the Pusan stadium to watch a special "free citizens" show sponsored by the newspaper Kikje Shinbo when

The City Council called for the election at the request of the Utilities Commission, for an addition to the city power plant.

Pointing out that if the elecion passes it will involve no additional taxes, officials commented that the bonds will be paid for by revenues from the Utilities Commission.

Only voters in Wards 3 and 10 within the Monroe city limits will be affected by the closing of the registration books.

Eligible persons residing in all other wards and precincts of the parish outside Monroe may continue to register during the 30-day period, Mrs. Lucky explained.

Arkansas Joins In Court Fight

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Arkansas received permission Friday to join Louisiana in a federal court challenge of the Civil Rights Commission.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett of Arkansas had asked permission to file a brief as a friend of the court of support to plaintiff's testing the legality of the commission.

A special three-judge federal court was created to consider the question here Aug. 7 after U. S. District Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. last Sunday granted a temporary restraining order banning the commission from forcing 17 registrars to testify on complaints they had unlawfully deprived Negroes of their rights to vote. The request for the order was filed by Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion of Louisiana.

Has Courage To Spare

Eight-year-old Donna Stapel hugs a couple of toys in her hospital bed at Sedalia, Mo., after under-going surgery. She was brought to the hospital after her right leg had been amputated by a motorboat propellor while she was wading at a Lake of the Ozarks resort. "I'm glad this happened to me instead of some other little girl or boy," she told her mother, Mrs. Elmer Stapel of Calumet Park, Ill. The motorboat struck Donna as it backed away from a dock. AFTER HECTIC NIGHT

Aides Quit Long To Return Home

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Gov. Earl K. Long tried Friday to kick down the door of a hotel room to get at sleeping aides who deserted him on a tour of Juarez, Mexico, nightclubs.

The aides simply couldn't keep up with Long, who is 63 and suffering from a nervous breakdown, heart trouble and the aftereffects of a stroke.

So Long, after sunup, stormed into the Hilton Hotel to berate his companions for their lack of stamina. The door was locked and Long tried to kick it in.

"G-- D--- you, wake up in there," Long shouted in rage. Cap Douglas Durrett of the Louisiana State Police tried to pacify Long but the Governor pushed him aside.

TELLS OFF FRIENDS

A bellboy eventually arrived with a key. Long pushed into the room and in loud, profane language told his friends what he thought of them.

Durrett, a tough, veteran state police officer, went into the room and tried to act as a peacemaker. He came out weeping.

"And they say he's sick," Durrett said. "Why, right now, that man could whip any 50 men in Texas."

Exhausted by his rage and an extensive tour of the nightclubs of Juarez, across the border from El Paso, Long finally went to sleep.

While Long was asleep, State Sen. B. B. (Sixty) Rayburn and State Rep. Spencer Myrick, two of Long's closest friends, left in a Louisiana National Gurad C45 plane, taking Durrett with them.

They said they had to go home "on business" and Rayburn said he will rejoin Long Sunday. But it was known that they were on the point of exhaustion.

After Long awoke Friday, he called in State Police Capt. Joe Anselmo and ordered him home. Anselmo packed his bag and left for the El Paso Airport.

Long arrived in El Paso Thursday night after a leisurely trip across West Texas from Fort

Thundershowers, Warm Expected

Another warm, humid day is forecast for the Twin Cities.

A ground fog is expected early this morning, followed by widely scattered thundershowers starting in mid-morning and becoming more numerous by mid - afternoon. Skies will be partly cloudy today and tomorrow in the Monroe area.

Yesterday's high was 94, low 72 compared with 91 and 71 Thursday.

Considerable cloudiness will prevail over Arkansas today and tomorrow, with scattered thundershowers.

Gibbs Seeking Re-Election As Representative

Brushing aside reports that he may be a candidate for the state senate, Rep. Lawrence Gibbs of Monroe yesterday announced he is a candidate for re-election.

Here is Gibbs' statement:

"Until now I have been reluctant to make a public announcement regarding my plans. I have been requested by many of my friends to make the race for the Senate from the Ouachita-Jackson Parish district. After considering all that would be involved, I have decided to run for re-election to the House.

"My decision was based partly on the fact that Senator James D. Sparks and Representative Gilbert Faulk have both declined to run for re-election. This means that I would be the only experienced legislator representing our parish, and I felt that I could accomplish more for our people by remaining in the House, where all appropriation bills originate and where an experienced legisla-

Foreign Aid Funds Hiked By Conferees

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A congressional conference committee handed President Eisenhower a partial victory Friday by approving a $3,556,200,000 foreign aid bill that was bigger than either the Senate of House had originally approved.

The compromise measure, however, was still about 353 million dollars short of the $3,909,000,000 Eisenhower sought to bolster U.S. Allies around the world against the Communist threat. This represented a cut of about 9 per cent.

Even so, the compromise total was an improvement from Eisenhower's viewpoint over the $3,542,600,000 voted by the House and the $3,543,320,000 voted by the Senate.

BATTLE NOT OVER

The President had threatened to recall Congress in special session this fall unless the lawmakers approved what he called an adequate aid bill.

The compromise now goes to both houses for final approval.

Although the measure appeared certain of congressional passage, the foreign aid battle was far from over. Economy advocate will get a further crack at the program when Congress considers another bill carrying the actual cash authorized by Friday's measure.

Congress wound up voting $3,298,072,500 for the program last year.

The fact that the compromise was larger than either the Senate or House totals resulted from the fact that the conferees generally

JEOPARDIZES EDUCATION

Miss Omaha Gives Up Beauty Crown

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Blue-eyed, blonde Miss Omaha gave up her beauty title Friday rather than jeopardize her Catholic college education.

Mary Jean Belitz, 18, said she had been told that if she kept the title and participated in the Miss Nebraska contest, she would be barred from re-entering Duchesne College where she'll be a sophomore in the fall.

Mary Jean said she also was told by the Very Rev. C. M. Reinert, S. J., president of Creighton University, she could not transfer to that Catholic university.

Neither the Creighton nor Duchesne presidents were available for comment.

The chief obstacle to taking part in the beauty contests, Mary Jean said she was told, is bathing suit competition.

Earlier this month, Sue Ingersoll, 20, New Mexico's Miss Universe hopeful, said she would remain in that contest despite a Catholic Church announcement that it would deny her the sacraments for an unspecified period of time if she participated.

Crowd Panics In Stadium, 62 Are Killed

SEOUL, Korea, Saturday (UPI) —At least 62 persons were reported killed and hundreds injured Friday when a sudden rainstorm sent thousands of panic-stricken persons stampeding out of a crowded stadium in Pusan.

Latest reports said the death toll included 34 women and more than a dozen children.

Orient Press news agency said the death toll was expected to rise.

The victims were crushed, smothered and trampled to death in the wild confusion and panic.

Dispatches sent from Pusan by Orient Press said thousands of spectators rose almost in a body and began pushing and clawing their way out of the stadium through a narrow gate when the storm struck.

Police telephone lines to Pusan were knocked out of service by winds and rains from typhoon Billie, which roared up from Formosa and Japan early Friday and fanned out violently over the Yellow Sea and the Asian mainland.

An estimated 50,000 persons were reported to have been in the Pusan stadium to watch a special "free citizens" show sponsored by the newspaper Kikje Shinbo when

Cuban Prexy Has Dislike Of Violence

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban President Manuel Urrutia, accused by Fidel Castro of an attitude bordering on treason, is a soft-spoken man who dislikes violence.

Even before Castro started the 1956-58 revolt that deposed President Fulgencio Batista, Urrutia lost his post as a judge for opposing prosecution of those who opposed Batista's government.

While Castro was waging his 25-month war against Batista, the revolutionary leader named Urrutia to be provisional president.

Batista fled Cuba last Jan. 1. Urrutia, 53, took the oath as provisional president Jan. 3.

Following the triumph of the revolution it looked as though he would in fact be the leader of the government.

Castro had said he did not want a political office.

But in a surprise move Castro became prime minister Feb. 13. Since then Urrutia's role in governing the country has decreased until he is little more than a figurehead.

Before being fired by Batista, Urrutia was a judge for 31 years.

He is a native of Santiago, a member of an old and respected family. He began his public career as a judge in easternmost Oriente province, which later became Castro's revolutionary stamping ground.

In 1951, Urrutia became magistrate of Oriente's Provincial Court. A coup brought Batista to power the next year.

In 1955, a year before Castro started his successful guerrilla warfare, Urrutia publicly took a stand against prosecution of those who opposed the government.

For this, Batista removed Urrutia from his post as magistrate.

Urrutia remained in Cuba until April 19, 1957. Then he fled to exile in New York. Late last year he secretly rejoined Castro in the mountains of Oriente province.

Miss Winter's 10-year-old son and 6-year-old daughter are living with her mother, Mrs. Karl E. Richeta of Dallas. All three plan to come here for the wedding, she said.

Miss Winter said she came here two years ago from Buffalo, N.Y., where she worked as a TV actress and model.

In a parting shot at the sheriff, she said: "If showgirls are good enough for Bing Crosby's boys, they're good enough for a sheriff's captain."

Bunche Drops Racial Case Against Club

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche was ready Friday to drop his complaint against the West Side Tennis Club. But a city racial commission was less willing to forgive and forget.

After hearing thea Nobel Prize winning Negro, the city's Commission on Intergroup Relations said it may seek to force private clubs to make their membership lists public.

The commission also went ahead with plans to interrogate representatives of the tennis club, which operates the Forest Hills arena in Queens where many championship matches are held.

Dr. Bunche, a United Nations undersecretary, originally inquired about the possibility of joining the tennis club so his 15-year-old son would have a place to practice the game.

Bunche said he was told by the club president, Wilfred Burglund, that Negroes and Jews were not eligible for membership.

Earlier this week, Burglund resigned and the club issued a statement saying it considers membership applications without regard to race, creed or color.

The club invited Bunche and his son to submit formal applications and promised them every consideration. Bunche said he is not interested now in joining. His son still is thinking the matter over.

Before Friday's meeting with the commission, Bunche said: "This has not been a pleasant experience and I am glad it is over.

Driver Injured In Wreck Here

Two cars clashed together at the intersection of South Third St. and Ouachita Ave. last night and one of the drivers was hospitalized and ticketed on a charge of reckless driving. He was Mitchell J. Oliver, 25, 1007 Florida St.

Police said Oliver was driving his car north on South Third and his brakes went out as he approached the stop sign at Ouachita Ave. He broadsided a car pulling a boat trailer driven by Ezra F. Hammett, 35, 1600 South Seventh. Both cars, the trailer and the boat were damaged.

According to authorities, Oliver showed no visible signs of injury but was taken to the St. Francis for observation.

Officer R. H. Breland investigated the accident.

derstood that Smith had received money and diamonds from the woman last winter.

State police said Smith had a date with another woman Thursday night. He said good night to her about 2 a.m. Friday, then met Miss de Francesco, who had arrived in Canton Thursday night, they reported.

Smith was divorced. His former wife and their two young children live in Johnson City, near Binghamton in south-central New York.

Smith's father, Ernest E. Smith, a golf pro at Binghamton, said his son and the woman apparently became acquainted last winter in Miami, Fla. The elder Smith said she telephoned his son from Miami several times after he returned to his parents' home this spring. He took the jobs in Canton in April.

The father said he knew of no serious attachment between his son and the waitress.

Miss de Francesco had been staying recently in Lake Placid.

She arrived in Canton Thursday night, apparently by bus, carrying only a make-up case and a cardboard box that apparently contained a dress. When she disappeared Friday morning, she left behind the empty box and a $6 hotel bill.

State police said she hitchhiked a ride on a truck to Malone.

From Malone, she telephoned a friend, Patrick J. McCarthy, 49, of Bombay, at the hotel in Fort Covington, near Malone, where he was staying. She asked him to pick her up and take her back to Fort Covington with him, McCarthy said.

McCarthy told troopers that, when he met her, she asked that he first drive to Lake Placid. They picked up four suitcases at her rooming house in the Adirondack resort, then drove to Massera where they stopped for lunch.

At Massena, McCarthy said, Miss de Francesco proposed that he drive her to Rochester but he refused. Then, he said, she called a taxi and said she would go to Watertown to catch a bus for Rochester.

McCarthy told state police the woman never mentioned being in any trouble. He said he had met her about two weeks ago in Malone.

State police still were seeking McCarthy and his green and white convertible when he appeared at the state police substation in Massena. He said he had heard on a radio broadcast that they were looking for him. Troopers released him after questioning.

Smith and the woman, who was first identified as Terry Francis of Miami, were seen together in Canton early Friday.

At 4 a.m., a village police sergeant noticed the woman walking in the downtown area and spoke to her. She asked for a ride to her hotel and he took her there. Police said she seemed calm.

The business section is about a mile from the spot where a workman discovered Smith's body at 7 a.m. The road runs between the university campus and the course of St. Lawrence Golf and Country Club, where he was pro.

Six-foot skid marks on the road indicated the car had been stopped suddenly. Police said there was no evidence of a struggle.

stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hyatt.

The bodies were found June 28 and 29 in rural areas near Gadsden, Ala. Their faces were blasted beyond recognition by a shotgun charge and their arms and legs were hacked off and missing.

The first body was found in Etowah County beside an abandoned shack just off U.S. 11. The second was found the next day some 10 miles further south along the highway. It too was dumped beside an empty house.

Police said one body was 38 miles from the Hyatt house and the other 49 miles from the house.

State and county officers said the woman told of shooting the men in their trailer home and dragging their bodies outside where the limbs were hacked off.

A bloodstained, double-edged ax, believed used in the mutilation, was dug up in a cornfield a few yards behind the trailer Friday.

Officers quoted the woman as saying she put the bodies in a homemade wheel barrow and took them to her car.

She accompanied police on a predawn ride Friday, pointing out spots where she threw arms and legs from her car.

Police recovered several limbs, and said apparently some of the others were thrown in the Tallapoosa River in Cleburne County and on Saddler's Mountain near Piedmont, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt, about 75 years old and parents of the accused woman, were detained Thursday night along with Dewey Darroll, about 35, who lives near the Hyatt residence.

They were released Friday and police said they were not involved.

tor can be of greater value to his constituents.

"When I announced my candidacy four years ago I set forth a 14 point platform, and in an advertisement in the newspapers I asked the people of Ouachita Parish to clip out those 14 points and save them so they could see in 1959 whether or not I had carried out my platform.

"Before long I will republish that same platform and will ask the public to compare my accomplishments with my original promises. I plan to conduct a vigorous campaign for re-election and will try to see personally every voter in the parish.

"I re-emphasize that I am an independent candidate as I was four years ago. I will continue to battle for complete segregation with separate and equal school facilities for both white and colored, and I will strive at all times to be of service to the people just as I have during the past four years."

er the revolution toppled ex-President Fulgencio Batista Jan. 1. Urrutia has been at best only a figurehead.

All decisions have been initiated or made by Castro.

The word earlier Friday that Castro planned to resign set off immediate demands that he reconsider. The situation supported a widespread opinion that any Castro departure from office would be brief.

Dozens of Havana city buses crowded with passengers toured the streets. Slogans painted on the sides of the vehicles said, "Fidel, we're with you until death. Do not resign, Fidel, we need you."

The plaza in front of the National Palace—Urrutia's home and office — was jammed with hundreds of workers, students and curious civilians.

Special security police, many of them carrying rifles, were on duty in various sections of the city. No serious disorders were reported.

A newsman who visited Urrutia said the President told him he would resign if Castro asked for his resignation. Another newsman said the President had told him just the opposite.

It was first believed that Castro's decision to resign was to convince critics at home and abroad that the Cuban masses are behind him.

Then came the public disclosure of differences between Castro and the former judge.

The immediate call for Urrutia to quit came from Secretary General Conrado Bequer of the sugar workers organization.

"We make this request because Fidel Castro is the defender of the liberty and rights of the people," Bequer said "We cannot lose the destinies of the revolution, won with the support of Castro as its major figure, simply because of disagreements and because of a group of plotters.

Raul Castro, brother and heir apparent to the Cuban leadership, said in a statement earlier that his brother had resigned.

The bodies were found June 28 and 29 in rural areas near Gadsden, Ala. Their faces were blasted beyond recognition by a shotgun charge and their arms and legs were hacked off and missing.

The first body was found in Etowah County beside an abandoned shack just off U.S. 11. The second was found the next day some 10 miles further south along the highway. It too was dumped beside an empty house.

Police said one body was 38 miles from the Hyatt house and the other 49 miles from the house.

State and county officers said the woman told of shooting the men in their trailer home and dragging their bodies outside where the limbs were hacked off.

A bloodstained, double-edged ax, believed used in the mutilation, was dug up in a cornfield a few yards behind the trailer Friday.

Officers quoted the woman as saying she put the bodies in a homemade wheel barrow and took them to her car.

She accompanied police on a predawn ride Friday, pointing out spots where she threw arms and legs from her car.

Police recovered several limbs and said apparently some of the others were thrown in the Tallapoosa River in Cleburne County and on Saddler's Mountain near Piedmont, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt, about 75 years old and parents of the accused woman, were detained Thursday night along with Dewey Darroll, about 35, who lives near the Hyatt residence.

They were released Friday and police said they were not involved.

tor can be of greater value to his constituents.

"When I announced my candidacy four years ago I set forth a 14 point platform, and in an advertisement in the newspapers I asked the people of Ouachita Parish to clip out those 14 points and save them so they could see in 1959 whether or not I had carried out my platform.

"Before long I will republish that same platform and will ask the public to compare my accomplishments with my original promises. I plan to conduct a vigorous campaign for re-election and will try to see personally every voter in the parish.

"I re-emphasize that I am an independent candidate as I was four years ago. I will continue to battle for complete segregation with separate and equal school facilities for both white and colored, and I will strive at all times to be of service to the people just as I have during the past four years."

Castro Hurls Hot Charges At Urrutia

er the revolution toppled ex-President Fulgencio Batista Jan. 1. Urrutia has been at best only a figurehead.

All decisions have been initiated or made by Castro.

The word earlier Friday that Castro planned to resign set off immediate demands that he reconsider. The situation supported a widespread opinion that any Castro departure from office would be brief.

Dozens of Havana city buses crowded with passengers toured the streets. Slogans painted on the sides of the vehicles said, "Fidel, we're with you until death. Do not resign, Fidel, we need you."

The plaza in front of the National Palace—Urrutia's home and office — was jammed with hundreds of workers, students and curious civilians.

Special security police, many of them carrying rifles, were on duty in various sections of the city. No serious disorders were reported.

A newsman who visited Urrutia said the President told him he would resign if Castro asked for his resignation. Another newsman said the President had told him just the opposite.

It was first believed that Castro's decision to resign was to convince critics at home and abroad that the Cuban masses are behind him.

Then came the public disclosure of differences between Castro and the former judge.

The immediate call for Urrutia to quit came from Secretary General Conrado Bequer of the sugar workers organization.

"We make this request because Fidel Castro is the defender of the liberty and rights of the people," Bequer said "We cannot lose the destinies of the revolution, won with the support of Castro as its major figure, simply because of disagreements and because of a group of plotters.

Raul Castro, brother and heir apparent to the Cuban leadership, said in a statement earlier that his brother had resigned.

A clipping from an English newspaper states:

"During the war years the band suffered considerably as many members joined the war and through loss of equipment when the old citadel was bombed in 1941. Since 1946 the band has grown in status conducting nearly 50 week-end campaigns, broadcasting frequently on B.B.C. Programs, and going overseas on tours."

Fur Motif Prevails In Fall Fashions

NEW YORK (UPI) —There's so much fur around for fall that even the fur side inside is no longer a novelty.

Coats, jackets, dresses, even ball gowns, are trimmed in a variety of pelts from opossum to chinchilla. Capes, coats, evening mantles, cocktail suits and dresses are lined in white, brown or blank mink, beaver, seal, mole, fox, or sable. Sleeves have big fur muff cuffs.. Even some at - home costumes are lined or trimmed with fur.

Monte-Sano and Pruzan, which previewed its styles in the New York couture group's annual fall fashion round-up, stressed the luxury look of fur—golden chinchilla, mink, silver fox, fisher, nutria and sable. Collars wrapped around the neck like fur scarves or dip low on the shoulders. Tweed was lined with nutria; Italian rib ottoman with mink.

So strong is fur's influence that even cloth coats have such colors as "chinchilla grey" and "sable brown."

Monte - Sano's coat silhouettes include the princess line; slim, sphercal, fitted types; and double-breasted coats falling from wide cape collars.

Two unusual silhouettes — the "dalai lama coat," a collarless, ample style with full, side, straight sleeves inspired by the "Tibetan look;" and the "kite coat," which is shaped in back, sloping off the shoulders to a wide line at the elbow and tapering to the hem.

"Indian purdah costumes" are conversation - piece jackets worn over dresses. The jackets have tremendous collars which can be pulled up over tre head like a cowl, veiling the hair and part of the face.

Vera Stewart favored sweater costumes with collars of chinchilla, silver fox and mole. Matching dresses were made of chiffon flannel, gabardine, wool, wool jersey, wool crepe or velveteen.

Highlights of other collections:

Edward Abbott—Designer Wilson Folmar added a new twist to the halter neck: halters strapped in back to follow the curve of the shoulder blades.

Sanual Winston — this collection was one of the most extravagant in the week's showings.

It was lavish with fur, expensive fabrics, tnd rich colors, such as ruby red, emergald green, orage, yelllow, pusple, gold, rut, and lime. Some suits had snap-on fur collars.

Ann Fogerty — This designer showed her shirtwaist trade-mark for both day and evening. Other silhouettes included the "body line," a form fitting sheath, a "slip dress," with a slim skirt and camisole-type bodice; the tune walking suit; the walking suit with jadket long enough to be a topper and trenchcoats.

Larry Aldrich —He showed tunics, mannish suits, easy-fit suits, dresses with large, droopy sleeves, evening shirt waists and overblouses. Aldrich also presented a special group of clothes which he called "designs of the future." They were termed "experimental lowered waistlines," but actually were chemises.

Self-Defense Is Claimed In Slaying Case

CLARKSDALE, Miss. (AP) — A night club owner charged with the fatal shooting of an 18-year-old construction worker said Friday he shot in self-defense.

Alec Allegrazza, 36-year-old owner of a night spot near Shaw, testified that he shot and killed Abner Lee Smith March 8 when the youth advanced on him with a knife.

Allegrazza testified he broke up a fight between two men at the club when one of the men hit him. As he staggered from the blow, Allegrazza said he saw Smith coming at him with a knife in his hand.

"'I asked him to drop it," Allegrazza said. "I was backing up all the time. I fired once over his head, thinking he would drop the knife. He kept coming and I shot again. I thought I had hit him in the leg. I had no intention of killing the man."

Allegrazza earlier claimed he did not know Smith, but under district attorney Charles Sullivan's cross-examination, he said Smith was one of the men involved in the fight he tried to stop.

Allegrazza's wife testified she saw something in Smith's hand as he walked toward her husband. The prosecution attempted to discredit her testimony by challenging light conditions in the club at the time of the shooting.

ADAMANT, HOSTILE

Gromyko Angers West Ministers

GENEVA (UPI)— Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko Friday repeated Russia's take-it-or-else Berlin truce proposal in a "tough and unyielding" statement that left the Western Big Three foreign ministers visibly angered at their secret meeting Friday.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev himself underlined the deadlock in a speech at Szczecin (Stettin) Poland, in which he pledged again that Russia would keep trying to "abolish the occupation regime" of the United States, Britain and France in West Berlin.

Conference sources described Gromyko as adamant, hostile and evasive at the two-hour lunch meeting in the villa of French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville. His attitude left the West more pessimistic than ever about the chance of ending the Soviet threat to West Berlin.

The meeting broke a four-day blockade by Gromyko against any secret sessions unless both East and West German delegations were admitted. He surrendered to the West on their demand for closed, non-German meetings, but on nothing else.

The Soviet diplomat warned that Russia's price for a Berlin truce remained an all-German commission to discuss German reunification on which East and West Germany would have equal representation. The West has rejected this as a loaded demand that might lead to a Communist takeover of free West Germany.

Western sourecs described the meeting Friday as being held in an "extremely bad" atmosphere —a revesral of the usually friendly attitudes taken by the ministers at private sessions during the May 11-June 20 sessions of the conference here.

After Gromyko drove off, Secretary of State Christain A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd remained behind to confer with Couve de Murville for another three hours. When they emerged, they were obviously in an angry mood.

Gromyko was said to have warned the other ministers' repeatedly that they must pay the Soviet price if they want a settlement of the Berlin issue.

Sources said he was "absolutely tough and unyielding" in his demands.

Herter tried to get Gromyko to state clearly what might happen at the end of a truce period, would Russia guarantee it would not resume its demands that the West clear out of the city?

Gromyjo refused to be pinned down. He would not even reply when the others asked him about the meaning of Soviet statements on grounds he had "already answered" the questions.

The lunch ended with Gromyko's request for another semi-public plenary session Monday. The western ministers wanted a secret session.

Lloyd settled it by inviting all the ministers to lunch for a private session at his Villa Monday with a plenary session to follow on Tuesday.

With some reluctance, Gromyko agreed to this.

NOTED ARCHITECT DIES

MOSCOW (UPI)—Ivan Zheltovsky, 92, a leading Russian architect, died Thursday. He achieved fame before the Communist revolution with the construction of the Hotel Metropole and several public buildings in Moscow.

Board Chairman For Washington Newspapers Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eugene Meyer, chairman of the board of the Washington Post and Times-Herald, died Friday. He was 83.

The widely known newspaper executive was a former president of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (World Bank) and had held a number of major government posts dating back to World War I days.

Death came at 2:35 p.m. at Georgetown Hospital.

Meyer is survived by his wife, Agnes, a writer and lecturer on educational and other matter; and five children. A son-in-law Philip L. Graham, is president and publisher of the Post and Times-Herald.

Meyer amassed a considerable fortune as head of his own New York investment firm before turning to government service. He said he had a theory that men who achieved a competence and a reasonable success in business owned a period of public service. He held appontments under every president beginning with Woodrow Wilson.

Sanctions For Cuba

The United States has made some mistakes in dealing with Cuba, and the end is not in sight.

There are many who believe that our first major mistake was removing our protectorate from that country before it was able to govern itself. It has been confronted with a series of dictators and has thus placed the western hemisphere's democracy in jeopardy, although it has not been alone in that.

U.S. senators have just voted to suspend foreign aid to any nation which seizes property owned by American nationals without just compensation.

Cuban Treasury Minister Ruso Lopez-Fresquet arrogantly replied, "So what?" to suggestions that the United States eliminate aid to his country.

The senate vote obviously was a move inspired by Cuba's policy of breaking up large land holdings, a policy which has fallen heavily on U. S. investors in sugar and cattle industries, since Prime Minister Fidel Castro, the insolent dictator, has merely sent in troops, seized the land and turned it over to the peasants, who have no idea of operation or management.

Sr. Lopez-Fresquet shrugged off the implications of the senate's action with the remark that it did not matter—Cuba wasn't down on the foreign aid bill for a handout.

This is surprising, since the United States is helping most of the nations of the world.

Technically, however, he is correct, since Cuba is not now receiving direct assistance. But over the years this has not been true. Since World War II, Cuba has been allowed some $84 billion in "soft" loans and credits, only part of which has been repaid or is likely to be repaid.

Sr. Lopez-Fresquet knows full well that, aside from outright grants and development loans, the United States has been the strong prop of Cuba's economy. Only a few weeks ago the treasury minister was in Washington, along with Dictator Castro to plead for a larger share of U.S. sugar purchases. These recent rebels, who rose to power when Premier Fulgencio Batista suddenly became terrified and, to the surprise of everybody, including Castro, fled the country and turned it over to the rebels, ordinarily have barely a civil word for the United States. It is only when they are asking for something that they can refrain from hurling insults.

At that time the Cuban emissaries asked to supply all the U.S. sugar import needs, at a price well above the present world market. They ignored the fact that this would wreck the economy of several Caribbean nations.

The United States now guarantees Cuba a market for more than three million tons annually. This is about half of Cuba's production and the price is higher than it gets for the remained on the open market.

Cuba's sugar industry faces an uncertain future. The land reform program is breaking up large plantations. More than two million acres owned by American companies are being confiscated. They will be divided among landless peasants for family-type operations. There is no reason to think that this land will be managed as efficiently or will produce as well in the hands of these inexperienced people as it did in the hands of the professional sugar-growers.

There are many who believe the United States can't win in the cold war against Russia by simply attempting to buy favor from the various countries while Russia exerts the pressure necessary to hold the people of its satellite countries in line. If we permit Cuba to be taken over by Communists while we continue to support the economy of that nation, how can we expect to maintain our strength in this hemisphere? If we continue to lose more countries while Russia acquires them, where will we wind up?

If we can't have a protectorate for the little country lying directly off our shore, which we voluntarily gave up, we should at least be able to apply sanctions.

If Castro is against us, which his defiant expressions indicate he is, why should we guarantee to buy any more of his sugar than we need or pay any more for it than the market price? If we can't interfere in a military way in Cuba's internal affairs, as Russia would certainly do, we at least don't have to help an enemy.

Practical Side Of Space

Achievements other than military are likely to come in the next two years from the intense missile and space competition between this country and Russia.

Most of the money spent in this field will continue to go, necessarily, into weapons. But not all of the accomplishments in space will go under the heading of defense.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration expects to send up about 150 information gathering rockets during 1959-60. This figure includes up to 14 earth satellites to gather information which may prove of value right here on earth.

For example, distances on the earth's surfaces — particularly widely separated points on today's maps — are known to be inaccurate. It is believed one or more satellites with brilliant lights photographed against a background of stars, could set up a celestial chart to reduce these probable errors.

The distance from Tokyo, Japan, to Rekjavik, Iceland over the top of the North Pole may be on maps now in use several miles off. With satellites in orbit to take readings from, such measurements may be made accurate to within 200 feet or less.

Skillfully orbited satellites — traveling a fixed orbit at a known speed—could furnish accurate direction finders for ships and airplanes when landmarks, sun and stars were not visible.

Though the "weather-eye" satellite last month failed to go into orbit, plans include the launching of two of these before the end of 1960. Through the use of a television camera in one of these, it is planned to photograph an 800-mile strip of clouds over presently unmonitored oceans to assist in accurate weather forecasting.

A space balloon is also planned —to be inflated after it reaches an altitude of 1,000 miles aboard a rocket. Such a sphere with an aluminized surface could be used as an instrument to reflect high power radio signals beamed upward from the ground. This could make for better—and cheaper — communications between distant points on the earth in the foreseeable future.

As pointed out above, these are not dream plans of peace loving scientists who want to refer rather hopefully to the peacetime use of rocket power. These are actual projects of the next two years.

It has been a known fact for centuries that a visible, distant point of fixed location is an asset to the more accurate measurement and location of points on the ground. Satellites can supply these visible, distant points.

In these and other respects, satellites can produce — or help produce — information for maps, weather forecasts and communications. Even though the budget for these projects is smaller than that for the intercontinental "Atlas" and other warhead carriers, their results will be more immediate and farther reaching.

Russians Surprise Many

Those At Soviet Fair Astonished To Find People White, European And Know Arithmetic

The basis of John Foster Dulles' policy always was that there was no way to convince the Russians that their doctrine was wrong, but that a way might be found to show them that the next war would be unprofitable. Many less experienced persons disagreed with Dulles. They believed that washing machines, ranch houses, fancy dresses, and jazz music would convince Khrushchev and his associates that they were all wrong about capitalism.

Today, many Americans are patrioticaly impelled to take their summer vacation in Moscow, where, at $30 a day, they can see the Red Square, with maybe a side trip to Kiev. Others believe that they will save their country from war if they see the Russian fair at the Coliseum in New York and they astonish themselves by discovering that the Russians are white, European and know arithmetic. Those who studied chemistry either at high school or college may recall that the Table of Valences was worked out by Mendelejev (1834-1907), a Russian who lived before the atom bomb was stolen.

It seems as though our people, all of whom were forced to go to school at one time or another, have a happy faculty of forgetting everything they were ever taught—or most of it. The Ford Foundation has taken note of this condition and has set aside some money for "The Fund for Adult Education." This money is not to be spent on the unlearned and unwashed, but on the educated and intelligent who are preparing themselves for public leadership. It is a recognition, in a very practical way, of the need for knowledge by those who have pretentions to or the actuality of national significance.

How many will avail themselves of such opportunities as will be offered, it is difficult to estimate. About five years ago, a group of friends of Robert A. Taft thought that a fitting memorial for him would be an institute devoted to research into the type of democratic - republicanism for which he was so long responsible in the Senate. It was a very good idea along the same line for which the Ford Foundation is seeking a formula, except that the Ford Foundation will have to be so broad, to satisfy all the differences of view on the board of directors of The Fund for Adult Education, that it may smear itself very thin.

I have read their prospectus carefully and am waiting to see what genius can produce 13 half-hour dramatizations of De Tocqueville's analysis of life in America. If it can be done, it will be a brilliant achievement and it may even stimulate the readings of De Tocqueville and after that of "The Federalist." Who knows? We might even encourage members of Congress to familiarize themselves with the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States and the many documents which went into the formation of this nation.

The work of this Fund should be encouraged and watched. I receive daily a very large fan mail, as it is called. Today, for instance, I received a letter of 45 pages from a reader who did not sign his name but who dealt with some rather primitive ideas in psychology, physiology and Biblical history. His spelling was correct, but his punctuation and sentence structure were atrocious.

I make the point that this is an active even aggressive citizen who has ideas but requires re-education. Many more important men could stand a refresher course. They have forgotten what they were taught and reach conclusions based on prejudices and preconceptions.

This disease is not limited to liberals. I saw an editorial in a New York City newspaper, referring to Robert Moses who is nowadays a ripe target for criticism. It contained this paragraph:

"For all his talents, it becomes increasingly apparent that Mr. Moses has spread himself too thin. There simply are not enough hours in a day for him to give all those jobs the close attention they require. No man could."

But the fact is that most competent administrators do operate on a great many fronts simultaneously. Take, for instance, the president of a complex company such as U.S. Steel or General Electric or General Motors! The writer of the editorial either does not know how a multi-faceted position is organized or he believes that those in public service must necessarily be incompetent. Truly a school for educated men is needed.

1961 Recession?

Economists Think Great Prosperity Should Develop In 1960

Heading the vitally important economics research department of New York City's largest and the nation's second largest bank are two young economists who are gaining an enviable reputation among the tops in their profession for shrewd analysis and accurate forecasts.

They are John D. Wilson and William F. Butler, both vice presidents of the giant $8 billion Chase Manhattan Bank. Thus, when I had the privilege of lunching with them at the bank's head office the other day, I seized the chance to ask them questions which I know are on the minds of countless thoughtful Americans today. Here are my major questions with a simple summary of the answers of Wilson and Butler.

Q. How long do you think today's business boom will last? Why?

A.: The expansion should continue right through 1959 — despite some slowdown in the immediate pace of rise because of the steel strike — and it should develop into very great prosperity in 1960.

The first force now powering the upswing is rising spending by business for new plants and equipment. Corporations will be investing in modern factories this year and next not only to increase the efficiency of their operations but also to turn out the new products they're now ready to bring to market.

The second force which will spur us on is continuing and rising spending by consumers as their incomes climb. And if the new car models appeal to the public, 1960 could be a spectacular auto sales year.

Q.: What happens in 1961? Another recession?

A.: There will be another recession in the next two to three years, although it's too early to foresee its precise timing. The pattern since World War II suggests the recession could start in 1961, though.

Q.: Why do we have to look forward to another recession?

A.: We are an economy of growth and the definition of growth involves change. The process of change in our country usually has meant a too rapid upswing in periods of expansion—thereby creating a necessity for periods of recession so we can consolidate the gains.

By 1961 this advance — which began in April 1958 —will be pretty 'old' by past standards, and since periodic adjustments in the form of recessions are inevitable, 1961 could be the time for one.

Q.: Can't we make these periodic downturns a lot less painful?

A.: Sure we can. We have made significant progress in moderating our recessions — primarily through unemployment insurance and social security payments — and we can do much more. We can and should improve our unemployment insurance program.

We can do a great deal with the potent weapon of taxes by reducing taxes in times of recession, raising them in times of boom.

Q.: Won't tight money hasten the next recession?

A.: Tight money is one of the two areas raising questions about the life of the boom, for it will restrict the flow of money into mortgages and lead to a slowdown in housing. We have taken this housing slowdown into consideration in our forecasts, however. The other area which presents a problem is our lagging exports. We expect our exports to increase, but these two areas demand watching.

Q.: Can we have a boom and high employment without inflation?

A.: Yes, if we do two things:

(1) Balance the budget and keep restraints on the supply of credit in times of prosperity and high employment;

(2) Hold the average annual increase in wage rates to 3 per cent. This 3 per cent rise would be in line with the growth in our economy's efficiency and wouldn't be inflationary.

We are making progress on both counts.

HOLMES ALEXANDER

Decision Rapped

Ruling Seen As Making Shambles Of Industrial Security System

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In its term which ended last month, the Supreme Court handed down two decisions (Greene and Frank) which irked conservatives without giving any particular satisfaction to the liberals.

Greene was an industrial vice president whose company held some Defense Department contracts. The Federal Government denied this man access to classified information on grounds that his security was risky. In its last session of the term, the Supreme Court ruled against the Government's right to take such action without allowing the accused to face his accusers.

Although confrontation sounds like a simple and inalienable right for any individual in trouble, such is not by any means the whole story. A man who is denied security clearance is "accused" only in a vague although hurtful sense, but not in any criminal meaning. Besides, the individual is not the only one with rights. The American nation and people deserve consideration. The Supreme Court ruled earlier this year in the Barenblatt decision that:

"In the last analysis this (Congressional investigative) power rests on the right of self - preservation, 'the ultimate value in any society'."

Thus many lawyers on the Judiciary committee and the staffs were alarmed by the Greene decision. "It has made a shambles of our industrial security system," said Senator Keating of New York, a moderate Republican. "All of our nation's vital defense facilities are now at the mercy of Communist sabotage, espionage and subversion," said Senator Butler of Maryland, an Old Guard Republican. Even Joseph Rauh, an ultra - liberal who was testifying for the Democrats for Democratic Action, urged the Senate to pass another industrial security bill this session — but to provide somehow for confrontation.

The decision known as Frank vs. Maryland is another which has been a little unsatisfactory to the opposing camps of liberals and conservatives. A Baltimore health inspector named Gentry was refused entry to a house which he was suspected was rat-infested. The owner was arrested and fined $20.

There is no issue of the mid-night knock or of the police force's kicking down the door. In reading the majority opinion Justice Frankfurter cited an older case:

". . . the 'unreasonable searches and seizures' condemned in the Fourth Amendment are almost always made for the purpose of compelling a man to give evidence against himself, which in criminal cases is condemned in the Fifth Amendment."

Justice Frankfurter goes on to say that there are two "rights" for the individual involved here. One is the plain right of privacy, the other of self - defense—but Mr. Frankfurter is not much impressed with the argument that either of these rights was abused. The health inspector came more than once, at convenient times of day, and exerted no force against the home owner. Besides, as in the Greene case, the community also had some rights, and Justice Frankfurter says:

"The need to maintain basic, minimal standards of housing, to prevent the spread of disease and . . . slums . . . has mounted to a major concern of American government."

To this point, nobody could reasonably disagree, but then Justice Frankfurter, speaking for a 5-4 majority, carries the argument into the tricky waters where sociology seems to be replacing law. In defending the State of Maryland's right to convict the home owner, the Justice made two remarks that caused strict Constitutionalists to shudder. Mr. Frankfurter said that:

(a) The compulsory inspection of a man's home is all right because "these inspections are apparently welcomed by all but an insignificant few."

(b) Health inspections, against the will of a home owner, are justified because "history and dominant public opinion has sanctioned" them.

Well, there is a view of the American Constitution which holds that the Bill of Rights should apply to all, including "an insignificant few" who did not agree with the majority. And there are a lot of persons trained in the Law who feel that "history and public opinion" are not the grounds upon which the Supreme Court should decide landmark cases of constitutional significance.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Claustrophobia

Woman Advised Not To Take Plane Trip Because Of Fear

Fellow patients will understand the following letter from a reader who has suffered for years from chronic anxiety. Every once in a while, I reprint a similar letter, because I think it is good for family members and friends to know how much these people suffer.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have had paralyzing anxiety since a nervous breakdown in my early thirties (not requiring institutionalizing). Now, I am in my late 40's. I have fought all the symptoms — off and on since the first attack.

Some years have been better than others. Despite all this misery, I fell in love, married an understanding, sensitive man, have managed household and garden chores, pursued many hobbies and traveled for pleasure. Sounds like I'm O. K.?

Well, in between feeling fairly normal, there have been months on end of hardly any social life — and even going to the grocery store a tough job, emotionally. Even during my "good periods," severe claustrophobia persists. There are several things that I can't or won't do any more This is due to the extreme strain it puts on my whole physical and emotional system.

1. One is to visit certain relatives either alone or with my husband, which requires spending one or more nights away. (Or, having them as house guests.) We stay in motels, now.

2. Another is going to church, concerts, plays or dinner. I can attend an occasional movie on a back aisle seat. I can, on "good days," ride in self service elevators, and drive across town through traffic to shop or see a friend. I can, on "good days" have guests for dinner, if I know them well — or go to their homes

3. The final frightening experience is flying. This is the real reason for writing for your opinion. My husband and our wonderful internist both say I must not take flying off my list at my age.

My husband says he will "dope me up" so I won't be frightened on my next flight. He and the doctor feel that when a pleasure trip is in the offing, I should fly. We've had several short vacations in the past in which I did fly; each flight was more terrifying than the last.

It's even bad for me when we take a bedroom on the train for long trips. Dining car meals are "agonizing." But at least one can get up and leave for a walk through the train — or in the extreme, get off the train!

But in a plane! There's just no going anywhere. That is what is so terrifying. I honestly feel that if I fly again I will scream and fight to get out! Please give me your advice in the matter. Sincerely, Mrs. X.

COMMENT: I make it a rule not to interfere with any decisions a doctor hands down to his patient. Occasionally, where a rule can be broken without causing "any harm" — I don't hesitate to disagree with a reader's physician. I think wholesome disagreement is good for the soul—and, often for the patient.

If you were my patient, Mrs. X., I would go along with your way of thinking — and feeling. Forget that there is such a means of transportation as flying. You can't just explain away fears and other emotions.

I think that a future horrible flying experience is liable to tip you back over into your serious emotional problems of a few years back.

Respectfully disagree with your husband — and doctor—and put the blame on me!

Daily Devotional

It was the Sabbath day when Jesus made the clay and opened his eyes. — John 9:14.

It is to be expected that those who do not believe in God will habitually ignore Bible teaching as to Sabbath observance — but what about the truly Christian? Christ healed the sick on Sunday; He stated that "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath"; and "Which of you shall have as ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabbath day?" Perhaps the test is whether or not one is "in the spirit" on the Lord's Day! Worship, good deeds, and rest are certainly approved.

Heavenly Father, give us the right attitude toward Sunday observance — the desire to best serve Thee and Thy cause. In His name we ask. Amen.

Sanctions For Cuba

The United States has made some mistakes in dealing with Cuba, and the end is not in sight.

There are many who believe that our first major mistake was removing our protectorate from that country before it was able to govern itself. It has been confronted with a series of dictators and has thus placed the western hemisphere's democracy in jeopardy, although it has not been alone in that.

U.S. senators have just voted to suspend foreign aid to any nation which seizes property owned by American nationals without just compensation.

Cuban Treasury Minister Ruso Lopez-Fresquet arrogantly replied, "So what?" to suggestions that the United States eliminate aid to his country.

The senate vote obviously was a move inspired by Cuba's policy of breaking up large land holdings, a policy which has fallen heavily on U. S. investors in sugar and cattle industries, since Prime Minister Fidel Castro, the insolent dictator, has merely sent in troops, seized the land and turned it over to the peasants, who have no idea of operation or management.

Sr. Lopez-Fresquet shrugged off the implications of the senate's action with the remark that it did not matter—Cuba wasn't down on the foreign aid bill for a handout.

This is surprising, since the United States is helping most of the nations of the world.

Technically, however, he is correct, since Cuba is not now receiving direct assistance. But over the years this has not been true. Since World War II, Cuba has been allowed some $84 billion in "soft" loans and credits, only part of which has been repaid or is likely to be repaid.

Sr. Lopez-Fresquet knows full well that, aside from outright grants and development loans, the United States has been the strong prop of Cuba's economy. Only a few weeks ago the treasury minister was in Washington, along with Dictator Castro to plead for a larger share of U.S. sugar purchases. These recent rebels, who rose to power when Premier Fulgencio Batista suddenly became terrified and, to the surprise of everybody, including Castro, fled the country and turned it over to the rebels, ordinarily have barely a civil word for the United States. It is only when they are asking for something that they can refrain from hurling insults.

At that time the Cuban emissaries asked to supply all the U.S. sugar import needs, at a price well above the present world market. They ignored the fact that this would wreck the economy of several Caribbean nations.

The United States now guarantees Cuba a market for more than three million tons annually. This is about half of Cuba's production and the price is higher than it gets for the remained on the open market.

Cuba's sugar industry faces an uncertain future. The land reform program is breaking up large plantations. More than two million acres owned by American companies are being confiscated. They will be divided among landless peasants for family-type operations. There is no reason to think that this land will be managed as efficiently or will produce as well in the hands of these inexperienced people as it did in the hands of the professional sugar-growers.

There are many who believe the United States can't win in the cold war against Russia by simply attempting to buy favor from the various countries while Russia exerts the pressure necessary to hold the people of its satellite countries in line. If we permit Cuba to be taken over by Communists while we continue to support the economy of that nation, how can we expect to maintain our strength in this hemisphere? If we continue to lose more countries while Russia acquires them, where will we wind up?

If we can't have a protectorate for the little country lying directly off our shore, which we voluntarily gave up, we should at least be able to apply sanctions.

If Castro is against us, which his defiant expressions indicate he is, why should we guarantee to buy any more of his sugar than we need or pay any more for it than the market price? If we can't interfere in a military way in Cuba's internal affairs, as Russia would certainly do, we at least don't have to help an enemy.

A.: Yes, if we do two things:

(1) Balance the budget and keep restraints on the supply of credit in times of prosperity and high employment;

(2) Hold the average annual increase in wage rates to 3 per cent. This 3 per cent rise would be in line with the growth in our economy's efficiency and wouldn't be inflationary.

We are making progress on both counts.

Your Opportunity

SOME opportunities may knock . . . But they are mighty few . . . The chance to prove what you are worth . . . Is really up to you . . . You have to find your way in life . . . Your choice of a career . . . And prove that you are honest and . . . Devoted and sincere . . . Indeed those opportunities . . . That knock upon your door . . . Are mostly those that happen from . . . Your doing more and more . . . The harder that you strive each day . . . For health and happiness . . . The closer God will draw you to . . . A genuine success . . . And so your opportunity . . . Is really up to you . . . As you accept a certain job . . . And strive to see it through.

Decision Rapped

Ruling Seen As Making Shambles Of Industrial Security System

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In its term which ended last month, the Supreme Court handed down two decisions (Greene and Frank) which irked conservatives without giving any particular satisfaction to the liberals.

Greene was an industrial vice president whose company held some Defense Department contracts. The Federal Government denied this man access to classified information on grounds that his security was risky. In its last session of the term, the Supreme Court ruled against the Government's right to take such action without allowing the accused to face his accusers.

Although confrontation sounds like a simple and inalienable right for any individual in trouble, such is not by any means the whole story. A man who is denied security clearance is "accused" only in a vague although hurtful sense, but not in any criminal meaning. Besides, the individual is not the only one with rights. The American nation and people deserve consideration. The Supreme Court ruled earlier this year in the Barenblatt decision that:

"In the last analysis this (Congressional investigative) power rests on the right of self - preservation, 'the ultimate value in any society'."

Thus many lawyers on the Judiciary committee and the staffs were alarmed by the Greene decision. "It has made a shambles of our industrial security system," said Senator Keating of New York, a moderate Republican. "All of our nation's vital defense facilities are now at the mercy of Communist sabotage, espionage and subversion," said Senator Butler of Maryland, an Old Guard Republican. Even Joseph Rauh, an ultra - liberal who was testifying for the Democrats for Democratic Action, urged the Senate to pass another industrial security bill this session — but to provide somehow for confrontation.

The decision known as Frank vs. Maryland is another which has been a little unsatisfactory to the opposing camps of liberals and conservatives. A Baltimore health inspector named Gentry was refused entry to a house which he was suspected was rat-infested. The owner was arrested and fined $20.

There is no issue of the midnight knock or of the police force's kicking down the door. In reading the majority opinion Justice Frankfurter cited an older case:

". . . the 'unreasonable searches and seizures' condemned in the Fourth Amendment are almost always made for the purpose of compelling a man to give evidence against himself, which in criminal cases is condemned in the Fifth Amendment."

Justice Frankfurter goes on to say that there are two "rights" for the individual involved here. One is the plain right of privacy, the other of self - defense—but Mr. Frankfurter is not much impressed with the argument that either of these rights was abused. The health inspector came more than once, at convenient times of day, and exerted no force against the home owner. Besides, as in the Greene case, the community also had some rights, and Justice Frankfurter says:

"The need to maintain basic, minimal standards of housing, to prevent the spread of disease and . . . slums . . . has mounted to a major concern of American government."

To this point, nobody could reasonably disagree, but then Justice Frankfurter, speaking for a 5-4 majority, carries the argument into the tricky waters where sociology seems to be replacing law. In defending the State of Maryland's right to convict the home owner, the Justice made two remarks that caused strict Constitutionalists to shudder. Mr. Frankfurter said that:

(a) The compulsory inspection of a man's home is all right because "these inspections are apparently welcomed by all but an insignificant few."

(b) Health inspections, against the will of a home owner, are justified because "history and dominant public opinion has sanctioned" them.

Well, there is a view of the American Constitution which holds that the Bill of Rights should apply to all, including "an insignificant few" who did not agree with the majority. And there are a lot of persons trained in the Law who feel that "history and public opinion" are not the grounds upon which the Supreme Court should decide landmark cases of constitutional significance.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Claustrophobia

Woman Advised Not To Take Plane Trip Because Of Fear

Fellow patients will understand the following letter from a reader who has suffered for years from chronic anxiety. Every once in a while, I reprint a similar letter, because I think it is good for family members and friends to know how much these people suffer.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have had paralyzing anxiety since a nervous breakdown in my early thirties (not requiring institutionalizing). Now, I am in my late 40's. I have fought all the symptoms — off and on since the first attack.

Some years have been better than others. Despite all this misery, I fell in love, married an understanding, sensitive man, have managed household and garden chores, pursued many hobbies and traveled for pleasure. Sounds like I'm O. K.?

Well, in between feeling fairly normal, there have been months on end of hardly any social life — and even going to the grocery store a tough job, emotionally. Even during my "good periods," severe claustrophobia persists. There are several things that I can't or won't do any more This is due to the extreme strain it puts on my whole physical and emotional system.

1. One is to visit certain relatives either alone or with my husband, which requires spending one or more nights away. (Or, having them as house guests.) We stay in motels, now.

2. Another is going to church, concerts, plays or dinner. I can attend an occasional movie on a back aisle seat. I can, on "good days," ride in self service elevators, and drive across town through traffic to shop or see a friend. I can, on "good days" have guests for dinner, if I know them well — or go to their homes

3. The final frightening experience is flying. This is the real reason for writing for your opinion. My husband and our wonderful internist both say I must not take flying off my list at my age.

My husband says he will "dope me up" so I won't be frightened on my next flight. He and the doctor feel that when a pleasure trip is in the offing, I should fly. We've had several short vacations in the past in which I did fly; each flight was more terrifying than the last.

It's even bad for me when we take a bedroom on the train for long trips. Dining car meals are "agonizing." But at least one can get up and leave for a walk through the train — or in the extreme, get off the train!

But in a plane! There's just no going anywhere. That is what is so terrifying. I honestly feel that if I fly again I will scream and fight to get out! Please give me your advice in the matter. Sincerely, Mrs. X.

COMMENT: I make it a rule not to interfere with any decisions a doctor hands down to his patient. Occasionally, where a rule can be broken without causing "any harm" — I don't hesitate to disagree with a reader's physician. I think wholesome disagreement is good for the soul—and, often for the patient.

If you were my patient, Mrs. X., I would go along with your way of thinking — and feeling. Forget that there is such a means of transportation as flying. You can't just explain away fears and other emotions.

I think that a future horrible flying experience is liable to tip you back over into your serious emotional problems of a few years back.

Respectfully disagree with your husband — and doctor—and put the blame on me!

Daily Devotional

It was the Sabbath day when Jesus made the clay and opened his eyes. — John 9:14.

It is to be expected that those who do not believe in God will habitually ignore Bible teaching as to Sabbath observance — but what about the truly Christian? Christ healed the sick on Sunday; He stated that "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath"; and "Which of you shall have as ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabbath day?" Perhaps the test is whether or not one is "in the spirit" on the Lord's Day! Worship, good deeds, and rest are certainly approved.

Heavenly Father, give us the right attitude toward Sunday observance — the desire to best serve Thee and Thy cause. In His name we ask. Amen.

Worth, where he started a "vacation" last Saturday.

The colorful, 63-year-old governor held a two-man press conference from his hotel suite bed Friday in resting from a hectic night across the Rio Grande in Juarez, Mexico.

Clad in his usual hotel room garb of a white shirt and a pair of undershorts, Long was asked if he thought the amount of public swearing he had been doing would hurt him in the public eye.

"All I did," he said, "was tell those newspaper b------- to get the hell out of the restaurant.

"If I have to give up my individuality, then ---- the governorship."

"Huey cussed and I have cussed. How many people do you think really pay any attention to all those damns and hells?"

The governor's public utterances lately have gone far beyond those two words.

"On this crazy business," Long said, "people read about it and say, 'Hell, I may be next.' Michigan and Minnesota have twice as many insane people but the same population as Louisiana."

Long, who has frequently changed his plans without notice, outlined what he said was his itinerary for the rest of his western catation with trips to Phoenix, Colorado Springs, Hot Springs, Ark., and back home for a stumping tour of the state starting July 28 to push his announced special session.

While he didn't think the insanity allegations or swearing would harm him, Long expressed some worries over what people might think of "a cheap divorce."

Long reaffirmed his intention of divorcing his wife, who first committed him to a Texas mental institution May 30, but said he didn't want a one-day Mexican divorce. Long said:

"Those one-day divorces ain't worth the paper they're written on. They've got a getter one that takes six or seven days and don't cost one-third as much. . .those cheap shortcut divorces might hurt me."

Long said a 60-day divorce is available in Hot Springs. He expressed the intention of traveling to Hot Springs from his farm at Winnfield to "add up days" for a 60-day Arkansas divorce.

Long said he expected to have "my big National Guard plane" back Sunday and intends to use it on the remainder of his vacation trip.

"It's been in the shop and I'll have it here if it's fixed in time," he said.

He said he plans to visit the race track at Ruidoso, N. M., Saturday or Sunday, go to Monterrey, Mexico, Sunday night, to Phoenix on July 20, Colorado Springs July 21 "for about three days, to Kansas City Auly 23 or 24 and to Hot Springs on July 25-28 "or roughly that."

Starting July 28, Long said, he plans to start a stumping tour of Louisiana, touching Monroe and Shreveport July 28, Alexandria July 29, Lake Charles July 30, Lafayette July 31 and Opelousas Aug. 1.

Long has called for a special session of the Louisiana Legislature Aug. 10. Friday he took notice of reports that some lawmakers might not show up for the session. He said such talk was "a lot of crap." It was toward the end of the last legislative session that Long collapsed after a violent harangue and was flown to a Galveston mental hospital.

His stumping tour, Long said, would be to "meet with as many senators and representatives as will come" to explain his special session program.

As Long talked with newsmen, he held in his lap a copy of the New Orleans Times - Picayune, Louisiana's largest newspaper which Long has frequently attacked.

"The Times-Picayune lock, stock and barrel runs Tulane University," he interjected at one point. He would not amplify the statement.

He waved a copy of the Evening Leader of Leighton, Pa., published June 16 just as Long gained freedom from a Texas psychiatric clinic. The paper had a front-page editorial titled, "An old man stands alone."

The tenor of the editorial was that no one should be locked up because of his political beliefs or political enemies.

"That's what 80 per cent of the people say, that I talk to or get letters from," the governor said. "They could put me in a room for 40 years and I couldn't write anything as good."

"I'd be better off running in Texas than Louisiana because there's no New Orleans in Texas," he said, "referring to Louisiana's largest city and the home of Mayor deLesseps Morrison, the governor's ancient rival and a leading contender in the governor's race next December.

"I'd get all the votes in Fort Worth," Long said.

He said he didn't think he would return to Juarez Friday, "but I may go back Saturday night.

"When I went over there I was staggering," he said.

As for the furor with newspapermen, Long declared:

"All I did was give some s.o.b. a $50 check and get out of there. All I got was one glass of Mexican champagne. I got so ------ upset I haven't eaten yet."

He said he plans to eat a little milk and bread and was planning to try that diet "largely because of what happened last night. When you can't eat, you can't eat. You just shove something down and you vomit."

Long said he liked the Pennsylvania paper's editorial so well he was going to put it right at the middle of his next campaign circular.

Long didn't return to his hotel room until 6 a.m. Friday and his entrance then was on as noisy a par as his evening across the border in Juarez.

En Route to a plush Juarez restaurant, the Charmont, Long's taxi stopped after circling a block in an effort to shake newsmen.

His cousin and close associate, David Bell of Baton Rouge, got out and told the reporters:

"If you fellows follow us anymore, you're going to have to fight all of us right now."

In the taxi were Long, Bell, Louisiana state police Capt. D. L. Durrett and state Sen. B. B. Rayburn.

At the restaurant, Long objected strenuously and profanely to the presence of photographers.

"I'm going to shoot the b-------. I'll shoot 'em. I'll shoot 'em," he roared.

Before leaving his hotel, he had told newsmen::

"If you don't leave me alone, I'll shoot the whole damn bunch of you."

Long gestured wildly at the photographers when they appeared at the entrance to the Juarez restaurant's dinning room. His aides tried to calm him, then asked the photographers to leave.

"Why don't you go out there and fight them, damn it?" Long shouted to his aides. Then he bellowed: "Bring me the check."

Long and his party ostebsibly headed back to El Paso. But later the governor and some of his associates slipped back across the Rio Grande to Juarez. There, they spent the night in an establishment widely noted for its entertainment.

Long surrounded himself with a Mexican musical group and sometimes as many as 12 female entertainers.

Returning to his hotel in the morning, Long pounded loudly on the door of his room, seeking to gain entrance and shouting:

"Wake up, wake up."

As the door was opened, he saw two newsmen in the hall and shouted obscenities at them.

Later, Long sent his Louisiana National Guard C-54 back to Baton Rouge. With it went many of his closest associates, obviously fatigued by trying to follow the governor around.

When the C-57 stopped in Dallas to refuel, reporter Stan White of radio station KLIF attempted to interview Durrett. The captain refused to talk.

When White followed him into a cafeteria, Durrett threw back his fists and declared:

"Now you've had it buster. Now you've had it."

But Rayburn intervened and Durrett sat down.

Rayburn, too, before he left El Paso tangled with the press.

When Long left the Hilton Hotel Thursday night for Juarez, photographers and reporters were told not to follow him. Sanky Trimble, New Mexico bureau chief of The Associated Press, suggested that if, as the photographers had suggested to a Long aide earlier, they were allowed to take one picture, placing Long in Juarez, the Long party probably wouldn't be bothered as much.

"Rayburn got the impression that I had said the proposal was made to him," said Trimble, who stands 5'-6'. "He came charging back across the lobby, put his hands around my throat and shook me like a wet puppy—a little. Later he came around and apologized."

Kidnapping Case Suspect Charged

Mrs. Vaughn; he did not rape her, she told officers.

Ellis threatened to kill her, demanded money (which she did not have) and before leaving warned her that if she reported it to the law, he would "get her if it takes 10 years," she said.

Locked behind the thick steel doors and bars of the Ashley County jail here, Ellis maintained yesterday that he "doesn't know anything and can't remember what happened."

CHARGED

He is charged with kidnapping Mrs. Riley from her home on the Promise Land rural road near here at 2:30 p.m. Thursday and robbing her of $6. He left her three young daughters at the pink farm-house.

He released her in a wooded area five miles east of Hamburg at 4:30 p.m., and was captured by her brother, Norman Higginbotham and Don Kelly, both 20, at 5:15 p.m.

In an interview with the Morning World Thursday, Mrs. Riley said that Ellis threatened to kill her, but "started talking on things he shouldn't of" only once. "I got him off the subject," she said.

She said he did not molest her.

Sheriff Courson credited both Mrs. Riley and Mrs. Vaughn with saving their own lives.

CALMNESS

"Their ability to talk calmly, and steady flow of sound reasoning kept Ellis from harming them," he said.

Courson and Mrs. Riley's father, Gaston Higginbotham, agreed that if a search car had caught up with Ellis while Mrs. Riley was with him, he might have killed her.

The gun which he held on the women was found by the Sheriff's Department at noon yesterday, near the wooded area where Ellis parked with Mrs. Riley.

"We don't have his record yet," said Courson. He added that Ellis "is a little more alert today than he was Thursday, but he just isn't talking." Thursday night, officials said that Ellis appeared "very drunk."

Courson said there was no mob violence when Ellis was brought in.

"There was a little wild talk, as it happens when anything like this occurs," the Sheriff added.

If Ellis is found sane, his case cannot come up for trial before October.

Separated from his wife and young son, Ellis was staying at the home of his father-in-law, George White near Lake Village. He obtained the old-model shotgun from there.

His only show of emotion in jail came when officers asked him about a letter found in his possessions.

The letter, postmarked New Mexico, was from his wife.

split the differences on money items in the two versions.

On the main issues, the conferees:

—Approved $1,400,000,000 for military aid, compared with $1,600,000,000 asked by Eisenhower, $1.440,000,000 voted by the House and $1,300,000,000 by the Senate.

—Approved a two-year program of congressional appropriations for the Development Loan Fund, through which most economic aid is channelled. It voted $70,000,000 for this year and $1,100,000,000 for next year.

—Approved 751 million dollars for so-called defense support—money used to bolster the economies of weaker allies so that they can divert more of their own funds to their armed services.

—Approved $247,500,000 for outright "special assistance" grants.

—Left "Point Four" technical assistance funds untouched from the $179,500,000 originally requested by the President and approved by both houses.

—Cut the President's special contingency fund, for use in international emergencies, to 155 million dollars from the 200 million dollars he asked. The House had slashed the fund to 100 million dollars. But the Senate raised it to 188 million dollars.

the storm hit, at about 9:30 p.m. (Korea time).

Flight from the storm swiftly turned into panic and many died and were injured in the frantic, screaming struggle that developed at the narrow entrance gate to the stadium, Orient Press said.

Just as Typhoon Billie hit the Korean peninsula and the Communist Chinese mainland, Nationalist Chinese and Americans on Formosa began to dig out from under a blanket of mud and debris left by Taipei's worst flash floods in seven years.

Long has called for a special session of the Louisiana Legislature Aug. 10. Friday he took notice of reports that some lawmakers might not show up for the session. He said such talk was "a lot of crap." It was toward the end of the last legislative session that Long collapsed after a violent harangue and was flown to a Galveston mental hospital.

His stumping tour, Long said, would be to "meet with as many senators and representatives as will come" to explain his special session program.

As Long talked with newsmen, he held in his lap a copy of the New Orleans Times - Picayune, Louisiana's largest newspaper which Long has frequently attacked.

"The Times-Picayune lock, stock and barrel runs Tulane University," he interjected at one point. He would not amplify the statement.

He waved a copy of the Evening Leader of Leighton, Pa., published June 16 just as Long gained freedom from a Texas psychiatric clinic. The paper had a front-page editorial titled, "An old man stands alone."

The tenor of the editorial was that no one should be locked up because of his political beliefs or political enemies.

"That's what 80 per cent of the people say, that I talk to or get letters from," the governor said. "They could put me in a room for 40 years and I couldn't write anything as good."

"I'd be better off running in Texas than Louisiana because there's no New Orleans in Texas," he said, "referring to Louisiana's largest city and the home of Mayor deLesseps Morrison, the governor's ancient rival and a leading contender in the governor's race next December.

"I'd get all the votes in Fort Worth," Long said.

He said he didn't think he would return to Juarez Friday, "but I may go back Saturday night.

"When I went over there I was staggering," he said.

As for the furor with newspapermen, Long declared:

"All I did was give some s.o.b. a $50 check and get out of there. All I got was one glass of Mexican champagne. I got so ------- upset I haven't eaten yet."

He said he plans to eat a little milk and bread and was planning to try that diet "largely because of what happened last night. When you can't eat, you can't eat. You just shove something down and you vomit."

Long said he liked the Pennsylvania paper's editorial so well he was going to put it right at the middle of his next campaign circular.

Long didn't return to his hotel room until 6 a.m. Friday and his entrance then was on as noisy a par as his evening across the border in Juarez.

En Route to a plush Juarez restaurant, the Charmont, Long's taxi stopped after circling a block in an effort to shake newsmen.

His cousin and close associate, David Bell of Baton Rouge, got out and told the reporters:

"If you fellows follow us anymore, you're going to have to fight all of us right now."

In the taxi were Long, Bell, Louisiana state police Capt. D. L. Durrett and state Sen. B. B. Rayburn.

At the restaurant, Long objected strenuously and profanely to the presence of photographers.

"I'm going to shoot the b-------. I'll shoot 'em. I'll shoot 'em," he roared.

Before leaving his hotel, he had told newsmen::

"If you don't leave me alone, I'll shoot the whole damn bunch of you."

Long gestured wildly at the photographers when they appeared at the entrance to the Juarez restaurant's dinning room. His aides tried to calm him, then asked the photographers to leave.

"Why don't you go out there and fight them, damn it?" Long shouted to his aides. Then he bellowed: "Bring me the check."

Long and his party ostebsibly headed back to El Paso. But later the governor and some of his associates slipped back across the Rio Grande to Juarez. There, they spent the night in an establishment widely noted for its entertainment.

Long surrounded himself with a Mexican musical group and sometimes as many as 12 female entertainers.

Returning to his hotel in the morning, Long pounded loudly on the door of his room, seeking to gain entrance and shouting:

"Wake up, wake up."

As the door was opened, he saw two newsmen in the hall and shouted obscenities at them.

Later, Long sent his Louisiana National Guard C-54 back to Baton Rouge. With it went many of his closest associates, obviously fatigued by trying to follow the governor around.

When the C-57 stopped in Dallas to refuel, reporter Stan White of radio station KLIF attempted to interview Durrett. The captain refused to talk.

When White followed him into a cafeteria, Durrett threw back his fists and declared:

"Now you've had it buster. Now you've had it."

But Rayburn intervened and Durrett sat down.

Rayburn, too, before he left El Paso tangled with the press.

When Long left the Hilton Hotel Thursday night for Juarez, photographers and reporters were told not to follow him. Sanky Trimble, New Mexico bureau chief of The Associated Press, suggested that if, as the photographers had suggested to a Long aide earlier, they were allowed to take one picture, placing Long in Juarez, the Long party probably wouldn't be bothered as much.

"Rayburn got the impression that I had said the proposal was made to him," said Trimble, who stands 5'-6'. "He came charging back across the lobby, put his hands around my throat and shook me like a wet puppy—a little. Later he came around and apologized."

Kidnapping Case Suspect Charged

Mrs. Vaughn; he did not rape her, she told officers.

Ellis threatened to kill her, demanded money (which she did not have) and before leaving warned her that if she reported it to the law, he would "get her if it takes 10 years," she said.

Locked behind the thick steel doors and bars of the Ashley County jail here, Ellis maintained yesterday that he "doesn't know anything and can't remember what happened."

CHARGED

He is charged with kidnapping Mrs. Riley from her home on the Promise Land rural road near here at 2:30 p.m. Thursday and robbing her of $6. He left her three young daughters at the pink farm-house.

He released her in a wooded area five miles east of Hamburg at 4:30 p.m., and was captured by her brother, Norman Higginbotham and Don Kelly, both 20, at 5:15 p.m.

In an interview with the Morning World Thursday, Mrs. Riley said that Ellis threatened to kill her, but "started talking on things he shouldn't of" only once. "I got him off the subject," she said.

She said he did not molest her. Sheriff Courson credited both Mrs. Riley and Mrs. Vaughn with saving their own lives.

CALMNESS

"Their ability to talk calmly, and steady flow of sound reasoning kept Ellis from harming them," he said.

Courson and Mrs. Riley's father, Gaston Higginbotham, agreed that if a search car had caught up with Ellis while Mrs. Riley was with him, he might have killed her.

The gun which he held on the women was found by the Sheriff's Department at noon yesterday, near the wooded area where Ellis parked with Mrs. Riley.

"We don't have his record yet," said Courson. He added that Ellis "is a little more alert today than he was Thursday, but he just isn't talking." Thursday night, officials said that Ellis appeared "very drunk."

Courson said there was no mob violence when Ellis was brought in.

"There was a little wild talk, as it happens when anything like this occurs," the Sheriff added.

If Ellis is found sane, his case cannot come up for trial before October.

Separated from his wife and young son, Ellis was staying at the home of his father-in-law, George White near Lake Village. He obtained the old-model shotgun from there.

His only show of emotion in jail came when officers asked him about a letter found in his possessions.

The letter, postmarked New Mexico, was from his wife.

the storm hit, at about 9:30 p.m. (Korea time).

Flight from the storm swiftly turned into panic and many died and were injured in the frantic, screaming struggle that developed at the narrow entrance gate to the stadium, Orient Press said.

Just as Typhoon Billie hit the Korean peninsula and the Communist Chinese mainland, Nationalist Chinese and Americans on Formosa began to dig out from under a blanket of mud and debris left by Taipei's worst flash floods in seven years.

Foreign Aid Funds Hiked By Conferees

split the differences on money items in the two versions.

On the main issues, the conferees:

—Approved $1,400,000,000 for military aid, compared with $1,600,000,000 asked by Eisenhower, $1,440,000,000 voted by the House and $1,300,000,000 by the Senate.

—Approved a two-year program of congressional appropriations for the Development Loan Fund. through which most economic aid is channelled. It voted $70,000,000 for this year and $1,100,000,000 for next year.

—Approved 751 million dollars for so-called defense support—money used to bolster the economies of weaker allies so that they can divert more of their own funds to their armed services.

—Approved $247,500,000 for outright "special assistance" grants.

—Left "Point Four" technical assistance funds untouched from the $179,500,000 originally requested by the President and approved by both houses.

—Cut the President's special contingency fund, for use in international emergencies, to 155 million dollars from the 200 million dollars he asked. The House had slashed the fund to 100 million dollars. But the Senate raised it to 188 million dollars.

..LAKE PROVIDENCE — Oscar L. Cloud, apprentice training representative for the Louisiana State Department of Labor in Monroe, emphasized the need for skilled mechanics over the nation because of the increased population and great demands for autos, TVs and other industries in a speech before the regular meeting of the Lake Providence Rotary Club.

Cloud gave a brief history of the apprentice training program and outlined the general set-up of the organization, stating that the apprentice training period ranges from two to six years.

He pointed out that a survey of manpower in 1955 showed that approximately 250,000 new skilled workers were required each year to replace those dropped from industry for various reasons.

William M. Knobles, Rotary president, presided during the meeting.

LAKE PROVIDENCE — Marvin Ragland, president of the East Carroll Parish Farm Bureau, and E. V. Parker, will represent the local organization as official delegates at the State Farm Bureau meeting to be held in Monroe beginning July 19.

Russia Drops Nixon Visit Censorship

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced Friday that the sovite government has given assurances that American newsmen accompanying him to Russia will be able to file stories freely and without delay.

Nixon interpreted this to mean that American correspondents will be allowed to cover the trip "without censorship"—one of several goals sought by the vice president in connection with his visit.

Nixon said in a statement that the Soviet Foreign Office had advised the U. S. government that the rules applicable to American newsmen will be "just as in the Macmillan case."

The vice president noted that during the recent Moscow visit of British Prime Minister Macmillan to Russia censorship restrictions were dropped for members of the press accredited to his party.

Nixon said the word from Moscow was that newsmen with him will be "allowed to file their stories from hotel rooms in Moscow and from other cities freely and without delay."

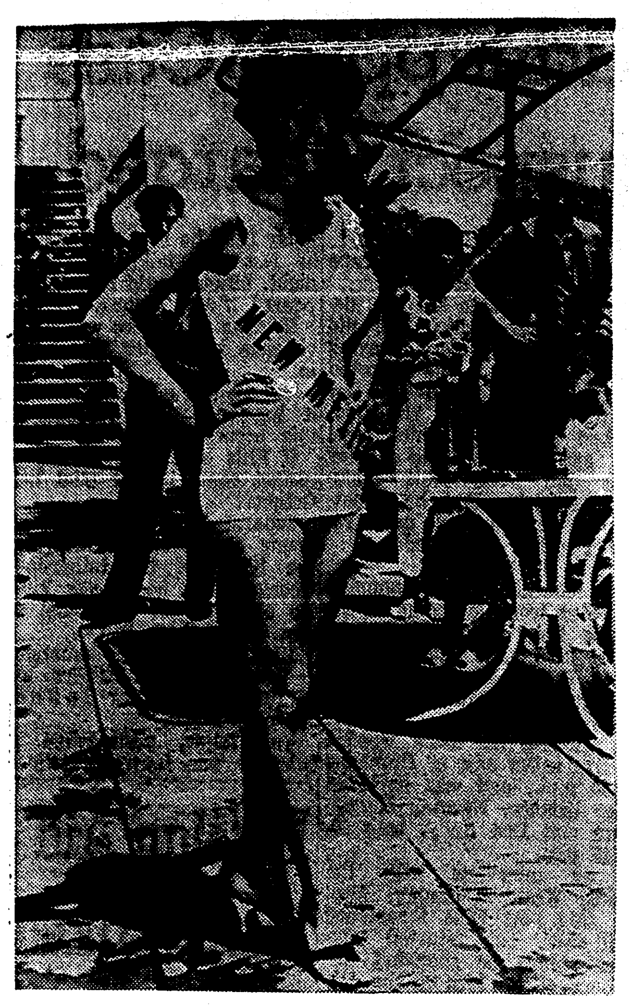
It was expected that the giant Boeing intercontinental jet 707 that will carry the press party of at least 56 newsmen to Moscow will attempt to better the New York-to-Moscow flight time of Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov. Kozlov made the flight in a Soviet TU144 jet prop in 9 hours and 48 minutes.

Nixon's plane will not be trying for any record. He will make the trip in a military version of the standard Boeing jet 707 now making daily transatlantic commercial flights. According to present plans, the plane plans a refueling stop at Keflavik Air Base in Iceland.

Nixon's official party will include 34 persons not counting the crew. Among them will be Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the so-called "father" of the atomic submarine, and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the president's brother.

It was learned that the decision to include Rickover in the official party was reached after consultation with the President.

Others in the official party will include George V. Allen, director of the U. S. Information Agency; Foy D. Kohler, deputy assistant secretary of state for European Affairs, and 15 members of the President's Advisory Committee o the Moscow Exhibit.



Staying In The Contest

Miss Sue Ingersoll, 22-year-old brown-eyed redhead and Miss New Mexico in the Miss Universe contest at Long Beach displays her contest bathing suit yesterday after announcing she's staying in the competition despite the opposition of her church. Miss Ingersoll is a Catholic. She said during a news conference that Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne of Albuquerque had informed her that her appearance in the contest while wearing a swim suit would cause her to be deprived of confession and communion for an indefinite period. (AP Wirephoto)

IKE, MITCHELL CONFER

Effects Of Steel Strike Spreading

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The effects of the 3-day-old steel strike cut deeper into the nation's economy Friday with more layoffs, walkouts and soaring production losses.

In Washington, President Eisenhower conferred on the steel situation with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell. The White House declined to provide any details.

Elsewhere public officials got ready for an avalance of relief requests; defense plans were snarled in at least one installation; and 20 million dollars worth of construction work in steel plants was halted.

The strike of half a million United Steelworkers of America already has brought idleness to 30,000 workers in railroads, coal mines, Great Lakes ore carriers, trucking and other industies.

Each day the strike continues the production loss amounts to 300,000 ingot tons of steel with wage losses running 70 million dollars a week.

So far there's no sign of settlement. Federal mediation talks in the dispute will be resumed Monday in New York. Neither industry nor the union has shown any signs of retreating from their last bargaining positions.

An estimated 5,000 building tradesmen in the Chicago-Gary-East Chicago, Ind., area refused to cross Steelworkers picket lines Friday, halting work on some 200 million dollars of construction work in steel plants.

This included 100 million dollars of work at U.S. Steel's Chicago an Gary works and about 85 million dollars worth of construction at Inland Steel's Indiana Harbor plant.

Also affected were Youngstown Sheet & Tube in East Chicago and the Acme Steel Co., Riverdale, Ill., with about 20 million dollars in projects halted.

The strike also spread to the core of the nation's defense with plans snarled for the completion of three Atlas missile-launching sites near Cheyenne, Wyo.

Construction officials said the first site is expected to be finished on schedule Sept. 20, but high pressure tanks for other sites are not expected to be delivered in time for the scheduled November completion.

In Pittsburgh, the Allegheny County Board of Assistance girded for a deluge of relief applications from striking Steelworkers by adding 80 emergency workers to its staff.

George P. Mills, executive director of the board, said his staff plans to handle an expected 7,500 relief applications early next week.

Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania named a special committee of state officials to muster the commonwealth's resources to avoid family distress resulting from the steel strike.

Lawrence said he would ask the Legislature Monday for additional stop-gap appropations for relief. He said he also would contact federal officials to increase the quantity and variety of surplus foods for distribution in areas hard-hit by the steel strike.

This is the sixth walkout since World War II. Steelworkers had been averaging $3.10 an hour. A three-year contract expired June 30 but was extended until last Tuesday midnight.

Picketing was quiet and, in at least one case, pleasant for the strikers. At a struck plant in a Pittsburgh suburb one picket brought a portable swimming pool from home. The Bethlehem Steel Co. provided the water and the pickets donned bathing suits.

DRINKING RECORD SET

LONDON (UPI)—The winner of a "Yard of Ale" contest sponsored by doctor's hospital Thursday night was Kevin Murphy, 28, who downed two pints of beer in 13.5 seconds. The record for the feat is ten seconds. Second place in the contest went to a sailor who said he didn't do better only because he had "spent too much time rehearsing." A "yard of ale" consists of two pints.

State Court

Nine persons were fined $25 and court costs each in state court this week by Judge W. M. Harper.

Pleading guilty to speeding were John F. Kelson Sr., Preston L. Anderson, Maudine V. Morris, Juanita J. Pailette and Archie A. Parker.

Joe E. Freeman admitted disturbing the peace.

Paralee Nabors and Grace Ellen Tillman, each were fined for driving without a license.

Robert L. Sheppard, pled guilty to permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his vehicle.

Peace warrant charges against Earl Perry were dropped. He was charged with threatening Vera Perry on July 6.

United States railroad payrolls totaled almost five billion dollars in 1958.

Russia Drops Nixon Visit Censorship

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced Friday that the sovite government has given assurances that American newsmen accompanying him to Russia will be able to file stories freely and without delay.

Nixon interpreted this to mean that American correspondents will be allowed to cover the trip "without censorship"—one of several goals sought by the vice president in connection with his visit.

Nixon said in a statement that the Soviet Foreign Office had advised the U. S. government that the rules applicable to American newsmen will be "just as in the Macmillan case."

The vice president noted that during the recent Moscow visit of British Prime Minister Macmillan to Russia censorship restrictions were dropped for members of the press accredited to his party.

Nixon said the word from Moscow was that newsmen with him will be "allowed to file their stories from hotel rooms in Moscow and from other cities freely and without delay."

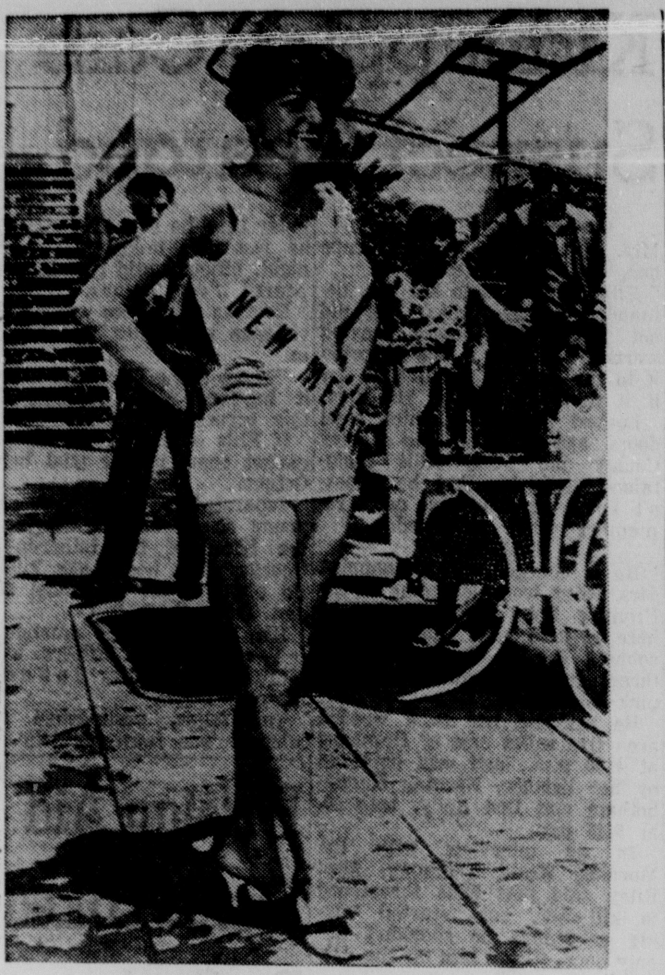
It was expected that the giant Boeing intercontinental jet 707 that will carry the press party of at least 56 newsmen to Moscow will attempt to better the New York-to-Moscow flight time of Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov. Kozlov made the flight in a Soviet TU144 jet prop in 9 hours and 48 minutes.

Nixon's plane will not be trying for any record. He will make the trip in a military version of the standard Boeing jet 707 now making daily transatlantic commercial flights. According to present plans, the plane plans a refueling stop at Keflavik Air Base in Iceland.

Nixon's official party will include 34 persons not counting the crew. Among them will be Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the so-called "father" of the atomic submarine, and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the president's brother.

It was learned that the decision to include Rickover in the official party was reached after consultation with the President.

Others in the official party will include George V. Allen, director of the U. S. Information Agency; Foy D. Kohler, deputy assistant secretary of state for European Affairs, and 15 members of the President's Advisory Committee o the Moscow Exhibit.



Staying In The Contest

Miss Sue Ingersoll, 22-year-old brown-eyed redhead and Miss New Mexico in the Miss Universe contest at Long Beach displays her contest bathing suit yesterday after announcing she's staying in the competition despite the opposition of her church. Miss Ingersoll is a Catholic. She said during a news conference that Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne of Albuquerque had informed her that her appearance in the contest while wearing a swim suit would cause her to be deprived of confession and communion for an indefinite period. (AP Wirephoto)

Effects Of Steel Strike Spreading

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The effects of the 3-day-old steel strike cut deeper into the nation's economy Friday with more layoffs, walkouts and soaring production losses.

In Washington, President Eisenhower conferred on the steel situation with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell. The White House declined to provide any details.

Elsewhere public officials got ready for an avalance of relief requests; defense plans were snarled in at least one installation; and 20 million dollars worth of construction work in steel plants was halted.

The strike of half a million United Steelworkers of America already has brought idleness to 30,000 workers in railroads, coal mines, Great Lakes ore carriers, trucking and other industies.

Each day the strike continues the production loss amounts to 300,000 ingot tons of steel with wage losses running 70 million dollars a week.

So far there's no sign of settlement. Federal mediation talks in the dispute will be resumed Monday in New York. Neither industry nor the union has shown any signs of retreating from their last bargaining positions.

An estimated 5,000 building tradesmen in the Chicago-Gary-East Chicago, Ind., area refused to cross Steelworkers picket lines Friday, halting work on some 200 million dollars of construction work in steel plants.

This included 100 million dollars of work at U.S. Steel's Chicago an Gary works and about 85 million dollars worth of construction at Inland Steel's Indiana Harbor plant.

Also affected were Youngstown Sheet & Tube in East Chicago and the Acme Steel Co., Riverdale, Ill., with about 20 million dollars in projects halted.

The strike also spread to the core of the nation's defense with plans snarled for the completion of three Atlas missile-launching sites near Cheyenne, Wyo.

Construction officials said the first site is expected to be finished on schedule Sept. 20, but high pressure tanks for other sites are not expected to be delivered in time for the scheduled November completion.

In Pittsburgh, the Allegheny County Board of Assistance girded for a deluge of relief applications from striking Steelworkers by adding 80 emergency workers to its staff.

George P. Mills, executive director of the board, said his staff plans to handle an expected 7,500 relief applications early next week.

Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania named a special committee of state officials to muster the commonwealth's resources to avoid family distress resulting from the steel strike.

Lawrence said he would ask the Legislature Monday for additional stop-gap appropations for relief. He said he also would contact federal officials to increase the quantity and variety of surplus foods for distribution in areas hard-hit by the steel strike.

This is the sixth walkout since World War II. Steelworkers had been averaging $3.10 an hour. A three-year contract expired June 30 but was extended until last Tuesday midnight.

Picketing was quiet and, in at least one case, pleasant for the strikers. At a struck plant in a Pittsburgh suburb one picket brought a portable swimming pool from home. The Bethlehem Steel Co. provided the water and the pickets donned bathing suits.

DRINKING RECORD SET

LONDON (UPI)—The winner of a "Yard of Ale" contest sponsored by doctor's hospital Thursday night was Kevin Murphy, 28, who downed two pints of beer in 13.5 seconds. The record for the feat is ten seconds. Second place in the contest went to a sailor who said he didn't do better only because he had "spent too much time rehearsing." A "yard of ale" consists of two pints.

State Court

Nine persons were fined $25 and court costs each in state court this week by Judge W. M. Harper.

Pleading guilty to speeding were John F. Kelson Sr., Preston L. Anderson, Maudine V. Morris, Juanita J. Pailette and Archie A. Parker.

Joe E. Freeman admitted disturbing the peace.

Paralee Nabors and Grace Ellen Tillman, each were fined for driving without a license.

Robert L. Sheppard, pled guilty to permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his vehicle.

Peace warrant charges against Earl Perry were dropped. He was charged with threatening Vera Perry on July 6.

United States railroad payrolls totaled almost five billion dollars in 1958.

Trans-Atlantic Telephone Call Trips Pair In New York 'Shake Down' Plot

NEW YORK (AP)—A transatlantic telephone call by no less a person than the U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain, John Hay Whitney, tripped up two cops who were allegedly trying to shake down an obscure East Side bar owner for $250, it was reported today.

The New York Post tells this story:

It seems the bar owner's wife happens to be Mrs. Whitney's hairdresser. Furthermore, sportsman Jock Whitney enjoys an occasional sparring session with the bar owner, former European welterweight boxer Saverio Turiello.

And to top the table of interesting coincidences, financier Whitney put $10,000 into helping Turiello open his bar three years ago. The loan has since been repaid, but the Whitneys friendship with the Turiellos is still running.

Turiello was plenty burned when six weeks ago, he said, two vice cops came into his Piccolo Club at 55th St. and 2nd ave. and threatened to charge him with letting prostitutes hang around his place. Such a charge could cost him his liquor license, although Turiello has twice before won dismissal of similar charges.

The price for silence was $250, Turiello said.

"Why should I give you money?" Turiello said he told one of the cops, Lt. Francis Crotty. "You're a thief with a badge. Take off that gun and badge and I'll show you what you'll get."

Turiello told his wife, Marguerite, that night, and next day when Mrs. Turiello was dressing Mrs. Whitney's hair she told her.

Mrs. Whitney called London. Whitney called New York Police Commissioner Stephen Kennedy, person to person. The official wheels moved fast. Kennedy's special investigators came privately to Turiello's home that night and laid a trap.

It was sprung Wednesday night, police said, when Turiello handed Crotty, and his henchman, Patrolman William Shuker, the $250 in marked bills. Crotty and Shuker were booked Thursday for conspiracy and acting in concert to solicit a bribe.

Blues Singer, 44, Dies In N. Y. Hospital

NEW YORK (UPI)—Billie Holiday, 44, a shriveled shadow of the lady who sang the blues, died on a hospital bed Friday.

More than two decades of drug addiction, alcoholism and one-night stands took their toll at 3:20 a.m. in a sixth floor room in Metropolitan Hospital.

Acclaimed by many as the greatest jazz singer of all time, the singer known as "Lady Day" entered the hospital 46 days ago with kidnay disease and a faltering heart.

She fought death as stubbornly as the friends who had begged and pleaded with her to enter a hospital before it was too late. They finally got her to the hospital after she collapsed at her home. Placed under an oxygen tent, she rallied for a few days but then began losing ground.

Her husband, Louis McKay, had sat at her bedside the last two nights as her condition became steadily worse. He left the room a few minutes before she died. Her physician said Billie succumbed to lung congestion and heart ailments.

She apparently had not been able to shake the narcotics habit even while dying. A nurse making a routine check last month noticed white powder on Billie's nose. Police found an envelope containing heroin in her room and Billie admitted that she had "sniffed" it occasionally.

In her autobiography, "Lady Sings the Blues," she had written: "There isn't a soul on this earth who can say for sure that their fight with dope is over until they're dead."

If she had lived, Billie would once again have had to face arraignment on a narcotics charge. She began using narcotics as a teen-ager while singing in Harlem night clubs for money that patrons threw on the dance floor.

Billie was born in Baltimore on April 7, 1915. Her father was a jazz musician and her mother took in washing. Billie later described her home as "just another one-night stand."

She was only 15 when she got her first job singing in a Harlem night club for $18 a week after she had applied for a job as a dancer.

Billie—she borrowed the name from movie star Billie Dove — drifted from club to club, delivering songs in the earthy style she had picked up from listening to the records of blues singer Bessie Smith and Louis Armstrong. Her talent was quickly recognized by jazz artists.

She cut her first record with Benny Goodman and went on to make nationwide tours with the Count Basie and Artie Shaw bands.

Her trademarks while crooning sad, soft songs were a white gown and a white gardenia in her hair.

Motorized Cars For Youngsters Held Dangerous

CHICAGO (UPI) —The National Safety Council warned Friday that motorized children's cars are more than toys and downright dangerous.

"Some of these miniature automobiles are so heavily powered they can go 40 to 50 miles an hour," said Gen. George C. Stewart, executive vice president of the council.

"That's too fast for any youngster under 16 to drive anywhere, anytime, and parents are only begging for trouble when they permit a child to do it.

"We realize that some of these little cars won't go more than five miles an hour. There is an understandable feeling by some parents that such a car can be driven safely by a 7-yard-old child in his own backyard.

"This may be true. . .but the variation in circumstances (is) so great that there is only one really safe rule for their use—don't use them."

The council urged parents not even to allow their children to race their midget cars on supervised tracks.

"We do this at the recognized risk of being written off as fuddy-duddies and despoilers of childhood fun," Stewart said. "But we firmly believe that children under 16 are too young to drive cars of any size anywhere without their parents going along. And somehow we doubt the average father could squeeze into one of these pint-sized miniature cars along with his son or daughter."

PARTNER SHOOTS CONVICT

TORONTO (UPI) —An escaped convict was shot dead Thursday by his partner during a robbery. Police said Ronald Watts, 22, and another bandit, George Burton, 42, entered a care on Toronto's waterfront bent on robbing it. A customer, Arthur Keay, an ex-policeman, tried to strike Watts with a pop bottle. The other gunman fired, missing Keay and hitting Watts. Burton was apprehended and charged with murder.

The national average pay of school teachers in the United States is $4,325 annually.

Paralytic Polio Warning Issued

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Surgeon General Leroy E. Buruney warned Friday that paralytic polio is on the upsurge and taking its heaviest toll among the unvaccinated.

Pointing up his warning, the Public Health Service reported that the nation's polio count climbed last week by 179 cases. Of these, 111 were paralytic.

The increase brought the total polio toll for the first 27 weeks of the year to 1,208 cases—791 of them of the crippling type.

The health service said the number of paralytic cases so far is more than double the 385 reported for the same period of 1958.

The total number of cases, including non-paralytic, at the same time last year was 754 cases.

Burney said nine out of 10 of the new polio cases have occurred among persons who have not had Salk vaccine shots. So far, about 70 million of 170 million Americans have had one or more of the anti-polio shots.

There have been three deaths from polio this year, all adult males.

"I cannot urge too strongly," Burney said, "the need for pushing ahead with the drive to vaccinate the unvaccinated. It is not too late either to start or complete the Salk shot series."

Five states accounted for more than half of last week's new polio cases. They were Texas with 31, of which 17 were paralytic, and Arkansas, 14; Iowa, 13, Alabama, 11 and Oklahoma 7, all of which were paralytic.

Missouri, which had had nine new cases the previous week, reported only four additional ones last week. Kansas had 11 and Ohio 10 but most of these were non-paralytic.

No polio was reported in the New England states.

Last week's 179 new cases compared with 174 the previous week and 104 for the same week of 1958. The number of paralytic cases in each instance was 111, 105 and 56.

On a percentage basis, the health service said, about 65 per cent of the total number of cases so far this year have been paralytic, compared with 51 per cent in the same period of 1958 and 42 per cent in 1957.

Caddy Faces 16 Years In Prison After Robbery

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (UPI) — A golf caddy faced 16 years in prison on Friday for beating and robbing greenskeeper Hansel (Hank) Karnes, brother-in-law of professional golfer Sam Snead.

Gordon Baker, 29, told circuit Judge Earl L. Abbott that he attacked Karnes because he "needed some quick money to pay some bills."

Karnes, who works at the Cascades Course here, said Baker beat him with a stock and robbed him of about $120 last June 3. He was cutting grass at the 6th green of the course when the attack occurred.

Ninety stitches were required to close cuts on Karnes' face, head and chest.

Karnes is a brother of Snead's wife.

Baker was sentenced Thursday.

Copies Of Booklet To Be Destroyed

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — British doctors have decided to destroy 50,000 copies of a sex-instruction booklet that is fetching 10 times its original price in black market dealings.

The British Medical Assn. withdrew "Getting Married," a one-shilling—14-cent—paperback booklet from newsstands last March after a storm of protest from church leaders.

Among questions "Getting Married" posed:

"Is chastity outmoded, outdated, out?"

"So you're getting married? During the four days the booklet was available it sold 200,000 copies. Another 50,000 were withdrawn.

Doctors meeting Thursday voted 175-144 to keep their remaining copies out of circulation. Now they will be destroyed. The vote represented a narrow victory for Dr. Wolomon Wand, BMA Council chairman who originally ordered the book's withdrawal.

"Although we know that moral laxity exists, both the medium and the purpose of an educational pamphlet have to be considered," he told the assembly.

"This one purported to give advice to single men and women at the most unstable moment of their lives—advice apparently tendered by 70,000 British doctors.

"I take full responsibility for my action in suspending publication. If I were asked to do the same thing tomorrow I would do it."

In the controversial article on chastity, Dr. Eustace Chesser, a prominent London psychologist, contended the individual citizen should have the right to choose between being chaste or unchaste.

Chesser claimed one woman in three in Britain admits to premarital sexual intercourse. One in 20 births are known to be illegitimate. One in eight would have been but for subsequent marriage of the parents. One is six of all babies is conceived ahead of marriage.

"Do these figures mean that chastity is outmoded?" Chesser asked. "I doubt it, but it cannot be denied we are moving in that direction.

"Premarital sexual intercourse, despite the fact that it is a limited relationship, can also be more than ordinarily pleasant. True chastity can only come from within ourselves. Which means it is we who must be free to make the choice."

Nun Is Planning To Break Sound Barrier In Jet

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) —A 65-year-old Roman Catholic nun said Friday she'll break the sound barrier in a U.S. Air Force jet, flying as co-pilot.

Sister Aquinas, science education supervisor for the Green Bay Archdiocese, said she is slated to co-pilot a jet sometime next month at Hamilton Field near San Francisco.

She leaves for the west coast Sunday—by plane, naturally after conducting a two-week science workshop at the University of San Francisco she will receive jet briefing at Hamilton before taking off in one of the jets there.

She has logged 168 hours of flying time and is licensed to fly single-engine craft. She has flown helicopters and a T33 jet trainer.

"I'm 65," she said, "but I'm keeping young by keeping ahead of the children by work. That's how to keep young, you know, by work."

Sister Aquinas said American education needs to take some jet-speed steps too.

"There's too much conservatism in education," she said. "Educators are not alert enough to adapt curricula to the newer trends and needs of our country."

"If I stopped learning for two weeks I would be six weeks behind. That's how fast progress is. There never comes a time when a teacher ceases to be a student."

Soviets Get Surprise At Fashion Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Three of the Soviet Union's top fashion authorities learned about American glamor Friday, as they paid a surprise visit to the New York Dress Institute fall style showings here. They gazed with polite disbelief at bare-backed evening gowns and fabulous brocade dinner dresses.

Most of the 240 fashion editors here for the press week showings made a beeline for the Russians when they appeared in the ballroom during the Edward Abbott showing of strictly elegant day and evening fashions.

"We have things like that in Moscow, too," said Alexi Kulichev, bushy-haired director of the All-Union House of Fashion in Moscow, speaking through an interpreter, as he gazed open-mouthed at a black velvet backless dinner dress.

"But they are worn mostly by actresses," sniffed Lydia Dani-Lina, a Russian designer, who who proudly said she had designed the dress she was wearing, a somewhat nondescript brown crepe.

"We know high fashion, but in Moscow the need is for clothes for women who work, not social butterflies," said Clara Pobedinskaia, a young and attractive desgner, who also designed her own dress — a summer print with a permanently pleated skirt.

All three are in New York in connection with the Soviet exhibition at the Coliseum. All spoke through an interpreter.

The first two collections they saw — Edward Abbott and Branell — featured the king of middle-price-range fashions that most American women buy. But there was plenty of glamor in both.

Wilson Folmar, designer for Abbott, concentrates on "allure at a glance" in his current fall collection, highlights of which are backless sheaths of velvet, satin or brocade, and dresses with revealing tops and full "parachute" skirts.

Branell shows a wearable collection of suave daytime clothes, climaxed by a group of dazzling evening outfits, many in metallic brocades.

After the showings the Russians obligingly posed for pictures with one of the Branell models. With various editors who had been interviewing them, they sat down to a capitalist lunch, complete with more fashion shows.

New Benefits Are Granted City Workers

Granting its power and water plant employes a pay raise, the Monroe Utilities Commission has refused to convert the plant into a "labor shop," it was learned yesterday.

Commission chairman Travis Oliver Jr. said the Operating Engineers, a union, requested that the power plant employ "union men only."

When the commission refused, union representatives walked out on negotiations, Oliver said.

The commission granted 41 plant employes — the entire staff — a 5 to 9 per cent hourly pay raise and installed a new benefit program. Negotiations with the union were conducted throughout the week.

Turning to benefits offered by the Utilities Commission, Oliver listed them as:

1. Full pay for six months when injured on the job.
2. Full medical expenses when injured on the job.
3. Additional overtime benefits.
4. Additional paid time off to attend the funeral of the employe's family.

"Our employes already have the benefit of paid vacations, sick leave, jury pay and holiday pay," Oliver stated.

Returning to labor negotiations, Oliver said, "During the course of our negotiations we had offered to give substantial benefits not enjoyed by many employes in private industry."

"In the face of the union's walk-out, we have made immediately available to all of our employes the benefits which we have proposed as has been listed," he stated.

The pay raise went into effect Wednesday, Oliver said, and employes were briefed this morning on the new benefits.

DOCTORS BAN BOOK

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI)—A best-selling booklet on sex called "Getting Married" has been banned once and for all by the British Medical Association. Nearly 200,000 copies of the booklet have been sold, but its frank headlines and articles on sex and intimate marriage problem raised a storm of protest. One chapter was headed: "Is Chastity Outmoded? Outdated? Out?"

Rocket Bases Draw Blast From Soviet

SZCZECIN, Poland (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev charged Friday that aggressive circles want to establish rocket bases in Scandinavia to draw Soviet nuclear retaliation there instead of on themselves.

The Soviet Premier did not specify whom he meant by aggressive circles but the United States seemed an obvious target.

In a vigorous speech before about 10,000 Poles in this former German port city of Stettin, he also pledged armed Soviet defense of the border between East and West Germany.

Khrushchev also proclaimed his country's determination to fight against an attempt to take away from Communist Poland the territories it gained from Germany after World War II.

To dramatize this stand, Khrushchev was made an honorary citizen of Szczecin in a ceremony in the town hall.

Two weeks before he is to leave on a good-will tour through Scandinavian nations, Khrushchev took this occasion to warn those nations of possible destruction if rocket bases are established on their soil.

He said it is to the advantage of aggressive forces of certain states to have rocket bases in Scandinavia.

"Why?" he asked. "Simply because that if there are such bases there, those bases, in case of war, will attract counterblows of atomic and hydrogen bombs which will fall on those bases in those states. That means, to speak openly, that the politicians of certain states think that in this case 'the smaller number of bombs will fall on my state.'"

Concerning Germany he said, "The frontier which we will defends now between East Germany and West Germany. This is the frontier which divides the world of socialism and the world of capitalism and we will defend this frontier with all our strength."

Khrushchev looked suntanned and healthy, but at times showed signs of strain on the fifth day of a visit that has taken him from one end of Poland to the other.

He drove through Szczecin in an open 1948 model Buck and took a short cruise in Szczecin Harbor.

In his speech, he said again that the Soviet Union wants to solve all problems by negotiation, but that there are certain circles which want to continue international tension.

"Tesimony to this," he said, "is installation of American rocket bases on territories of other states, accelerated armament of West Germany and preparations to equip the West German army with atomic bombs."

MAJOR ISSUES LOOM

Agriculture Laws To Be Examined

Political hopefuls in Louisiana's upcoming state elections may get a preview of some major issues in the race when the influential Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation holds its annual convention in Monroe July 19-20.

Voting delegates and presidentstions will be meeting during the four day period to decide the policies which will govern the 25,000-member farmers organization for the next 12 months. Some of the major agricultural issues scheduled for consideration will concern legislative action on a trespass bill, dairy marketing, brucellosis eradication, changes in shrimping laws, and establishing standards for grading grains.

Among the controversial subjects on which the Farm Bureau delegates are expected to take a stand are the right-to-work issue and the state welfare program.

POLICIES

In deciding the policies concerning welfare, the voting delegates are expected to rely heavily on the findings of a special Farm Bureau committee which has just completed a six-month study of the Louisiana welfare program.

Some key items in national legislation also will be aired by the delegates, who will hear Sen. Allen J. Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation and Rep. Otto Passman of the Fifth Congressional District in the course of their deliverations.

The 61 parish presidents, who make up the Resolutions Committee for the state organization, will begin their work Sunday, July 19, at the Virginia Hotel, and continue through Monday. Senator Ellender will speak to the convention Monday night, with morning.

The convention schedule calls for the seating of the voting delegates from the parish Farm Bureaus on Tuesday, July 21, with special commodity conferences to follow during the day.

Final action of the voting delegates will come Wednesday following an address by AFBF President Shuman and the election of state officers and board members.

Nelson Eddy, noted stage and screen singer, was a newspaperman before turning to singing.

Paralytic Polio Warning Issued

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Surgeon General Leroy E. Buruney warned Friday that paralytic polio is on the upsurge and taking its heaviest toll among the unvaccinated.

Pointing up his warning, the Public Health Service reported that the nation's polio count climbed last week by 179 cases. Of these, 111 were paralytic.

The increase brought the total polio toll for the first 27 weeks of the year to 1,208 cases—791 of them of the crippling type.

The health service said the number of paralytic cases so far is more than double the 385 reported for the same period of 1958.

The total number of cases, including non-paralytic, at the same time last year was 754 cases.

Burney said nine out of 10 of the new polio cases have occurred among persons who have not had Salk vaccine shots. So far, about 70 million of 170 million Americans have had one or more of the anti-polio shots.

There have been three deaths from polio this year, all adult males.

"I cannot urge too strongly," Burney said, "the need for pushing ahead with the drive to vaccinate the unvaccinated. It is not too late either to start or complete the Salk shot series."

Five states accounted for more than half of last week's new polio cases. They were Texas with 31, of which 17 were paralytic, and Arkansas, 14; Iowa, 13, Alabama, 11 and Oklahoma 7, all of which were paralytic.

Missouri, which had had nine new cases the previous week, reported only four additional ones last week. Kansas had 11 and Ohio 10 but most of these were non-paralytic.

No polio was reported in the New England states.

Last week's 179 new cases compared with 174 the previous week and 104 for the same week of 1958. The number of paralytic cases in each instance was 111, 105 and 56.

On a percentage basis, the health service said, about 65 per cent of the total number of cases so far this year have been paralytic, compared with 51 per cent in the same period of 1958 and 42 per cent in 1957.

Caddy Faces 16 Years In Prison After Robbery

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (UPI) — A golf caddy faced 16 years in prison on Friday for beating and robbing greenskeeper Hansel (Hank) Karnes, brother-in-law of professional golfer Sam Snead.

Gordon Baker, 29, told circuit Judge Earl L. Abbott that he attacked Karnes because he "needed some quick money to pay some bills."

Karnes, who works at the Cascades Course here, said Baker beat him with a stock and robbed him of about $120 last June 3. He was cutting grass at the 6th green of the course when the attack occurred.

Ninety stitches were required to close cuts on Karnes' face, head and chest.

Karnes is a brother of Snead's wife.

Baker was sentenced Thursday.

Copies Of Booklet To Be Destroyed

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — British doctors have decided to destroy 50,000 copies of a sex-instruction booklet that is fetching 10 times its original price in black market dealings.

The British Medical Assn. withdrew "Getting Married," a one-shilling—14-cent—paperback booklet from newsstands last March after a storm of protest from church leaders.

Among questions "Getting Married" posed:

"Is chastity outmoded, outdated, out?"

"So you're getting married?

During the four days the booklet was available it sold 200,000 copies. Another 50,000 were withdrawn.

Doctors meeting Thursday voted 175-144 to keep their remaining copies out of circulation. Now they will be destroyed. The vote represented a narrow victory for Dr. Wolomon Wand, BMA Council chairman who originally ordered the book's withdrawal.

"Although we know that moral laxity exists, both the medium and the purpose of an educational pamphlet have to be considered," he told the assembly.

"This one purported to give advice to single men and women at the most unstable moment of their lives—advice apparently tendered by 70,000 British doctors.

"I take full responsibility for my action in suspending publication. If I were asked to do the same thing tomorrow I would do it."

In the controversial article on chastity, Dr. Eustace Chesser, a prominent London psychologist, contended the individual citizen should have the right to choose between being chaste or unchaste.

Chesser claimed one woman in three in Britain admits to premarital sexual intercourse. One in 20 births are known to be illegitimate. One in eight would have been but for subsequent marriage of the parents. One is six of all babies is conceived ahead of marriage.

"Do these figures mean that chastity is outmoded?" Chesser asked. "I doubt it, but it cannot be denied we are moving in that direction.

"Premarital sexual intercourse, despite the fact that it is a limited relationship, can also be more than ordinarily pleasant. True chastity can only come from within ourselves. Which means it is we who must be free to make the choice."

Pale Sox Break Up Terry's No-Hitter, Beat Yanks, 2-0

NEW YORK (AP) — The first-place Chicago White Sox, blanked without a hit for eight innings, beat young Ralph Terry and the New York Yankees 2-0 Friday night on Jim Landis' bases-loaded single in the ninth.

Early Wynn allowed the Yankees only two hits for his 261st career victory.

Wynn, 39, had allowed only one hit—Terry's disputed infield single in the sixth inning—before the ninth. Norm Siebern opened the ninth for the Yankees with a single, but Mickey Mantle then grounded into a doubleplay.

Wynn retired Yogi Berra on a pop up to end it for his 12th victory against six defeats.

Rookie Jim McAnany singled through the box leading off the ninth for the White Sox' first hit. Wynn then laid down a bunt, and Terry's throw to second was too late to nail McAnany. Luis Aparicio sacrificed the runners to third and second, and Fox received an intentional walk to load the bases.

Landis then broke it up—after Berra was unable to catch his foul tip on a 1-2 pitch—knifing a single to right that scored McAnanay and Wynn.

The White Sox, retaining their one-game American League lead over Cleveland, backed Wynn with superb fielding throughout.

Landis made a running, one-hand stab of Mantle's 430-foot drive to center in the fourth. Al Smith made a belly - whopping catch of Enos Slaughter's fly to left in the fifth. And Fox went behind second base for a fine play on Gil McDougald's grounder in the fifth.

Terry, 23, pitching only his fourth complete game in a dozen starts this season, faced 25 men —one over the minimum—through eight innings. He gave up three walks in that span, two to Earl Torgeson, who was the only White Sox runner to reach second until the ninth inning.

Torgy got there in the fifth, when Smith grounded to third on a hit and run. Torgeson also walked in the eighth, but was doubled up when Smith's liner was snared by third baseman Hector Lopez.

Smith received Terry's other walk, with two out in the second inning.

Only two Yankees had reached base against Wynn until Terry was called safe by first base Umpire Ed Rommel leading off the back-hand stop of Terry's grounder, but his throw reached first on one bounce.

With two out in the sixth, Wynn walked Mantle. But then he got out of the jam by getting Berra on a fly to left.

Wynn, breaking a tie with Ted Lyons for No. 20 on the all-time list of winners in the majors, struck out one, as did Terry, and walked two.

The Yankees, still fourth, but now 6½ games behind the White Sox, put two men on base in the first inning when McAnany was hit in the groin by Mantle's liner to right, and Berra walked. Lopez flied out to end the inning.

McAnany, incidentally, is batting .392 for the White Sox in 14 games since coming up from Indianapolis of the American Assn.

SPAHN BEATEN

Cardinals Stun Milwaukee, 4-3

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals stunned old nemesis Warren Spahn with a two-run rally in the eighth inning capped by rookie Gene Oliver's game-winning single for a 4-3 victory over the staggering Milwaukee Braves Friday night.

Spahn was rolling along in unstoppable fashion against his favorite victims when the Red Birds struck with two out and none on. Ken Boyer singled, Joe Cunningham scored him with a long double to left center and Oliver stroked a single to hand the Braves their fourth loss in a row and make Spahn's record 11-10.

The 38-year-old Brave ace was seeking his 54th victory over St. Louis. Instead his lifetime record now is 53-31 against the Cards.

Lind McDaniel struck out four in the last two innings to get the victory, his eighth against 10 defeats.

After Oliver singled, Spahn walked Hal Smith and was lifted. Don McMahon walked Alex Gammas to load the bases but fanned McDaniel to end the rally.

It was the sixth defeat in eight games for the Braves since the All-Star Game interlude and left them three games from the top.

The Braves bombed starter Larry Jackson for two runs and a 3-1 lead in the third. Eddie Mathews led off with a triple. Hank Aaron by Don Blasingame's triple and Bill White's run-scoring double.

Spahn missed tagging first base for an error on Gino Cimoli's grounder in the third, White singled him to third and he scored on Cunningham's foul fly.

rifled a double and Frank Torre doubled, scoring Aaron.

MCMULLEN, O'CONNER HOMER

Dubach Bombed By Sports, 22-2

Ike McMullen and John O'Conner socked home runs and batted in nine runs between them to power the Monroe Sports to a 22-2 runaway victory over Dubach in a La-Ark League contest here last night.

Righthander Carroll George hurled three-hit ball and set the Hornets down without a run until the sixth inning. Curtis Tubbs, the first of a trio of Dubach flingers, was charged with the loss after being shelled for ten runs in four innings.

O'Conner drove in five runs on a home run, a single and an infield out. He smashed a two-run circuit clout inside the park in the three-run fourth which helped finish Tubbs.

McMullen's poke was a mightier one, a 330-foot blast over the right field wall with the bases filled in the sixth inning. Ike, equipped with spectacles — but minus lenses — parked the ball over the fence and into the Little League park outfield.

The Sports upped their league lead a half game over idle West Monroe. It was the 15th win of the year for Monroe against one loss, that coming at the hands at Dubach.

Monroe scored in every inning but started off slow, picking up a single tally in the first, adding three more in the second, third and fourth, and erupting for nine in the fifth.

George picked up his second win of the year without a loss and didn't allow a hit until the fourth inning. Melvin Fuller broke the ice for Dubach with a looping double to center in the fourth and slammed another double in the sixth to score the first Hornet run. He rode home on a sacrifice fly by Tom Colvin to finish the invaders' scoring.

Monroe collected 17 hits and manager Bob Carter almost cleared the bench in an effort to hold down the score. Even George, supposedly weak with the stick as a pitcher, belted three hits, two of which came in the same inning.

Eddie McGowan and James Mock each had 2-2, including a triple. Tommy Crowe, who came in the game in the fourth frame, and McGowan drove in three runs apiece.

Homer Sends Phillies Over Dodgers, 3-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harry Anderson hit his 11th home run of the season Friday night to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-2 victory over the second - place Los Angeles Dodgers.

Anderson sent a pitch by righthander Roger Craig over the right field wall in the seventh inning to break a 2-2 tie.

The Dodgers threatened to tie it in the top of the eighth when right fielder Norm Larker tripled with none out. But Jim Ownes, who earned his fifth win, retired the next three Dodgers in order.

Craig and Art Fowler, who came in to pitch for the Dodgers in the eighth, scattered four hits, including three singles and Anderson's home run. Owens gave up 10 hits but left 10 Dodgers on base. It was Craig's first loss of the year. He's won four.

Big hitters for the Dodgers were Larker, who had a single, double and triple, and second baseman Charlie Neal, who collected a double and a triple.

The Phillies got their first run in the second inning. A single by Lonnett scored Gene Freese from second base. Their second run came in the sixth on a single by Ed Bouchee, scoring Solly Drake.

Indians Survive Red Sox Rally To Post 8-7 Victory

BOSTON (AP)—Cleveland held on desperately against a ninth inning Boston Red Sox onslaught Friday night to salvage a rhubarb-filled 8-7 victory that kept the Indians on Chicago's heels in the American League race.

Gary Bell fanned pinch hitter Bobby Avila with the tying run on second base to end the zany contest before 26,432 fans at Fenway Park.

The Indians, by winning, remained a game behind the White Sox who replaced them atop the American League standings. But for Cleveland, breaking a three-game losing streak, it was a tough struggle.

Leading 8-1 after 6½ innings, the Indians saw rookie Bobby Locke, the eventual winner, chased by three runs, two of them on a Marty Keough homer.

The Red Sox came up with three more in the ninth. Jackie Jensen doubled across one and Gene Stephens singled for the others.

Bell was summoned to relieve Jim Perry and was greeetd by the Stephens drive to right.

Frank Malzone singled Stephens to second but Avila batted for Sammy White and looked at a third strike.

Rocky Colavito drilled his 29th homer into the left field screen for Cleveland in the third inning after Boston errors played a part in two-run outbursts by the visitors in each of the first two frames.

Indians' Manager Joe Gordon and outfielder Minnie Minoso were chased by the cmpires in a frantic eighth inning.

With Woody Held on a second and Vic Power on first, Tito Francona hit a grounder to second baseman Herb Plews who grabbed the ball, made a tag at Power running by and then dropped the ball. Second base umpire Jim Honochick ruled Power was out for interference and ordered Held back to second.

After a lengthy argument, plate Umpire Frank Umont thumbed out Gordon.

The count was 1-1 on Minoso when the argument flared again as the Cleveland bench was a bedlam of catcalls and cavorting.

With Minoso out of the box, Boston's Leo Kiely fired two pitches over the plate. Umont called them strikes and Minnie blew his top. He threw his bat along the ground with a furious swing and Umont had to leap in the air to avoid being hit. Colavito, Vic Power and Coach Red Kress forcibly restrained Minoso from charging the umpire.

Locke, a 25-year-old right-hander, was credited with his first major league triumph.

LEGION FINALS

Ruston, Monroe To Clash Today

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Ruston's T. L. James Contractors, some of their luster dimmed after narrowly edging West Monroe in the semi-finals, host Monroe's Brown-Rivers-Scogin nine at 3 this afternoon here in the first game of their best-of-three American Legion baseball district finals.

The scene will shift to Monroe's Legion Stadium for the second game Monday and also the third game, if necessary.

Ruston, which had only a forfeit loss to Oak Grove to mar its record in regular season, lost the first game of its series to West Monroe, 3-1, in 10 innings but bounced back to take the second, 14-8.

The regular season pennant winners squeezed past fourth place West Monroe, 3-2, in the final game to gain a finals berth.

Monroe, meanwhile, easily swept past third place Oak Grove with two straight wins to nail down the other spot in the fifth district finals.

However, Ruston remains a heavy favorite to retain the district title they won from Monroe's defending state champions in 1958 on the strength of two regular season wins, the only two defeats suffered by Red Sims' club.

Jackie Moreland will probably start John Porter, who lost the first game of the semi-finals, against Monroe. Sims will probably counter with one of his three top pitchers, righthanders Neal Gunn and Bob Saterfield or lefty L. M. Welch.

Ronnie Marrus and Max Lewis, the regular third baseman, picked up the Ruston wins over West Monroe but outfielder John Bailey got most of the pitching laurels. He preserved both wins with excellent relief work.

Ruston went on to finish second in the state last season and has most of the players back from that outfit. Monroe finished second in the district last year.

Recreation Softball

Jack Hollingsworth lost his no-hitter and a 3-0 lead in the top of the 7th but Tom Gibbons drove in the winning run with a triple in the bottom of the frame to give the West Monroe Lions Club a 4-3 nod over the National Guard in the West Monroe Adult League. Two errors and one hit scored three runs for the Guard to tie it up in the top of the 7th.

St. Paschal's edged First Christian, 9-8, with Joe Jacola the winner over McKeithen in a Church "A" contest last night. Bryan hit two home runs to head the winners' attack while M. Wroten got 2-4 for the losers. Temple beat Trinity, 11-9, as Foust bested Walker. Walker got 2-2 for the losers and Fletcher hit 2-3 for Temple. Ronnie Gallien homered as West Monroe Baptist beat Victory, 6-3. Slater and Farmer won over McGough.

McBeth got 3-3 with a homer to pace Emmanuel to its 11th win against six defeats, a 15-8 rout of Stone Avenue. McDonald and Plunkett was the winning battery over Cummins and Crawford. Bowen contributed 3-4 for Emmanuel and Grimsley got the same for Stone.

In the Junior League, West Monroe Baptist beat Gordon Avenue, 14-8, and Trinity beat College Place by forfeit. Kincaid and Duckley beat Hudson and Stokes and White of the winners and Gordy of Gordon each got 2-4.

L.T.I. edged Ouachita Band, 11-10, in the Senior circuit and West Monroe Baptist forfeited to the Speedsters. Vauclin got 2-4 for L.T.I. while losing pitcher Wyatt had the same for the bandsmen. Perkins and Daigle was the winning battery.

Youth, Alhambra Shaken Up In Hollywood Spill

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Exercise boy Ross Fenstermaker suffered a broken leg and Alhambra, a swift sprinter owned by Fred Hooper, was shaken up in a spill at Hollywood Park Friday.

The horse shied when another crossed in front during a workout. The rider was thrown and Alhambra, tangled in his reins, fell.

Alhambra apparently was not hurt. He was flown here to run in the Lakes and Flowers Handicap Monday after winning the Arch Ward Memorial Handicap in Chicago last Saturday.

NEW YORK (AP) — The first-place Chicago White Sox, blanked without a hit for eight innings, beat young Ralph Terry and the New York Yankees 2-0 Friday night on Jim Landis' bases-loaded single in the ninth.

Early Wynn allowed the Yankees only two hits for his 261st career victory.

Wynn, 39, had allowed only one hit—Terry's disputed infield single in the sixth inning—before the ninth. Norm Siebern opened the ninth for the Yankees with a single, but Mickey Mantle then grounded into a doubleplay.

Wynn retired Yogi Berra on a pop up to end it for his 12th victory against six defeats.

Rookie Jim McAnany singled through the box leading off the ninth for the White Sox' first hit. Wynn then laid down a bunt, and Terry's throw to second was too late to nail McAnany. Luis Aparicio sacrificed the runners to third and second, and Fox received an intentional walk to load the bases.

Landis then broke it up—after Berra was unable to catch his foul tip on a 1-2 pitch—knifing a single to right that scored McAnanay and Wynn.

The White Sox, retaining their one-game American League lead over Cleveland, backed Wynn with superb fielding throughout.

Landis made a running, one-hand stab of Mantle's 430-foot drive to center in the fourth. Al Smith made a belly - whopping catch of Enos Slaughter's fly to left in the fifth. And Fox went behind second base for a fine play on Gil McDougald's grounder in the fifth.

Terry, 23, pitching only his fourth complete game in a dozen starts this season, faced 25 men—one over the minimum—through eight innings. He gave up three walks in that span, two to Earl Torgeson, who was the only White Sox runner to reach second until the ninth inning.

Torgy got there in the fifth, when Smith grounded to third on a hit and run. Torgeson also walked in the eighth, but was doubled up when Smith's liner was snared by third baseman Hector Lopez.

Smith received Terry's other walk, with two out in the second inning.

Only two Yankees had reached base against Wynn until Terry was called safe by first base Umpire Ed Rommel leading off the back-hand stop of Terry's grounder, but his throw reached first on one bounce.

With two out in the sixth, Wynn walked Mantle. But then he got out of the jam by getting Berra on a fly to left.

Wynn, breaking a tie with Ted Lyons for No. 20 on the all-time list of winners in the majors, struck out one, as did Terry, and walked two.

The Yankees, still fourth, but now 6½ games behind the White Sox, put two men on base in the first inning when McAnany was hit in the groin by Mantle's liner to right, and Berra walked. Lopez flied out to end the inning.

McAnany, incidentally, is batting .392 for the White Sox in 14 games since coming up from Indianapolis of the American Assn.

SPAHN BEATEN

Cardinals Stun Milwaukee, 4-3

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals stunned old nemesis Warren Spahn with a two-run rally in the eighth inning capped by rookie Gene Oliver's game-winning single for a 4-3 victory over the staggering Milwaukee Braves Friday night.

Spahn was rolling along in unstoppable fashion against his favorite victims when the Red Birds struck with two out and none on. Ken Boyer singled, Joe Cunningham scored him with a long double to left center and Oliver stroked a single to hand the Braves their fourth loss in a row and make Spahn's record 11-10.

The 38-year-old Brave ace was seeking his 54th victory over St. Louis. Instead his lifetime record now is 53-31 against the Cards.

Lind McDaniel struck out four in the last two innings to get the victory, his eighth against 10 defeats.

After Oliver singled, Spahn walked Hal Smith and was lifted. Don McMahon walked Alex Gammas to load the bases but fanned McDaniel to end the rally.

It was the sixth defeat in eight games for the Braves since the All-Star Game interlude and left them three games from the top.

The Braves bombed starter Larry Jackson for two runs and a 3-1 lead in the third. Eddie Mathews led off with a triple. Hank Aaron by Don Blasingame's triple and Bill White's run-scoring double.

Spahn missed tagging first base for an error on Gino Cimoli's grounder in the third, White singled him to third and he scored on Cunningham's foul fly. rifled a double and Frank Torre doubled, scoring Aaron.

MCMULLEN, O'CONNER HOMER

Dubach Bombed By Sports, 22-2

Ike McMullen and John O'Conner socked home runs and batted in nine runs between them to power the Monroe Sports to a 22-2 runaway victory over Dubach in a La-Ark League contest here last night.

Righthander Carroll George hurled three-hit ball and set the Hornets down without a run until the sixth inning. Curtis Tubbs, the first of a trio of Dubach flingers, was charged with the loss after being shelled for ten runs in four innings.

O'Conner drove in five runs on a home run, a single and an infield out. He smashed a two-run circuit clout inside the park in the three-run fourth which helped finish Tubbs.

McMullen's poke was a mightier one, a 330-foot blast over the right field wall with the bases filled in the sixth inning. Ike, equipped with spectacles — but minus lenses — parked the ball over the fence and into the Little League park outfield.

The Sports upped their league lead a half game over idle West Monroe. It was the 15th win of the year for Monroe against one loss, that coming at the hands at Dubach.

Monroe scored in every inning but started off slow, picking up a single tally in the first, adding three more in the second, third and fourth, and erupting for nine in the fifth.

George picked up his second win of the year without a loss and didn't allow a hit until the fourth inning. Melvin Fuller broke the ice for Dubach with a looping double to center in the fourth and slammed another double in the sixth to score the first Hornet run. He rode home on a sacrifice fly by Tom Colvin to finish the invaders' scoring.

Monroe collected 17 hits and manager Bob Carter almost cleared the bench in an effort to hold down the score. Even George, supposedly weak with the stick as a pitcher, belted three hits, two of which came in the same inning.

Eddie McGowan and James Mock each had 2-2, including a triple. Tommy Crowe, who came in the game in the fourth frame, and McGowan drove in three runs apiece.

Homer Sends Phillies Over Dodgers, 3-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harry Anderson hit his 11th home run of the season Friday night to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-2 victory over the second - place Los Angeles Dodgers.

Anderson sent a pitch by righthander Roger Craig over the right field wall in the seventh inning to break a 2-2 tie.

The Dodgers threatened to tie it in the top of the eighth when right fielder Norm Larker tripled with none out. But Jim Ownes, who earned his fifth win, retired the next three Dodgers in order.

Craig and Art Fowler, who came in to pitch for the Dodgers in the eighth, scattered four hits, including three singles and Anderson's home run. Owens gave up 10 hits but left 10 Dodgers on base. It was Craig's first loss of the year. He's won four.

Big hitters for the Dodgers were Larker, who had a single, double and triple, and second baseman Charlie Neal, who collected a double and a triple.

The Phillies got their first run in the second inning. A single by Lonnett scored Gene Freese from second base. Their second run came in the sixth on a single by Ed Bouchee, scoring Solly Drake.

Indians Survive Red Sox Rally To Post 8-7 Victory

BOSTON (AP)—Cleveland held on desperately against a ninth inning Boston Red Sox onslaught Friday night to salvage a rhubarb-filled 8-7 victory that kept the Indians on Chicago's heels in the American League race.

Gary Bell fanned pinch hitter Bobby Avila with the tying run on second base to end the zany contest before 26,432 fans at Fenway Park.

The Indians, by winning, remained a game behind the White Sox who replaced them atop the American League standings. But for Cleveland, breaking a three-game losing streak, it was a tough struggle.

Leading 8-1 after 6½ innings, the Indians saw rookie Bobby Locke, the eventual winner, chased by three runs, two of them on a Marty Keough homer.

The Red Sox came up with three more in the ninth. Jackie Jensen doubled across one and Gene Stephens singled for the others.

Bell was summoned to relieve Jim Perry and was greeetd by the Stephens drive to right.

Frank Malzone singled Stephens to second but Avila batted for Sammy White and looked at a third strike.

Rocky Colavito drilled his 29th homer into the left field screen for Cleveland in the third inning after Boston errors played a part in two-run outbursts by the visitors in each of the first two frames.

Indians' Manager Joe Gordon and outfielder Minnie Minoso were chased by the empires in a frantic eighth inning.

With Woody Held on a second and Vic Power on first, Tito Francona hit a grounder to second baseman Herb Plews who grabbed the ball, made a tag at Power running by and then dropped the ball. Second base umpire Jim Honochick ruled Power was out for interference and ordered Held back to second.

After a lengthy argument, plate Umpire Frank Umont thumbed out Gordon.

The count was 1-1 on Minoso when the argument flared again as the Cleveland bench was a bedlam of catcalls and cavorting.

With Minoso out of the box, Boston's Leo Kiely fired two pitches over the plate. Umont called them strikes and Minnie blew his top. He threw his bat along the ground with a furious swing and Umont had to leap in the air to avoid being hit. Colavito, Vic Power and Coach Red Kress forcibly restrained Minoso from charging the umpire.

Locke, a 25-year-old right-hander, was credited with his first major league triumph.

LEGION FINALS

Ruston, Monroe To Clash Today

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Ruston's T. L. James Contractors, some of their luster dimmed after narrowly edging West Monroe in the semi-finals, host Monroe's Brown-Rivers-Scogin nine at 3 this afternoon here in the first game of their best-of-three American Legion baseball district finals.

The scene will shift to Monroe's Legion Stadium for the second game Monday and also the third game, if necessary.

Ruston, which had only a forfeit loss to Oak Grove to mar its record in regular season, lost the first game of its series to West Monroe, 3-1, in 10 innings but bounced back to take the second, 14-8.

The regular season pennant winners squeezed past fourth place West Monroe, 3-2, in the final game to gain a finals berth.

Monroe, meanwhile, easily swept past third place Oak Grove with two straight wins to nail down the other spot in the fifth district finals.

However, Ruston remains a heavy favorite to retain the district title they won from Monroe's defending state champions in 1958 on the strength of two regular season wins, the only two defeats suffered by Red Sims' club.

Jackie Moreland will probably start John Porter, who lost the first game of the semi-finals, against Monroe. Sims will probably counter with one of his three top pitchers, righthanders Neal Gunn and Bob Saterfield or lefty L. M. Welch.

Ronnie Marrus and Max Lewis, the regular third baseman, picked up the Ruston wins over West Monroe but outfielder John Bailey got most of the pitching laurels. He preserved both wins with excellent relief work.

Ruston went on to finish second in the state last season and has most of the players back from that outfit. Monroe finished second in the district last year.

Recreation Softball

Jack Hollingsworth lost his no-hitter and a 3-0 lead in the top of the 7th but Tom Gibbons drove in the winning run with a triple in the bottom of the frame to give the West Monroe Lions Club a 4-3 nod over the National Guard in the West Monroe Adult League. Two errors and one hit scored three runs for the Guard to tie it up in the top of the 7th.

St. Paschal's edged First Christian, 9-8, with Joe Jacola the winner over McKeithen in a Church "A" contest last night. Bryan hit two home runs to head the winners' attack while M. Wroten got 2-4 for the losers. Temple beat Trinity, 11-9, as Foust bested Walker. Walker got 2-2 for the losers and Fletcher hit 2-3 for Temple. Ronnie Gallien homered as West Monroe Baptist beat Victory, 6-3. Slater and Farmer won over McGough.

McBeth got 3-3 with a homer to pace Emmanuel to its 11th win against six defeats, a 15-8 rout of Stone Avenue. McDonald and Plunkett was the winning battery over Cummins and Crawford. Bowen contributed 3-4 for Emmanuel and Grimsley got the same for Stone.

In the Junior League, West Monroe Baptist beat Gordon Avenue, 14-8, and Trinity beat College Place by forfeit. Kincaid and Duckley beat Hudson and Stokes and White of the winners and Gordy of Gordon each got 2-4.

L.T.I. edged Ouachita Band, 11-10, in the Senior circuit and West Monroe Baptist forfeited to the Speedsters. Vauclin got 2-4 for L.T.I. while losing pitcher Wyatt had the same for the bandsmen. Perkins and Daigle was the winning battery.

Youth, Alhambra Shaken Up In Hollywood Spill

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Exercise boy Ross Fenstermaker suffered a broken leg and Alhambra, a swift sprinter owned by Fred Hooper, was shaken up in a spill at Hollywood Park Friday.

The horse shied when another crossed in front during a workout. The rider was thrown and Alhambra, tangled in his reins, fell.

Littler Continues Hot Subpar Pace

By LOU BLACK

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Gene Littler's sizzling golf matched the weather here Friday. He fired a 5-under-par 66 for a 36-hole total of 130 to increase his lead at the halfway mark in the $25,000 Insurance City Open Golf Tournament.

Littler, whose first round 64 yesterday gave him a two-stroke edge, was five strokes in front of his nearest challengers after the second round.

They were Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., and Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, each with 135.

Littler, former National Amateur champion, toured the par-71 Wethersfield Country Club 6,548-yard course in 31-35. His round included six birdies and one bogie.

He was 12 strokes under par at this point in the tournament.

Littler, who will be 29 next Tuesday, started off sensationally this afternoon with two birdies. He picked up two more just before reaching the turn in 31.

Gene birdied the 10th and canned a short putt for another birdie on the 18th to climax his exciting game.

As in his opening round, the 5-9, 167-pound Littler needed only 29 putts. They included a birdie 15-footer on the 168-yard fifth and a birdie 20-footer on the 356-yard eighth.

He missed one from three feet for par on the 374-yard 12th hole, his only bad hole in the two rounds.

Crampton, former Australian Open champion, and Goalby, a veteran of the pro circuit, were five strokes off the pace but playing good golf. The only trouble was that Littler was playing better.

More than 5,000 fans followed and thrilled at the magic of his putting and other clubs. With two more days to go the tourney has settled down to Littler against the field.

The cool, calculating Littler doesn't mind. "I like to lead," he said.

Furillo Sees 4-Club Race For NL Flag

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Any one of the current top four clubs could win the National League pennant, and that includes the Los Angeles Dodgers.

A sidelined Dodger star, Carl Furillo, so predicted Friday as he puttered around his home at Manhattan Beach, marking time until he can rejoin the team.

The 37-year-old outfielder, one of the all-time heroes of the old guard Dodgers, spiked speculation that he would meet the club when it moves into San Francisco Monday.

He tore the muscles in his left leg in a game against the Giants here June 29.

"The doctor says it will be at least 10 days before I can think about playing. My leg still feels like a balloon full of water," he explained.

He added it would take more time to play himself back into the form he had reached when the mishap occurred—the second to hit him this season.

Furillo was batting a lusty .328, second now to Jim Gilliam's .336 on the club.

Carl said he is working the leg out each day, taking whirlpool treatment "and everything else to get it back in shape."

As for the pennant race, he declared:

"Any of the first four clubs could win it. The first one that gets a break, a winning streak going, can do it.

"We could do it. We've got a good chance. But we've got to win the big games. Any time a seventh place club beats us, man, that hurts. You can't lose those ball games."

Furillo referred to the two important games the club lost to Cincinnati July 12-13.

"Understand, I'm not second guessing anyone. But those hurt," he concluded.

Fay Crocker In Alliance Tourney Lead

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Fay Crocker of Montivideo, Uruguay, fired a one-under par 70 Friday for a 141 total and a two-stroke lead at the halfway mark in the $12,500 Alliance International Golf Tournament for women.

The 44-year-old, 155-pound South American held a two-stroke edge over veteran Patty Berg, St. Andrews, Ill., who add a 72 to her opening round 71. A stroke back at 144 was 5 - foot - 3 inch, 110-pound Marlene Hagge, Pittsburgh, who limped in with a par 71 and said: "My feet hurt and I'm tired."

Wright Beats Essig To Gain Meet Finals

DENVER (AP) — Bill Wright, Seattle's putting sensation, defeated Don Essig III, the 1957 champion 1-up and Frank Campbell of Jacksonville, Fla., crushed San Fransisco patrolman Bill McCool 3 and 1 in Friday's 36-hole semifinals of the National Public Links Golf Toornament.

Campbell, 38, an insurance agent, and Wright, 23, Negro collegian, play 36 holes Saturday over the 6,617-yard par 71 Wellshire Course for the championship. Defending champion Dan Sikes Jr., Jacksonville law student, lost in the second round.

Wright, never trailing after the seventh hole, had 23 one - putt greens in a performance that Essig said "was just unbeatable. How can you win against putting like that." Essig, 20, Indianapolis, is a student at Louisiana State.

Wright, closed out the match on the 18th with a typical 12 - foot putt for a birdie 4 after Essig's putt for an eagle missed by one inch.

Wright, off the tee and overshooting with his irons at times, more than made up for it with his long putts. On the first nine this morning, for example, he hit trees on three holes and yet scored two birdies.

Campbell, shooting par golf over the morning 18, built a 2-up lead and widened the margin to four up by taking the 25th and 26th holes. He won the 25th when McCool, having putter trouble all day, missed a four footer. McCool went out of bounds back of the green on 26 to allow Campbell to go four up.

Ceccarelli's 6-Hitter Stops Cincinnati, 1-0

CHICAGO (AP)—Southpaw Art Ceccarelli turned his second National League start into his second victory as he blanked Cincinnati on six hits and scored the run in the Chicago Cubs' 1-0 triumph Friday.

The 29-year-old Ceccarelli, recalled from Fort Worth of the American Assn. 10 days ago, walked six and fanned but one to give the Cubs their fourth straight victory and sixth in seven games. They moved over the .500 mark at 45-44.

Bob Purkey suffered his 10th loss — third to Chicago — against eight victories. Purkey gave up seven hits.

The Cubs scored in the fifth. Catcher Sammy Taylor opened with a single, but was forced at second on Ceccarelli's sacrifice attempt. Tony Taylor bunted for a single and the pitcher moved to second.

The Reds, dropping their sixth of 11 games to Chicago, left 12 runners stranded in Cincinnati's first game here since Freddie Hutchinson replaced Mayo Smith as manager.

Duck Season Not Set Yet For La.

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

A misleading report from Washington has Louisiana duck hunters pulling their hair.

To sum up the confusion quickly, a wire story announced that the federal government has set the waterfowl frame-work for the coming season at Sept. 1 to Dec. 3.

What the report failed to mention was that the September to December duck season is for Alaska — not Louisiana and her sister states located in the Mississippi Flyway.

In short, the framework for Louisiana and the Mississippi Flyway has not been determined.

That will come at a meeting in Washington Aug. 4-5 with the Department of the Interior handing down the decision. The Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission then will have 10 days to set the Louisiana season.

Under federal regulations, the framework must be announced at least 30 days prior to the season, which explains the early announcement for the State of Alaska.

When contacted in New Orleans yesterday, Louisiana wildlife officials said a letter from Director Rudolph P. Easterly recommending a framework would be presented to the federal government.

At present, the Louisiana commission apparently has no plans of sending a representative to the Washington meeting. However, Tom Evans, chief of the game division for the State of Illinois, will represent the Mississippi Flyway.

Easterly said yesterday that Louisiana has been notified that a reduction in either the season or bag limit can be expected.

A 30-day season has been mentioned. So has the possibility of reducing the bag to two ducks.

Louisiana would go for a 30-day season or reduction in the number of days rather than a cutback in the bag limit.

Still, the outlook for the coming duck season is gloomy.

Meanwhile, the Louisiana department currently is in the process of setting the dove season. The framework handed down by the federal government was as follows:

Within the September 1-January 15 framework, all states east of the Mississippi River, and Arkansas and Louisiana, may submit recommendations for hunting seasons that conform to the following conditions:

1. Hunting only between the hours of noon to sunset.
2. 65 consecutive half-days.
3. Or two periods totaling 65 half - days.

'Beisbol' Game Baffles Reds

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — This game of "beisbol," which they invented, continues to baffle the Russians.

Soviet track and field athletes here for a dual meet with the American squad sat through two innings of the San Francisco-Philadelphia doubleheader Thursday night, and came up with questions showing their bewilderment.

Such questions as:

What are baseballs made of?

What do they weigh?

Is the infield made that way intentionally or is it because people have worn the grass out running on it so much?

What happens if a member of a team that is batting catches the ball?

They didn't try to find out about the great American institution—the hot dog. Photographers insisted they pose with the delicacy. But they weren't hungry enough to nibble on them.

YANK MEN FAVORED

American, Russian Track Stars Vie In Philadelphia

By TED SMITS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The United States and Russia clash Saturday in a dual meet that brings together most of the world's best men and women in track and field.

America is favored to win in the men's events and Russia in the women's in the two-day competition which, with good weather, should draw 40,000 each day to Franklin Field.

The forecast for the week end is good. Rain has fallen off and on most of the week but stopped Thursday.

This is the first time Russia has sent a track team to the United States. Last year in Moscow in the first meeting of the two national teams the U.S. men won 126-109 but the Russian women triumphed 63-44. Russia insisted on combining the two scores for a Soviet victory of 172-170.

The powerful Russian team includes such stars as Igor Kashkarov, who has high jumped 7 feet ½ inch; Vasily Kuznetsov, who has bettered the world record in the decathlon; and Igor Ter-Ovanesyan, a 26 - foot broad jumper.

The United States is counting on veteran aces Harold Connolly in the hammer, Al Oerter in the discus, Greg Bell in the broad jump, and Parry O'Brien in the shot—all Olympic champions—together with such sensational youngsters as Ray Norton in the sprints, Tom Murphy in the 800, and Al Cantello, who recently threw the javelin 282-3½ to better the world record.

In the women's events the United States is looking to Earlene Brown in the weights, Isabelle Daniels in the 200, and Wilma Rudolph in the 100 for points.

One of the blue ribbon events should be the pole vault. Russia has a 15-foot pole vaulter in Vladimir Bulatov, but the USA's Don Bragg, who set a world indoor record at 15-9½, should stop him.

The high jump brings together three men who have bettered the magic seven foot mark — Kashkarov and his teammate, Yuri Stepanov, pitted against Charlie Dumas of the United States.

The United States might surprise in the distances with Bill Dellinger in the 5,000 and Dyrol Burleson in the 1,500.

Powerful as is the American team, some of the best of the nation's stars are sidelined by injuries, including Bobby Morrow, the Olympic 100 and 200 - meter champion; Rafer Johnson, who beat Kuznetsov last year in Moscow in the decathlon in the most thrilling event of the meet; John Thomas, who set a world record in the high jump at 7-1¼; and Glenn Davis, world record holder in the 400-meter hurdles.

Opening ceremonies Saturday are at 2 p.m., EST, but competition starts in the broad jump at 1:40 p.m. in order to give Russia's Ter-Ovanesyan a chance to compete in both this event and the decathlon. NBC is televising Sunday's competition from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m., EST. The meet is sponsored by the Philadelphia Inquirer Charities in conjunction with the Amateur Athletic Union.

Whitney Reed Enters Finals On Clay Court

CHICAGO (AP)—Whitney Reed, NCAA champion, ended the upstart antics of young fellow Californian Larry Nagler Friday to enter the finals of the National Clay Court Tennis Tournament.

Reed huffed and puffed and finally blew down the steady-stroking game of his slightly built opponent 6-4, 7-5, 1-6, 9-7 in a semifinals marathon at suburban River Forest Tennis Club.

Reed, 26, of San Jose State College and a resident of Alameda, earned the questionable privilege of meeting the winner of Saturday's semifinals match between defending champion Bernard (Tut' Bartzen of Dallas and 28-year-old Abe Segal of South Africa. Segal upset top-seeded Alex Olmedo Thursday.

No matter who wins that second semifinals battle, the primarily defensive tactics of both participants guarantees a long afternoon's work for the slugging Reed in Sunday's championship final.

Littler Continues Hot Subpar Pace

By LOU BLACK

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Gene Littler's sizzling golf matched the weather here Friday. He fired a 5-under-par 66 for a 36-hole total of 130 to increase his lead at the halfway mark in the $25,000 Insurance City Open Golf Tournament.

Littler, whose first round 64 yesterday gave him a two-stroke edge, was five strokes in front of his nearest challengers after the second round.

They were Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., and Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, each with 135.

Littler, former National Amateur champion, toured the par-71 Wethersfield Country Club 6,548-yard course in 31-35. His round included six birdies and one bogie.

He was 12 strokes under par at this point in the tournament.

Littler, who will be 29 next Tuesday, started off sensationally this afternoon with two birdies. He picked up two more just before reaching the turn in 31.

Gene birdied the 10th and canned a short putt for another birdie on the 18th to climax his exciting game.

As in his opening round, the 5-9, 167-pound Littler needed only 29 putts. They included a birdie 15-footer on the 168-yard fifth and a birdie 20-footer on the 356-yard eighth.

He missed one from three feet for par on the 374-yard 12th hole, his only bad hole in the two rounds.

Crampton, former Australian Open champion, and Goalby, a veteran of the pro circuit, were five strokes off the pace but playing good golf. The only trouble was that Littler was playing better.

More than 5,000 fans followed and thrilled at the magic of his putting and other clubs. With two more days to go the tourney has settled down to Littler against the field.

Ceccarelli's 6-Hitter Stops Cincinnati, 1-0

CHICAGO (AP)—Southpaw Art Ceccarelli turned his second National League start into his second victory as he blanked Cincinnati on six hits and scored the run in the Chicago Cubs' 1-0 triumph Friday.

The 29-year-old Ceccarelli, recalled from Fort Worth of the American Assn. 10 days ago, walked six and fanned but one to give the Cubs their fourth straight victory and sixth in seven games. They moved over the .500 mark at 45-44.

SAVE YOUR HAIR

Duck Season Not Set Yet For La.

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

A misleading report from Washington has Louisiana duck hunters pulling their hair.

To sum up the confusion quickly, a wire story announced that the federal government has set the waterfowl frame-work for the coming season at Sept. 1 to Dec. 3.

What the report failed to mention was that the September to December duck season is for Alaska — not Louisiana and her sister states located in the Mississippi Flyway.

In short, the framework for Louisiana and the Mississippi Flyway has not been determined.

That will come at a meeting in Washington Aug. 4-5 with the Department of the Interior handing down the decision. The Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission then will have 10 days to set the Louisiana season.

Under federal regulations, the framework must be announced at least 30 days prior to the season, which explains the early announcement for the State of Alaska.

When contacted in New Orleans yesterday, Louisiana wildlife officials said a letter from Director Rudolph P. Easterly recommending a framework would be presented to the federal government.

At present, the Louisiana commission apparently has no plans of sending a representative to the Washington meeting. However, Tom Evans, chief of the game division for the State of Illinois, will represent the Mississippi Flyway.

Easterly said yesterday that Louisiana has been notified that a reduction in either the season or bag limit can be expected.

A 30-day season has been mentioned. So has the possibility of reducing the bag to two ducks.

Louisiana would go for a 30-day season or reduction in the number of days rather than a cutback in the bag limit.

Still, the outlook for the coming duck season is gloomy.

Meanwhile, the Louisiana department currently is in the process of setting the dove season. The framework handed down by the federal government was as follows:

Within the September 1-January 15 framework, all states east of the Mississippi River, and Arkansas and Louisiana, may submit recommendations for hunting seasons that conform to the following conditions:

1. Hunting only between the hours of noon to sunset.
2. 65 consecutive half-days.
3. Or two periods totaling 65 half - days.

'Beisbol' Game Baffles Reds

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — This game of "beisbol," which they invented, continues to baffle the Russians.

Soviet track and field athletes here for a dual meet with the American squad sat through two innings of the San Francisco-Philadelphia doubleheader Thursday night, and came up with questions showing their bewilderment.

Such questions as:

What are baseballs made of?

What do they weigh?

Is the infield made that way intentionally or is it because people have worn the grass out running on it so much?

What happens if a member of a team that is batting catches the ball?

They didn't try to find out about the great American institution—the hot dog. Photographers insisted they pose with the delicacy. But they weren't hungry enough to nibble on them.

YANK MEN FAVORED

American, Russian Track Stars Vie In Philadelphia

By TED SMITS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The United States and Russia clash Saturday in a dual meet that brings together most of the world's best men and women in track and field.

America is favored to win in the men's events and Russia in the women's in the two-day competition which, with good weather, should draw 40,000 each day to Franklin Field.

The forecast for the week end is good. Rain has fallen off and on most of the week but stopped Thursday.

This is the first time Russia has sent a track team to the United States. Last year in Moscow in the first meeting of the two national teams the U.S. men won 126-109 but the Russian women triumphed 63-44. Russia insisted on combining the two scores for a Soviet victory of 172-170.

The powerful Russian team includes such stars as Igor Kashkarov, who has high jumped 7 feet ½ inch; Vasily Kuznetsov, who has bettered the world record in the decathlon; and Igor Ter-Ovanesyan, a 26 - foot broad jumper.

The United States is counting on veteran aces Harold Connolly in the hammer, Al Oerter in the discus, Greg Bell in the broad jump, and Parry O'Brien in the shot—all Olympic champions—together with such sensational youngsters as Ray Norton in the sprints, Tom Murphy in the 800, and Al Cantello, who recently threw the javelin 282-3½ to better the world record.

In the women's events the United States is looking to Earlene Brown in the weights, Isabelle Daniels in the 200, and Wilma Rudolph in the 100 for points.

One of the blue ribbon events should be the pole vault. Russia has a 15-foot pole vaulter in Vladimir Bulatov, but the USA's Don Bragg, who set a world indoor record at 15-9½, should stop him.

The high jump brings together three men who have bettered the magic seven foot mark — Kashkarov and his teammate, Yuri Stepanov, pitted against Charlie Dumas of the United States.

The United States might surprise in the distances with Bill Dellinger in the 5,000 and Dyrol Burleson in the 1,500.

Powerful as is the American team, some of the best of the nation's stars are sidelined by injuries, including Bobby Morrow, the Olympic 100 and 200 - meter champion; Rafer Johnson, who beat Kuznetsov last year in Moscow in the decathlon in the most thrilling event of the meet; John Thomas, who set a world record in the high jump at 7-1¼; and Glenn Davis, world record holder in the 400-meter hurdles.

Opening ceremonies Saturday are at 2 p.m., EST, but competition starts in the broad jump at 1:40 p.m. in order to give Russia's Ter-Ovanesyan a chance to compete in both this event and the decathlon. NBC is televising Sunday's competition from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m., EST. The meet is sponsored by the Philadelphia Inquirer Charities in conjunction with the Amateur Athletic Union.

Whitney Reed Enters Finals On Clay Court

CHICAGO (AP)—Whitney Reed, NCAA champion, ended the upstart antics of young fellow Californian Larry Nagler Friday to enter the finals of the National Clay Court Tennis Tournament.

Reed huffed and puffed and finally blew down the steady-stroking game of his slightly built opponent 6-4, 7-5, 1-6, 9-7 in a semifinals marathon at suburban River Forest Tennis Club.

Reed, 26, of San Jose State College and a resident of Alameda, earned the questionable privilege of meeting the winner of Saturday's semifinals match between defending champion Bernard (Tut Bartzen of Dallas and 28-year-old Abe Segal of South Africa. Segal upset top-seeded Alex Olmedo Thursday.

No matter who wins that second semifinals battle, the primarily defensive tactics of both participants guarantees a long afternoon's work for the slugging Reed in Sunday's championship final.

BEHIND JONES

Giants Take 4-1 Win To Up Lead

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The San Francisco Giants socked four doubles and capitalized on an error Friday night as they whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-1 behind the effective pitching of Sam Jones.

Jones gave up seven hits, struck out seven and walked one in picking up his 13th victory. He has lost nine.

He gave up the only Pirate run on a pair of singles in the second inning.

The San Francisco victory, coupled with Los Angeles' 3-2 loss to Philadelphia, increased the Giants hold on first place to two full games over the runner-up Dodgers.

A near capacity crowd of 33,220 turned out for the opener of a four game series and saw Pirate starter Ronnie Kline give up a run in the first inning on back-to-back doubles by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda after the first two batters had been retired.

The Pirates tied the score in the second. With two men out, Don Hoak singled, stole second and scored on Roberto Clemente's single.

The Giants got another run off Kline in the seventh when Ed Bressoud doubled and came home on another double by Willie Kirkland.

Kline was lifted for a pinch hitter in the bottom half of the seventh and was replaced on the mound by Elroy Face.

The Giants got two runs off Face in the eighth. Cepeda singled, stole second and third and came home on a squeeze play as Pirate first baseman Dick Stuart fumbled Hobbie Landrith's bunt.

Jackie Brandt, who had walked earlier, moved to second on the Stuart error, and scored from there on Bressoud's single.

Kline, who was charged with the loss, now has a record of seven victories and eight defeats.

Calhoun Beats Dick Tiger On Split Decision

[illegible]

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Middleweights Rory Calhoun and Dick Tiger dawdled through 10 rounds Friday night with Calhoun taking a split and disputed decision.

Each weighed 162 pounds.

The fight bore little resemblance to the exciting draw the two fought five weeks ago in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Laughs and boos greeted the announcers' word that Judges Dick Fazio and Harold McGrath had given Calhoun six rounds to four for Tiger. Referee Joe Palmer say the fight 5-3-2 for Tiger, the same as the AP.

The slim crowd booed and clapped for action at the end of the sixth, eighth and ninth rounds of the nationally televised fight.

A flurry enlived the seventh, Calhoun slipping after taking a right to the face and dragging Tiger to the mat atop him. Both sprawled under the ropes. There was no knockdowns.

The sleepy-eyed Calhoun, counterpunching effectively, won the last three rounds on the McGrath and Fazio cards.

A last-minute rally had helped the 24-year-old Rory to his earlier draw.

Mothers Play In Ferriday Game

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — Mom shows junior how it's supposed to be done next Friday night, July 24, when the "Major League Mothers" play the "Minor League Mothers" in a baseball game here.

The teams, made up of mothers of Little Boys League players, will clash in a benefit game with the proceeds going to help pay the expenses of sending the local Little Boys all-star team to the district tournament at Mangham.

League secretary-treasurer F. R. Goynes will manage the minor league team and league president George Perry the major league mothers.

Rebel League

Piggly Wiggly - Miller's handed Brown - Rivers - Scogin its first defeat of the Rebel League season yesterday, a 10-2 pasting behind the one-hit pitching of Jones.

Jones fanned 11 in winning over the losing hurler, Brown. Jimmy Morgan got 3-4 for the winners and Fred Newton 2-3.

Little League

Cerniglaro allowed only one hit as Monroe Police downed Gay's, 7-0, in the Northside circuit. Reitzell and Gallagher each got 4-4 to pace the winner while Dahl got the lone hit for Gay's. Hesdoffer was the loser.

Oglesbee and Gilbert Lee hit 2-3 each and Charles Hill homered to spearhead KLIC's 11 - 10 victory over Lennon Motors in the Southside. Warlick and Foreman won over Price and Roye. Pearson got 3-4 and Roye 2-3 with a homer for Lennon.

Minor League

Steve's Market edged R&A Jewelers, 1-0, on Sandy Cain's one - hitter in one of the best Minor League games this year at Bendel. Cain and Burrough got the only hits off loser Moon in the hour and 10-minute game while Smith collected the losers' only hit in the "B" contest.

Antie pitched a no - hitter as Fire Department routed People's League. Antie also led the hitting for the winners with 2-3 off the losing battery of Ryals, Duffy and Boyett.

Saul Adler whipped Montgomery Insurance, 20-10, with Reiss going 3-5, Rogers 3-4 and Wilson 4-4. Myrick won over Aycock in the "C" League game.

Bob Allison, star rookie with the Washington Senators, led the Piedmont League in putouts with 289 and in assists with 24 when he played for Hagerstown in 1955.

Kansas City Rallies In 7th To Beat Nats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dick Williams and Harry Chiti triggered a four-run Kansas City rally in the seventh that clinched a 7-4 victory over Washington Friday night.

Ned Garver, with some help in the final 2 1-3 innings from Murry Dickson and Bob Grim, won his seventh game against nine losses.

Russ Kemmerer who won four of his first five games, now has lost nine out of the last 10 times he started.

The Athletics combined three hits and two walks in the seventh for the winning rally. Williams socked a two-run single and Chiti hammered a double that drove in the other two runs.

A paying crowd of 9,842 raised Washington's season attendance to 428,201—100,754 ahead of the Senators' attendance pace of a year ago.

Bridges Errs, Orioles Take 3-2 Triumph

BALTIMORE (AP)—A two-run error by shortstop Rocky Bridges of the Detroit Tigers presented the Baltimore Orioles with a 3-2 victory Friday night.

It was the fifth straight defeat for the Tigers and their 12th in the last 14 games.

Bridges' error on Willie Tasby's grounder with the bases loaded let in two runs after Brooks Robinson had smacked his first homer since being recalled by the Orioles July 8.

Don Mossi held the Orioles to a total of three hits only to drop his fourth decision in 11 games.

Harold (Skinny) Brown gave up a homer to Frank Bolling, his sixth, in the third inning and when the Tigers scored again in the eighth Milt Pappas came on to preserve his sixth triumph in 11 games of record.

Mossi retired 15 batters in a row before giving way to a pinch hitter in the eighth and Tom Morgan set the Orioles down in order in their last bats.

Brown was hit for only Bolling's homer and Harvey Kuenn's double in the seventh before the eighth inning Tiger threat.

Singles by Gail Harris, Bolling and pinch hitter Eddie Yost produced a run and Pappas was called upon to stem the tide.

After Robinson homered with two outs in the second inning, Billy Gardner walked and Willie Miranda and Brown walked. Bridges then let Tasby's grounder skim through his legs while Gardner and Miranda scored.

The only other Oriole safety was Joe Taylor's single in the third.

Qualifying For Highland Meet Ends Friday

Qualifying rounds in the annual Highland Park Country Club four-ball golf tournament will continue through next Friday, according to club pro James Aulds.

All matches in the four-ball affair will be over 18 holes and with match play rules. Duplicate prizes will be awarded to winners and runnerups in each flight and consolation winners.

A pro-am tourney, held in conjunction with the meet, is scheduled for Friday along with the championship qualifying.

Van Trow Meets Ark. Champions

Van Trow tangles with Haney's Refrigeration, defending Arkansas champions, in a softball doubleheader on the Barkdull Faulk diamond at 7:30 tonight.

Fuzzy Huff, manager of the local nine, has named Angelo Danna to hurl the first game and Danny Sullivan to toss the nightcap. Guy Gannaway and Don Nelson will be behind the plate.

Calhoun Beats Dick Tiger On Split Decision

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Middleweights Rory Calhoun and Dick Tiger dawdled through 10 rounds Friday night with Calhoun taking a split and disputed decision.

Each weighed 162 pounds.

The fight bore little resemblance to the exciting draw the two fought five weeks ago in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Laughs and boos greeted the announcers' word that Judges Dick Fazio and Harold McGrath had given Calhoun six rounds to four for Tiger. Referee Joe Palmer say the fight 5-3-2 for Tiger, the same as the AP.

The slim crowd booed and clapped for action at the end of the sixth, eighth and ninth rounds of the nationally televised fight.

A flurry enlived the seventh, Calhoun slipping after taking a right to the face and dragging Tiger to the mat atop him. Both sprawled under the ropes. There was no knockdowns.

The sleepy-eyed Calhoun, counterpunching effectively, won the last three rounds on the McGrath and Fazio cards.

A last-minute rally had helped the 24-year-old Rory to his earlier draw.

Mothers Play In Ferriday Game

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — Mom shows junior how it's supposed to be done next Friday night, July 24, when the "Major League Mothers" play the "Minor League Mothers" in a baseball game here.

The teams, made up of mothers of Little Boys League players, will clash in a benefit game with the proceeds going to help pay the expenses of sending the local Little Boys all-star team to the district tournament at Mangham.

League secretary-treasurer F. R. Goynes will manage the minor league team and league president George Perry the major league mothers.

Rebel League

Piggly Wiggly - Miller's handed Brown - Rivers - Scogin its first defeat of the Rebel League season yesterday, a 10-2 pasting behind the one-hit pitching of Jones.

Jones fanned 11 in winning over the losing hurler, Brown. Jimmy Morgan got 3-4 for the winners and Fred Newton 2-3.

Little League

Cerniglaro allowed only one hit as Monroe Police downed Gay's, 7-0, in the Northside circuit. Reitzell and Gallagher each got 4-4 to pace the winner while Dahl got the lone hit for Gay's. Hesdoffer was the loser.

Oglesbee and Gilbert Lee hit 2-3 each and Charles Hill homered to spearhead KLIC's 11 - 10 victory over Lennon Motors in the Southside. Warlick and Foreman won over Price and Roye. Pearson got 3-4 and Roye 2-3 with a homer for Lennon.

Minor League

Steve's Market edged R&A Jewelers, 1-0, on Sandy Cain's one - hitter in one of the best Minor League games this year at Bendel. Cain and Burrough got the only hits off loser Moon in the hour and 10-minute game while Smith collected the losers' only hit in the "B" contest.

Antie pitched a no - hitter as Fire Department routed People's League. Antie also led the hitting for the winners with 2-3 off the losing battery of Ryals, Duffy and Boyett.

Saul Adler whipped Montgomery Insurance, 20-10, with Reiss going 3-5, Rogers 3-4 and Wilson 4-4. Myrick won over Aycock in the "C" League game.

Bob Allison, star rookie with the Washington Senators, led the Piedmont League in putouts with 289 and in assists with 24 when he played for Hagerstown in 1955.

Kansas City Rallies In 7th To Beat Nats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dick Williams and Harry Chiti triggered a four-run Kansas City rally in the seventh that clinched a 7-4 victory over Washington Friday night.

Ned Garver, with some help in the final 2 1-3 innings from Murry Dickson and Bob Grim, won his seventh game against nine losses.

Russ Kemmerer who won four of his first five games, now has lost nine out of the last 10 times he started.

The Athletics combined three hits and two walks in the seventh for the winning rally. Williams socked a two-run single and Chiti hammered a double that drove in the other two runs.

A paying crowd of 9,842 raised Washington's season attendance to 428,201—100,754 ahead of the Senators' attendance pace of a year ago.

Roy Sievers blasted his 12th homer in the second with none on, boosting Washington's team home run total to 112, tops in the major leagues.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gil McDouglad's first time up in a ball game finds him going through many motions. The Yankee second baseman levels the dirt in the batter's box, knocks dirt out of his spikes with his bat, turns the bat in his hands and then tugs on the shoulders of his uniform.

Bridges Errs, Orioles Take 3-2 Triumph

BALTIMORE (AP)—A two-run error by shortstop Rocky Bridges of the Detroit Tigers presented the Baltimore Orioles with a 3-2 victory Friday night.

It was the fifth straight defeat for the Tigers and their 12th in the last 14 games.

Bridges' error on Willie Tasby's grounder with the bases loaded let in two runs after Brooks Robinson had smacked his first homer since being recalled by the Orioles July 8.

Don Mossi held the Orioles to a total of three hits only to drop his fourth decision in 11 games.

Harold (Skinny) Brown gave up a homer to Frank Bolling, his sixth, in the third inning and when the Tigers scored again in the eighth Milt Pappas came on to preserve his sixth triumph in 11 games of record.

Mossi retired 15 batters in a row before giving way to a pinch hitter in the eighth and Tom Morgan set the Orioles down in order in their last bats.

Brown was hit for only Bolling's homer and Harvey Kuenn's double in the seventh before the eighth inning Tiger threat.

Singles by Gail Harris, Bolling and pinch hitter Eddie Yost produced a run and Pappas was called upon to stem the tide.

After Robinson homered with two outs in the second inning, Billy Gardner walked and Willie Miranda and Brown walked. Bridges then let Tasby's grounder skim through his legs while Gardner and Miranda scored.

The only other Oriole safety was Joe Taylor's single in the third.

Qualifying For Highland Meet Ends Friday

Qualifying rounds in the annual Highland Park Country Club four-ball golf tournament will continue through next Friday, according to club pro James Aulds.

All matches in the four-ball affair will be over 18 holes and with match play rules. Duplicate prizes will be awarded to winners and runnerups in each flight and consolation winners.

A pro-am tourney, held in conjunction with the meet, is scheduled for Friday along with the championship qualifying.

Van Trow Meets Ark. Champions

Van Trow tangles with Haney's Refrigeration, defending Arkansas champions, in a softball doubleheader on the Barkdull Faulk diamond at 7:30 tonight.

Fuzzy Huff, manager of the local nine, has named Angelo Danna to hurl the first game and Danny Sullivan to toss the nightcap. Guy Gannaway and Don Nelson will be behind the plate.

Household Hints That Assist, Aid Today's Women

United Press International

Blend apple juice with honey, heat and serve with pancakes.

Clothing specialists recommend low to medium temperatures for ironing cotton wash - and - wear finishes.

Dumplings for lamb stew will taste and look good if you add chopped parsley or chives and grated carrot to the batter.

Hose down bamboo, reed, cane or wicker furniture occasionally to prevent it from drying and splitting.

Iron draperies with the thread of the material to prevent sideways stretching.

Cover a vacuum cleaner nozzl with cheesecloth held in place with a rubber band. Then clean button boxes, dresser drawers, and sewing kits without disturbing the articles inside.

, Rub French chalk with a small brush into dull spots left on rugs by furniture pressure. Then vacuum the area.

When frying foods which tend to splatter, place paper towels or cut foil or waxed paper over burners not in use.

Dessert in a jiffy: syrup parfait. Arrange layers of vanilla ice cream, chopped toasted almonds and dark corn syrup in serving glasses. Serve with spice cookies.

Broiled canned peach halves go well with ham steak. Brush the drained fruit with dark corn syrup before broiling.

Fresh Colors Can Make A Lot Of Difference

CHICAGO (UPI) — A new color scheme can make the kitchen seem degrees cooler on hot summer days.

Only about $10 worth of paint is needed to cover the average room. Use an odorless semigloss or gloss paint. This kind dries quickly, will not interfere with cooking when first applied, and will retain its fresh look after countless washings.

Before painting, wash dirt and grease from the walls and woodwork. Remove loose or cracked pain with a wire brush or sandpaper, and sanddown any glossy surfaces so the new coat will adhere better.

Experts agree that the coolest colors include most shades of green, turquoise, light blue, grayblue and green - blue. If warm colors are essenial to your happiness, add them by means of the curtains or as accents in the form of plates, pictures or bric-a-brac.

These are suggested as pleasant combinations for a cool kitchen:

— Ice - blue walls; chartreuse floor; medium - blue counters; white or blue cabinets; chartreuse curtains; orange accents.

— Sea - green walls; deep green floor; champagne counters and cabinets; deep green, yellow and white curtains; raspberry red accents.

— Pale turquoise walls; deep turquoise floor; natural wood or ivory cabinets; pale melon counters; melon and ivory curtains.

Advice On Accessories Sought For Modern Room

By BETTY PEPIS

Q. — We have selected a modern toast and gold colored sofa and matching chair and end and coffee tables in a transitional style in a cherry mood finish. I would like ideas for another chair, a rug and particularly for types of accessories.

A. — Seems like you have a good start toward a room that could be effectively bland and neutral in color but a fascinating background for brilliant accessories. Keep to the toast tones for floor covering, walls and the extra chair. Then pick two brilliant colors and let yourself go with accessories. Turquoise and emerald would be good. You can find these colors in pottery, glass or enamel in sufficient variety. Concentrate on these shades for boxes, bowls, ashtrays, lamp bases and the like, and of course, repeat the identical tones in throw and floor pillows.

Q. — In my living room I have three bay windows. My furniture is decidedly traditional. If it proper to use cafe curtains with this type of furniture? Should I use two equal tiers top and bottom?

A. — Either would be correct. A somewhat more interesting method and one which has become popular of late is to use cafe curtains in tiers of different lengths beginning with the shortest at top and ending with the longest at bottom. I have seen this done with both three and five tiers. In neither case is a valance necessary.

Q. — My living and dining room adjoin. Walls and draperies in both are a soft green. Could I use a solid carpet in the living room and a floral in the dining room?

A. — Since the other backgrounds are coordinated a change of pace in the carpet would be a wise decorating move. The two carpets should, however, be separated by a wood border. The floral carpet might repeat the shape of the dining table and be just large enough to fit under it while the plain living room carpet might be conventionally rectangular.

Q. — Our bedroom is very large and has a small alcove with a window set into it. It also has a second window under which we have placed our bed. Furniture is amber-toned mahogany. What would you do with walls and ceilings, with bedspread, curtains, draperies and throw rugs? I love yellows and oranges.

A. — Put wallpaper in the alcove and on the entire ceiling. Try to find one which has a white background but favorite yellows and oranges. Have a roller shade made of the paper for the alcove window and dispense with both curtains and draperies there. Paint the rest of the room (including woodwork) with a yellow contained in the pattern. Use an open work white lacy bedspread over orange on the bed. Throw rugs in orange and fluffy white curtains at the second window should result in a very gay room.

Household Hints That Assist, Aid Today's Women

United Press International

Blend apple juice with honey, heat and serve with pancakes.

Clothing specialists recommend low to medium temperatures for ironing cotton wash - and - wear finishes.

Dumplings for lamb stew will taste and look good if you add chopped parsley or chives and grated carrot to the batter.

Hose down bamboo, reed, cane or wicker furniture occasionally to prevent it from drying and splitting.

Iron draperies with the thread of the material to prevent sideways stretching.

Cover a vacuum cleaner nozzl with cheesecloth held in place with a rubber band. Then clean button boxes, dresser drawers, and sewing kits without disturbing the articles inside.

Rub French chalk with a small brush into dull spots left on rugs by furniture pressure. Then vacuum the area.

When frying foods which tend to splatter, place paper towels or cut foil or waxed paper over burners not in use.

Dessert in a jiffy: syrup parfait. Arrange layers of vanilla ice cream, chopped toasted almonds and dark corn syrup in serving glasses. Serve with spice cookies.

Broiled canned peach halves go well with ham steak. Brush the drained fruit with dark corn syrup before broiling.

Fresh Colors Can Make A Lot Of Difference

CHICAGO (UPI) — A new color scheme can make the kitchen seem degrees cooler on hot summer days.

Only about $10 worth of paint is needed to cover the average room. Use an odorless semi-gloss or gloss paint. This kind dries quickly, will not interfere with cooking when first applied, and will retain its fresh look after countless washings.

Before painting, wash dirt and grease from the walls and woodwork. Remove loose or cracked pain with a wire brush or sandpaper, and sanddown any glossy surfaces so the new coat will adhere better.

Experts agree that the coolest colors include most shades of green, turquoise, light blue, gray-blue and green - blue. If warm colors are essenial to your happiness, add them by means of the curtains or as accents in the form of plates, pictures or bric-a-brac.

These are suggested as pleasant combinations for a cool kitchen:

— Ice - blue walls; chartreuse floor; medium - blue counters; white or blue cabinets; chartreuse curtains; orange accents.

— Sea - green walls; deep green floor; champagne counters and cabinets; deep green, yellow and white curtains; raspberry red accents.

— Pale turquoise walls; deep turquoise floor; natural wood or ivory cabinets; pale melon counters; melon and ivory curtains.

By BETTY PEPIS

Q. — We have selected a modern toast and gold colored sofa and matching chair and end and coffee tables in a transitional style in a cherry mood finish. I would like ideas for another chair, a rug and particularly for types of accessories.

A. — Seems like you have a good start toward a room that could be effectively bland and neutral in color but a fascinating background for brilliant accessories. Keep to the toast tones for floor covering, walls and the extra chair. Then pick two brilliant colors and let yourself go with accessories. Turquoise and emerald would be good. You can find these colors in pottery, glass or enamel in sufficient variety. Concentrate on these shades for boxes, bowls, ashtrays, lamp bases and the like, and of course, repeat the identical tones in throw and floor pillows.

Q. — In my living room I have three bay windows. My furniture is decidedly traditional. If it proper to use cafe curtains with this type of furniture? Should I use two equal tiers top and bottom?

A. — Either would be correct. A somewhat more interesting method and one which has become popular of late is to use cafe curtains in tiers of different lengths beginning with the shortest at top and ending with the longest at bottom. I have seen this done with both three and five tiers. In neither case is a valance necessary.

Q. — My living and dining room adjoin. Walls and draperies in both are a soft green. Could I use a solid carpet in the living room and a floral in the dining room?

A. — Since the other backgrounds are coordinated a change of pace in the carpet would be a wise decorating move. The two carpets should, however, be separated by a wood border. The floral carpet might repeat the shape of the dining table and be just large enough to fit under it while the plain living room carpet might be conventionally rectangular.

Q. — Our bedroom is very large and has a small alcove with a window set into it. It also has a second window under which we have placed our bed. Furniture is amber-toned mahogany. What would you do with walls and ceilings, with bedspread, curtains, draperies and throw rugs? I love yellows and oranges.

A. — Put wallpaper in the alcove and on the entire ceiling. Try to find one which has a white background but favorite yellows and oranges. Have a roller shade made of the paper for the alcove window and dispense with both curtains and draperies there. Paint the rest of the room (including woodwork) with a yellow contained in the pattern. Use an open work white lacy bedspread over orange on the bed. Throw rugs in orange and fluffy white curtains at the second window should result in a very gay room.

ANN LANDERS
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My fiance plans to give me a ring on my 18th birthday. He's 19 and we are both high school graduates.

He insists this is one of the biggest moments of our entire lives. He wants his young brother to be on hand taking moving pictures of him putting the ring on my finger, the kiss to seal it, and our folks congratulating us. He claims we will be very glad we have this on film for posterity.

I am violently against this idea and have said so. I think this sacred moment should be between two people. The idea of having his kid brother hanging around with a moving picture camera makes me sick. I don't want his parents or mine looking on either.

He feels so strongly about this that he says either I agree or the engagement is off.

I thought I loved him but now I'm not so sure. Neither of us has ever dated anyone else. We've lived next door since we were 7. I'd like your opinion before I turn over the apple-cart in haste. — WANTING PRIVACY

Dear Wanting: If all the engagement means to him is something to take pictures of—then you'd better tip over the apple-cart and pronto.

In my opinion, you are both too young for marriage. And he's an immature 19-year-old as evidenced by his notion of what an engagement ring presentation should be.

I suggest you call off the engagement and both date others. If after a year or so you two think you were meant for each other, pick up the loose ends and go together again. You both remind me of the worm in horse radish. He thought it was the sweetest place in the world—because that was the only place he'd ever been.

Dear Ann: I'm so confused I don't know what to do. Two years ago I divorced my husband against the violent protests of my three daughters. He begged me to reconsider, but my pride was hurt and I went through with it.

I began dating a European man and was quite thrilled with his fine manners and his warm attitude toward my daughters. Now I feel as if the bottom has dropped out of mmy world. He is a different person entirely.

He became very strict with the girls and they've soured on him. He made me quit work and sell my car. He had the telephone removed and insists on opening all the mail. He stopped the daily paper and I have to buy it on the stand.

Yesterday he struck the eldest girl and she threatened to tell her father. If she does tell he'll try to take all the girls from me. I know now my first husband was more of a man than this one will ever be. I shouldn't have divorced him. I'm miserable and heartsick. What shall I do? — M.M.M.

Dear M.M.M.: This problem should be discussed with your clergyman. Sounds like you jumped from the frying pan into the fire. Maybe with luck you can get back into the frying pan.

Dear Ann: I'm 16 and madly in love with a boy 18 who works at the gasoline station near my house. We used to go steady, but he dropped me.

The reason he dropped me is I got made at him for standing me up on dates. Four times in a row he promised to take me to a certain movie and he didn't show up or call to say he wasn't coming.

Now I hear he's dating a girl who looks very much like me. Everyone comments on this. Do you think this means anything? Shall I call him? I think he still cares about me but he's stubborn. — DOT

Dear Dot: Quit puffing on that dream pipe. If he wanted you he wouldn't have had to settle for a substitute. Forget him. He's a heel.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Lowly Animal Again Appears On Fall Scene

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—Those once-humble little animals—the raccoon, the civet cat and the opossum—have come out of Uncle Remus stories and into the spotlight of high fashion.

Brer Fox is here, too, in all his glory—and even Peter Rabbit shows up occasionally in budget lines.

The animals are star performers in the current fall fashion previews of the New York Dress Institute, staged for the benefit of 240 fashion editors from newspapers throughout the United States.

The second day of the crowded press week showings ended on a high note, with lush collections by Nettie Rosenstein, Philippe Tournaye of the House of Marquise, and Ceil Chapman, designer of after-five fashions for many personalities of stage, screen and television.

Nettie Rosenstein, famous as America's leading advocate of the "little black dress," shows it in many versions, but this season adds glamor in the form of elegant evening gowns in rich brocades. She also introduces her favorite color of the season, "Opossum," a soft taupe, which she teams with real 'possum fur hats and accessories.

MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED
Your Baby And Mine

If there were rules which told a parent when and how much to punish and what knid of punishment worked best, child rearing would be greatly simplified.

But everyone — parent and observer alike — has a different idea on the subject. One is unalterably for spanking; another just as firmly against it. Each one thinks he or she has the answer to discipline.

If we can be unbiased observers of the paternal scene, we have to admit that there are too many types of parents and too many types of children to make any one way of acting represent them all or influence them all. We do what seems right to us, as people. And this takes into account our own type of personality.

Will Discipline Differently

There are the parents who get angry very slowly, but once angry they stay that way for a long time. There are others who get mad at the so-called drop of a hat and are over it as quickly. No one should expect that these two types of personalities will deal with their children's misconduct in the same way.

We are taking it for granted that all of these parents are thinking indivuduals and do not operate on emotions alone. We are likewise taking it for granted that they love their children and do not look upon them as hampering nuisances.

Given these two assumptions one parent can spank, another put a child in temporary isolation, another take away treats, another deny the child companionship and all of these punishments will work. It remains only for the child to know that his parents love him and to feel the punishments to be justified and then what the punishments are is of minor importance.

But, we must make one correction. If the spanking is too brutal, if the isolation is too lengthy, if too many treats are taken away and the child denied companionship for too long a time, then resentment and revengefulness will be the result.

So it isn't whether or not a parnet spanks, or whether she is more strict and severe than some other parent, that makes for good discipline. What counts is whether a parent is a worthy example of good conduct to her children; whether she is aware of what in life is of true value and whether her standards are high.

Then what she does to discipline her children will be n accord with her own nature and personality and her children will accept it as a reflection of this parent and will be moved to better behavior by it. It is therefore the parents' way of life that is important — not the type of disciplines they use.

High Necklines On Advance Fall Dresses

Associated Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Sometimes a girl can look more enticing in a high-necked dress than in one slashed for maximum exposure, says Oleg Cassini, reviewing his fall collection for members of the national fashion press.

Just to make sure, however, he shows necklines in two extremes —either high turtlenecks or plunging as low as the law allows.

The high-necked versions usually are fitted to reveal every curve of the figure, an effect of which Cassini is highly in favor. A new interpretation of the white tie—without tails — is his dramatic black velvet evening sheath, long tight and devastating, with white satin bow tie worn in a new position—at the bosom.

Ben Zuckerman, known for upper-bracket suits and coats, shows severely man-tailored suits with easy fit, and sparks them with fur "gimmicks" — his word for small ascots, of mink, leopard or ermine. The suits are shown with mannish derbies or fedoras, usually in colors to match the suits.

ANN LANDERS

Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My fiance plans to give me a ring on my 18th birthday. He's 19 and we are both high school graduates.

He insists this is one of the biggest moments of our entire lives. He wants his young brother to be on hand taking moving pictures of him putting the ring on my finger, the kiss to seal it, and our folks congratulating us. He claims we will be very glad we have this on film for posterity.

I am violently against this idea and have said so. I think this sacred moment should be between two people. The idea of having his kid brother hanging around with a moving picture camera makes me sick. I don't want his parents or mine looking on either.

He feels so strongly about this that he says either I agree or the engagement is off.

I thought I loved him but now I'm not so sure. Neither of us has ever dated anyone else. We've lived next door since we were 7. I'd like your opinion before I turn over the apple-cart in haste. — WANTING PRIVACY

Dear Wanting: If all the engagement means to him is something to take pictures of—then you'd better tip over the apple-cart and pronto.

In my opinion, you are both too young for marriage. And he's an immature 19-year-old as evidenced by his notion of what an engagement ring presentation should be.

I suggest you call off the engagement and both date others. If after a year or so you two think you were meant for each other, pick up the loose ends and go together again. You both remind me of the worm in horse radish. He thought it was the sweetest place in the world—because that was the only place he'd ever been.

Dear Ann: I'm so confused I don't know what to do. Two years ago I divorced my husband against the violent protests of my three daughters. He begged me to reconsider, but my pride was hurt and I went through with it.

I began dating a European man and was quite thrilled with his fine manners and his warm attitude toward my daughters. Now I feel as if the bottom has dropped out of mmy world. He is a different person entirely.

He became very strict with the girls and they've soured on him. He made me quit work and sell my car. He had the telephone removed and insists on opening all the mail. He stopped the daily paper and I have to buy it on the stand.

Yesterday he struck the eldest girl and she threatened to tell her father. If she does tell he'll try to take all the girls from me. I know now my first husband was more of a man than this one will ever be. I shouldn't have divorced him. I'm miserable and heartsick. What shall I do? — M.M.M.

Dear M.M.M.: This problem should be discussed with your clergyman. Sounds like you jumped from the frying pan into the fire. Maybe with luck you can get back into the frying pan.

Dear Ann: I'm 16 and madly in love with a boy 18 who works at the gasoline station near my house. We used to go steady, but he dropped me.

The reason he dropped me is I got made at him for standing me up on dates. Four times in a row he promised to take me to a certain movie and he didn't show up or call to say he wasn't coming.

Now I hear he's dating a girl who looks very much like me. Everyone comments on this. Do you think this means anything? Shall I call him? I think he still cares about me but he's stubborn. — DOT

Dear Dot: Quit puffing on that dream pipe. If he wanted you he wouldn't have had to settle for a substitute. Forget him. He's a heel.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Your Baby And Mine

If there were rules which told a parent when and how much to punish and what knid of punishment worked best, child rearing would be greatly simplified.

But everyone — parent and observer alike — has a different idea on the subject. One is unalterably for spanking; another just as firmly against it. Each one thinks he or she has the answer to discipline.

If we can be unbiased observers of the paternal scene, we have to admit that there are too many types of parents and too many types of children to make any one way of acting represent them all or influence them all. We do what seems right to us, as people. And this takes into account our own type of personality.

Will Discipline Differently

There are the parents who get angry very slowly, but once angry they stay that way for a long time. There are others who get mad at the so-called drop of a hat and are over it as quickly. No one should expect that these two types of personalities will deal with their children's misconduct in the same way.

We are taking it for granted that all of these parents are thinking indivuduals and do not operate on emotions alone. We are likewise taking it for granted that they love their children and do not look upon them as hampering nuisances.

Given these two assumptions one parent can spank, another put a child in temporary isolation, another take away treats, another deny the child companionship and all of these punishments will work. It remains only for the child to know that his parents love him and to feel the punishments to be justified and then what the punishments are is of minor importance.

But, we must make one correction. If the spanking is too brutal, if the isolation is too lengthy, if too many treats are taken away and the child denied companionship for too long a time, then resentment and revengefulness will be the result.

So it isn't whether or not a parnet spanks, or whether she is more strict and severe than some other parent, that makes for good discipline. What counts is whether a parent is a worthy example of good conduct to her children; whether she is aware of what in life is of true value and whether her standards are high.

Then what she does to discipline her children will be n accord with her own nature and personality and her children will accept it as a reflection of this parent and will be moved to better behavior by it. It is therefore the parents' way of life that is important — not the type of disciplines they use.

Lowly Animal Again Appears On Fall Scene

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—Those once-humble little animals—the raccoon, the civet cat and the opossum—have come out of Uncle Remus stories and into the spotlight of high fashion.

Brer Fox is here, too, in all his glory—and even Peter Rabbit shows up occasionally in budget lines.

The animals are star performers in the current fall fashion previews of the New York Dress Institute, staged for the benefit of 240 fashion editors from newspapers throughout the United States.

The second day of the crowded press week showings ended on a high note, with lush collections by Nettie Rosenstein, Philippe Tournaye of the House of Marquise, and Ceil Chapman, designer of after-five fashions for many personalities of stage, screen and television.

Nettie Rosenstein, famous as America's leading advocate of the "little black dress," shows it in many versions, but this season adds glamor in the form of elegant evening gowns in rich brocades. She also introduces her favorite color of the season, "Opossum," a soft taupe, which she teams with real 'possum fur hats and accessories.

IN MONROE

Hixon Purchases Hall Funeral Home

The purchase of Hall Funeral Home by Hixson Brothers was made public in a joint statement by both parties yesterday.

Hixson Brothers announced that the Hall business eventually would be consolidated with Hixson facilities on Jackson Street.

The $30,000 purchase included Hall's business, equipment, caskets on hand, policy obligations, and good will. Hixson has already taken over control of operations.

The sale to Hixson did not include Hall Life Insurance Company, which will continue to be owned and operated by C. A. Hall.

Nor did the Hixson purchase include the real property of Hall located at 403 Jackson street. Hall announced the sale of the real estate last week to St. Francis Hospital for $130,000.

Hixson Brothers, operators of a funeral home chain in Louisiana, announced that all of Hall's funeral assessment obligations and other service committments would be met "in every respect." They will service the several thousand policy holders of Hall.

Hixson Brothers is affiliated with Central State Life Insurance Company, which is domiciled in Alexandria.

James L. Brooks, manager of Hixson, will manage the Hall consolidation and continue as head of Hixson's funeral business in Monroe.

Hall began his funeral business here 21 years ago with the purchase of National Funeral Home. The name of the funeral home was changed to Dixie Funeral Home for a brief period. Later the name was changed to Hall Funeral Home under which the business was operated until the sale to Hixson.

City Court

MONROE

Topping the fines levied by Judge W. M. Harper in Monroe city court yesterday was $400 or seven months on a drunken driving charge. Walter Jordon received it.

Charged with theft, Frank Robinson was assessed $300 or 300 days.

The following forfeited bonds for speeding charges:

Onnie L. Hortman, $12.50; Eugene Yeast, $5; Charlie Ward, $5; Gerald Stewart, $10; Clifford Pamsey, $12.50, and James Gagaway, $12.50.

WEST MONROE

West Monroe's city court session consisted largely of bond forfeitures yesterday. Judge Jasper Jones presided.

Forfeiting a $25 bond on a reckless driving charge was Thomas S. Brooks.

Buck Clark and Donnie D. Waldrop each forfeited a $20.50 bond for speeding charges while Bristol L. Myers forfeited a $30.50 bond on the same count.

Contract Signed To Blacktop The Holly Ridge Hwy.

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Cunningham and McCullen of Shreveport has received a $105,676 Louisiana Department of Highways contract for 3.4 miles of blacktopping work along the Holly Ridge-Darnell Hwy., State Rt. 585, in Richland Parish.

Highway Director R. B. Richardson said plans call for grading, drainage structures, aggregate type or soil cement base course and three-application bituminous surface treatment, 20-feet wide.

Work has already begun and five months will be needed for completion. The project begins at the junction of State Rouge 134 and runs north to the West Carroll Parish line.

Richardson said the contractor will not be required to provide for or maintain through traffic but will provide for local traffic at all junctions and crossings of existing traveled roads.

Fred M. Hill of Monroe is the member of the State Board of Highways from the Fifth Congressional District, in which the project is located.

Richardson said W. R. Overton of Monroe has been designated as project engineer, under direction of Wayne H. Huckaby, Highway Department district engineer at Monroe.

HEAT CAUSES WALKOUT

BRANTFORD, Ont. (UPI) — A group of employes of the Super Oil Seal Manufacturing Co. walked off their jobs Thursday because of the heat. Plant superintendent Charles Todd said the 50 workers walked out after the company refused to open windows to lessen the heat. Todd said the building has its own ventilating system and windows are kept closed.

CUBA TO HOST ARABS

CAIRO (UPI)—The United Arab Republic will send an economic delegation to Cuba shortly, officials said Friday. Economic Under Secretary Mahmoud Badawi Elshiati will head the delegation.

ARSONISTS BLAMED

Home Of Hoffa's Friend Is Razed

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (UPI)—The home of a Detroit Teamster Union official and close friend of Teamster boss Jimmy Hoffa, was destroyed Thursday night by fire which police said was set by arsonists.

Three empty five-gallon gasoline cans and a fourth partly empty can were found in the two-story brick veneer hilltop house in Bloomfield Township. The home was completely destroyed. Only the shell, the basement and the garage remained. Damage was estimated between $30,000 and $50,000.

The home was occupied by Charles O'Brien, 28, business agent for Detroit Teamster Union Local 299—Hoffa's home union. O'Brien, his wife, Mary Ann, and two children, Charles, 5, and Josephine, 2, were away. O'Brien was reported in Wyoming on business. Mrs. O'Brien and the children were in Kansas City.

It was the second arson case in less than a year in Michigan involving Teamsters Union officials. Last August, Frank Kierdorf, business agent for a Teamster local in Flint, was fatally burned when he bungled an arson job at a Dry-cleaning establishment in Flint. Jack Thompson, another Teamster official, was convicted of being his accomplice in the arson and is now serving time at Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson.

In Thursday night's arson case, the house was owned by O'Brien's mother, Mrs. Sylvia Paris, a one-time official of a grocery clerk's union, and divorced wife of the late John D. Paris, secretary - treasurer of the Laundry Workers Union.

Mrs. Paris had been staying at the home while her son's family was away—but had been attending a township meeting when the fire started.

She told police her son had received a number of threats after he had tried to organize police and department of public works employes in Dearborn.

Mrs. Paris also said that a man driving an unmarked truck drove to the home last Tuesday and told her he was looking for an address on another road. She said he told her he was a telephone company repairman. She said she did not think anything of it at the time, but had let him in the house while he consulted his map.

State police said the fire was started by spewing gasoline through the downstairs living room and in the upstairs living rooms, and setting fire to it.

The entire inside of the house was burned out and part of the roof was burned away.

Another mystery of the case, according to state police Detective Sergeant Oramel O'Farrell, was that all doors and windows of the house were found locked by firemen when they arrived. They broke the lock on the front door to get inside.

Bert Brennan, president of Teamster Local 337 and a top aide of Hoffa in Detroit, said he could think of no reason why O'Brien's home would be a target of arsonists.

Mrs. Paris also said that a man driving an unmarked truck drove to the home last Tuesday and told her he was looking for an address on another road. She said he told her he was a telephone company repairman. She said she did not think anything of it at the time, but had let him in the house while he consulted his map.

State police said the fire was started by spewing gasoline through the downstairs living room and in the upstairs living rooms, and setting fire to it.

The entire inside of the house was burned out and part of the roof was burned away.

Another mystery of the case, according to state police Detective Sergeant Oramel O'Farrell, was that all doors and windows of the house were found locked by firemen when they arrived. They broke the lock on the front door to get inside.

Bert Brennan, president of Teamster Local 337 and a top aide of Hoffa in Detroit, said he could think of no reason why O'Brien's home would be a target of arsonists.

IN MONROE

Hixson Purchases Hall Funeral Home

The purchase of Hall Funeral Home by Hixson Brothers was made public in a joint statement by both parties yesterday.

Hixson Brothers announced that the Hall business eventually would be consolidated with Hixson facilities on Jackson Street.

The $30,000 purchase included Hall's business, equipment, caskets on hand, policy obligations, and good will. Hixson has already taken over control of operations.

The sale to Hixson did not include Hall Life Insurance Company, which will continue to be owned and operated by C. A. Hall.

Nor did the Hixson purchase include the real property of Hall located at 403 Jackson street. Hall announced the sale of the real estate last week to St. Francis Hospital for $130,000.

Hixson Brothers, operators of a funeral home chain in Louisiana, announced that all of Hall's funeral assessment obligations and other service committments would be met "in every respect." They will service the several thousand policy holders of Hall.

Hixson Brothers is affiliated with Central State Life Insurance Company, which is domiciled in Alexandria.

James L. Brooks, manager of Hixson, will manage the Hall consolidation and continue as head of Hixson's funeral business in Monroe.

Hall began his funeral business here 21 years ago with the purchase of National Funeral Home. The name of the funeral home was changed to Dixie Funeral Home for a brief period. Later the name was changed to Hall Funeral Home under which the business was operated until the sale to Hixson.

City Court

MONROE

Topping the fines levied by Judge W. M. Harper in Monroe city court yesterday was $400 or seven months on a drunken driving charge. Walter Jordon received it.

Charged with theft, Frank Robinson was assessed $300 or 300 days.

The following forfeited bonds for speeding charges:

Onnie L. Hortman, $12.50; Eugene Yeast, $5; Charlie Ward, $5; Gerald Stewart, $10; Clifford Pamsey, $12.50, and James Gagaway, $12.50.

WEST MONROE

West Monroe's city court session consisted largely of bond forfeitures yesterday. Judge Jasper Jones presided.

Forfeiting a $25 bond on a reckless driving charge was Thomas S. Brooks.

Buck Clark and Donnie D. Waldrop each forfeited a $20.50 bond for speeding charges while Bristol L. Myers forfeited a $30.50 bond on the same count.

Contract Signed To Blacktop The Holly Ridge Hwy.

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Cunningham and McCullen of Shreveport has received a $105,676 Louisiana Department of Highways contract for 3.4 miles of blacktopping work along the Holly Ridge-Darnell Hwy., State Rt. 585, in Richland Parish.

Highway Director R. B. Richardson said plans call for grading, drainage structures, aggregate type or soil cement base course and three-application bituminous surface treatment, 20-feet wide.

Work has already begun and five months will be needed for completion. The project begins at the junction of State Rouge 134 and runs north to the West Carroll Parish line.

Richardson said the contractor will not be required to provide for or maintain through traffic but will provide for local traffic at all junctions and crossings of existing traveled roads.

Fred M. Hill of Monroe is the member of the State Board of Highways from the Fifth Congressional District, in which the project is located.

Richardson said W. R. Overton of Monroe has been designated as project engineer, under direction of Wayne H. Huckaby, Highway Department district engineer at Monroe.

HEAT CAUSES WALKOUT

BRANTFORD, Ont. (UPI) — A group of employes of the Super Oil Seal Manufacturing Co. walked off their jobs Thursday because of the heat. Plant superintendent Charles Todd said the 50 workers walked out after the company refused to open windows to lessen the heat. Todd said the building has its own ventilating system and windows are kept closed.

CUBA TO HOST ARABS

CAIRO (UPI)—The United Arab Republic will send an economic delegation to Cuba shortly, officials said Friday. Economic Under Secretary Mahmoud Badawi Elshiati will head the delegation.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

Forsythe Park To Be Scene Of Sunday Concert

Sunday at 3 p.m. the Twin Cities Civic Band will present a concert at Foresythe Park. There will be no admission charge.

The band, under the direction of Roland Carter, former director of West Monroe High School Band, will present a varied program ranging from the "Battle of New Orleans" to "Themes from Offenbach."

The band was organized in the spring of this year and has practiced weekly at the First Baptist Church of West Monroe, its sponsor.

Its membership is composed of junior hig, high school, and college students.

This will be the first performance open to the public, and the first of a Series of concerts planned by the organization.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 40 cents a bale higher to 5 cents lower Friday, with only distant October showing a decline.

The market was reactionary in early dealings on a fairm amount of hedging in nearby months, with New Orleans selling at one time depressing the distant 1960 positions as much as 75 cents a bale.

In later trading the market firmed as spot house buying and professional short covering broadened.

The upturn in futures was partly attributed to reports of increasing interest in new crop cotton at primary markets.

Switching operations by traders between the current crop and the 1960 crop months was relatively active.

Private crop weather reports were mixed.

Futures closed 40 cents a bale higher to 5 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — After a few sales at steady to strong prices the butcher hog market turned weak again Friday and finished as much as 25 cents lower.

The market barely made a $15.25 top, equal to the high of the week which was paid also on Wednesday. It went for less than 25 head of 208 lb No. 1 grade.

The supply of 4,500 head brought the total for the week to a small 36,500, off 2,500 from last week, but it left prices generally still at their lowest levels in more than 2½ years.

No. 1 and mixed 1-2 grades weighing 200-225 lbs went Friday at $14.75-15.00, the practical top, and mixed 1-3 grades in the 200-220 lb range at $14.65-$14.90 while a few 200-230 lb strictly No. 3s went for $14.00. Heavier weights sold down to $12.00.

Sows were steady to weak at $9.25-12.25.

There were no sales of slaughter steers or heifers as the cattle supply dropped to 200 head. There were a few sales of vealers and bulls at quotabley steady prices. Vealers were $33.00 for good to choice and bulls $21.50-24.00 for utility to commercial grades.

Only a sprinkling of slaughter lambs went on sale. They graded choice and moved at $23.00.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK (AP) —

Cattle — Supply insufficient for market test.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures tetered over a fairly broad price range Friday on the Board of Trade but finished in a moderate flurry of buying at their highs for the day, up mostly in major fractions.

Twice during the active session in that pit, all contracts skipped from major fractions above to major fractions below previous closes. Profit takers jumped on the bulges and shorts used the setbacks to cover commitments as dealers noted reports that dry weather in the major producing region of central Illinois had damaged the crop somewhat and already had cut the yield outlook as much as 50 per cent in at least a few scattered spots.

The same drouth reports had a steadying effect in the corn pit despite the recent government forecast that the crop appeared headed for record high production.

Otherwise trade was dull with wheat and oats under mild selling pressure mainly because of slow commercial demand.

The grain trade generally called the 1959 winter wheat harvest at an end Friday so far as the seasonal peak pressure of hedge selling is concerned.

Wheat closed unchanged to ⅝ cent a bushel lower on the 1959 crop months, July $1.86⅛-86, and the 1959 crop months ¾-1 cent lower; corn ⅛-½ cent higher, July $1.25¼-⅜; oats ⅛ higher to ½ lower, July new type contract 67¾; rye ⅝-1⅝ higher, July $1.27 ⅜; soybeans ⅜-¾ higher, July $2.20½-⅝.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

QUASHED SUBPENA

A federal judge quashed a government subpena Friday that would have forced General Motors Corp. to open its books dating as far back as 1929 in connection with a Justice Department probe into possible monopoly in the auto industry. The judge ruled that the information sought from GM was "unprecedented" in the court's experience and "unreasonable."

DEFENSE CONTRACTS

Navy officials admitted to congressional investigators they did a "bad" job in negotiating 14 defense contracts on which the government was overcharged more than $12 million. The Navy said it had taken steps to prevent such a recurrence but couldn't "guarantee" that it wouldn't.

GRAIN FUEL

The House Appropriations Committee recommends that the government investigate the possibility of extracting fuel from grain by bombarding it with radiation. The committee voted $10 million to conduct the study.

FOREIGN CURRENIES

President Eisenhower asks Congress to approve spending $32,400,000 in foreign currencies credited to the U.S. government in return for surplus crops sent abroad. The President said he planned to spend the foreign currency on research projects abroad.

STOCKS DECLINE

Stocks lost more ground Friday with rails, steels, motors and electronics leading the way. Despite the over-all easiness of the market, there were a number of good gains in the list as issues responded to favorable corporate developments.

Stock Prices Close Lower For Session

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks closed lower for the second straight session Friday in moderate trading.

A late rally helped to pare losses throughout the list but losses outnumbered declines by a good margin at the close. The Steels, electrical equipments, chemicals, and rails were the chief offenders in the decline.

There were some fairly sharp gains in the main list, mainly among stocks outside the group used to compile the averages. Some issues responded strongly to favorable corporate developments such as stock splits, increased dividends and mergers.

Fears of a long steel strike, and the effects it would have on corporate earnings and dividends this year, helped to keep the market off balance.

The rails showed the sharpest decline in the averages. This industry already has begun to feel the impact of the steel strike and the effects will get worse as the strike drags on. Norfolk & Western was off more than 2 points while losses of a point or more appeared in Baltimore & Ohio, Great Northern, and Southern Pacific.

Leading steel stocks lost fractions to around a point or more in Jones & Laughlin, and Republic Steel. Youngstown Sheet & Tube rallied to finish more than a point higher. Auto stocks showed losses running to more than a point in Ford.

Black & Decker responded to a stock split and dividend hike with a gain running past 3 points. John R. Thompson was up more than 4 for the same reason.

TICKER TAPE HIGHLIGHTS

PRICES MIXED

Yesterday a closing rally pared losses and the market ended on a fairly firm note. Specialties generated some interest with Black and Decker ahead 3¼ and J. R. Thompson plus 4¼ on proposed splits. Rohm and Haas tacked on 20 more while Eastman Kodak was 1⅜ to a new top. Spencer Chemical added 1⅝ while Dow dropped 2. Steels were also mixed with Granite City up 2¼ to a new high Youngstown ahead 1⅞ and Republic off 1¾.

DRUGS VARIED

Drugs were varied with Vick, Plough, and Schering each up about 1½ as Merck and Bristol Myers slipped 1. Airlines and Aircrafts were largely neglected although Douglas dropped to a new low and Piper rose 1⅝. Coppers and tobaccos were also quiet as Lorillard gave up 1⅜ of recent gains. Oils showed fractional gains to 1¼ by Amerada. Moderate profit taking clipped fractions in Aluminums as Reynolds dropped 1⅞.

PAPERS RISE

Mixed Electronics featured Beckman up 4⅞ while General Electric, Motorla and Zenith dropped 1. Motors were soft with Ford and General Motors off about 1½ each. Building and paper shares were ignored although Georgia Pacific rose 1⅝ and U. S. Plywood dropped a similar amount as a contest over acquisition of Booth-Kelly was apparently resolved. Firestone added 1¼ in quiet rubbers while specialty action included Wagner Electric up 3½. Cocoa Cola ahead 3¼. Average plus 2 with IBM down 3 and Caterpillar off 2¼. Rails continued recent weakness as Norfolk and Western slid 2¼ Southern Pacific gave up 1½ and great Northern fell 1.

AVERAGES LOW

The Industrials off $1 at 11 a.m., drifted to minus 1.95 at 2.00 p.m., and rallied moderately to show a new loss of 1.16 to 657.13. The rails also reached a low point around 2 p.m., but still ended off 1.54 at 166.95. The Utilities were minus 24 to 88.95.

Going Nowhere

All three main lines of the Santa Fe Railroad were blocked today at Emporia, Kan. when these 29 cars of a 124-car eastbound freight train derailed 12 miles west of Emporia. Three of the wrecked cars contained liquid pertoleum gas but neither fire nor explosion resulted. Cause of the wreck was not immediately determined. Rail traffic between Newton, Kan., and Kansas City was rerouted over other lines until the tracks could be cleared. (AP Wirephoto)

BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

Labor Controls Bill Completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Labor Committee completed a labor controls bill Friday which takes some of the force out of the Senate-passed antiracketeering measure.

More than 100 committee amendments represented a virtual rewriting of the Senate's "bill of rights" for union members, its election safeguards, Taft-Hartley Act revision and other provisions.

As its final action winding up five weeks of closed-door sessions, the committee eliminated Senate-approved suggestions for adoption of voluntary codes of ethics by unions and business.

Republicans called the bill much weaker than the Senate measure.

Democrats had varying opinions. Rep. Roy W. Wier (D-Minn) summed up: "It has something in it for everybody."

The sessions closed with a blast by Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) at "outside influences" he accused of attempting to dictate to the committee during its working hours.

He did not identify them. But his charges followed closely grumbling among some committee members about what they called pressures exerted by representatives of labor unions.

Barden contended the committee's bill virtually destroyed the Senate version and just about knocked out of it entirely the union members' bill of rights backed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Labor-Management Committee.

The bill may be ready to send to the House next week. It is certain to touch off a free-ofr-all battle to rewrite it on the floor.

The House version follows only the framework of the Senate bill.

The bill of rights was rewarded to delete criminal penalties for violation of the rights spelled out for union members.

Instead of a jail term and fine for union officials convicted of coercing or discipling members who exercise their rights, the House bill provides that aggrieved members must use internal union procedure for six months and then seek an injunction in federal court.

The bill removes authority proposed for the secretary of labor by the Senate to investigate union elections for improprieties, or to refer evidence of wrongdoing to any other government agency.

On the other hand, the bill tightens up requirements on both unions and employers to report financial dealings involving labor-management relations.

A major House action would change the Taft-Hartley law to enlarge the National Labor Relations Board from five to seven members and require it to take jurisdiction in all labor cases.

Crippled Plane 'Talked-In' For Landing In Fog

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — A Marine C 47 with one engine out and 24 persons aboard was "talked-in" to Olmstead Air Force Base during a fog Friday morning, the Air Force announced late Friday.

Aboard the two-engine plane were Marine pilot Col. J. P. Coursey and co-pilot M. Sgt. W.L. Simpson, along with 22 other Marines. The plane had taken off from Quantico, Va., and was en route to Niagra Falls, N. Y.

About 15 miles from Harrisburg the engine failed and the pilot radioed Harrisburg State Airport. The airport turned the pilot over to Olmstead which has a ground controlled approach set up.

Air Force M. Sgt. George Sutton "talked-in" the pilot from 10 miles out in a fog that limited visibility to one mile and the ceiling to 500 feet. The plane landed without mishap.

Late in the afternoon another plane came up from Quantico and took the Marines to Niagra Falls. An Air Force spokesman said no other names, ages or addresses are available.

Sutton is a native of Stubenville, Ohio. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Sutton, live in Mechanicstown, Ohio.

General Motors Winner In Fight On Old Records

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors Corp. won its court fight Friday against digging up 30 years of its records for a grand jury.

Lawyers for the nation's biggest auto producer argued that the federal government wanted the records as part of a "fishing expedition" to support a civil antitrust action against GM.

The company said the government subpoena of the records would involve tons of files lodged in more than 100,000 drawers.

The government replied that it needed the documents to trace GM policy decisions and thus determine whether legal action was justified against GM.

U.S. Dist. Judge John F. X. McGohey threw out the subpoena, ruling: "It is settled law that a demand for production of documents must be reasonable. I hold that this subpoena is unreasonable. It will be quashed. In view of what has been said, it is unnecessary to pass now on the corporation's contention that in any event the government is misusing the grand jury process to discover evidence to support a civil suit."

IN FEDERAL COURT

Charges Against James Dismissed

SHREVEPORT (Special)—Embezzlement charges against N. Bryant James, chairman of the State Republican Central Committee and former Farmerville banker, were dismissed in federal court here Thursday because of defective wording.

U. S. District Attorney T. Fitzhugh Wilson said the indictment issued May 14 was dismissed because the government after further research discovered the terms "money, funds or credit" used therein did not apply to the furniture and fixtures James was alleged to have embezzled from the Farmerville bank.

Wilson said, however, the government now will seek a superceding indictment from the next grand jury convened. He said no date is set at present for a calling of the next federal grand jury.

The dismissal signed by Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins dropped charges against James and canceled the $2,000 bond under which he has been at liberty since the indictment.

James pleaded innocent to acquiring the furnishings from the Farmerville Bank he headed as president from 1943-58. The furniture was taken by the bank from a West Monroe men's store in bankruptcy proceedings.

Wilson said the government elected to not oppose James' motion for dismissal of the case after a re-examination of the wording of the indictment. But he said there definitely will be "further prosecutive action."

The former Farmerville banker, now president of the James Security Co. and an officer of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Union Parish, is represented by another leading Louisiana Republican party member, George M. Snelling Jr. of Monroe. James first headed the state party in 1952, and has been at its helm since.

MOTHERS-TO-BE-FETED

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mothers-to-be have the opportunity to attend a unique social event at Lakewood Hospital — a maternity tea.

The hospital has entertained an average of 100 expectant mothers every month for the past two years. They are shown through the maternity facilities and encouraged to ask questions.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 40 cents a bale higher to 5 cents lower Friday, with only distant October showing a decline.

The market was reactionary in early dealings on a fairm amount of hedging in nearby months, with New Orleans selling at one time depressing the distant 1960 positions as much as 75 cents a bale.

In later trading the market firmed as spot house buying and professional short covering broadened.

The upturn in futures was partly attributed to reports of increasing interest in new crop cotton at primary markets.

Switching operations by traders between the current crop and the 1960 crop months was relatively active.

Private crop weather reports were mixed.

Futures closed 40 cents a bale higher to 5 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — After a few sales at steady to strong prices the butcher hog market turned weak again Friday and finished as much as 25 cents lower.

The market barely made a $15.25 top, equal to the high of the week which was paid also on Wednesday. It went for less than 25 head of 208 lb No. 1 grade.

The supply of 4,500 head brought the total for the week to a small 36,500, off 2,500 from last week, but it left prices generally still at their lowest levels in more than 2½ years.

No. 1 and mixed 1-2 grades weighing 200-225 lbs went Friday at $14.75-15.00, the practical top, and mixed 1-3 grades in the 200-220 lb range at $14.65-$14.90 while a few 200-230 lb strictly No. 3s went for $14.00. Heavier weights sold down to $12.00.

Sows were steady to weak at $9.25-12.25.

There were no sales of slaughter steers or heifers as the cattle supply dropped to 200 head. There were a few sales of vealers and bulls at quotabley steady prices. Vealers were $33.00 for good to choice and bulls $21.50-24.00 for utility to commercial grades.

Only a sprinkling of slaughter lambs went on sale. They graded choice and moved at $23.00.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK (AP) —

Stocks—Lower; rails, steels motors decline.

Bonds — Mixed; governments decline.

Cotton — Irregular; mill buying in current contracts.

Chicago:

Wheat — Lower; slow demand.

Corn — Higher; light commercial demand.

Oats — Mostly lower; liquidation.

Soybeans — Higher; short covering.

Hogs — Steady to 25 cents lower; top $15.25.

Cattle — Supply insufficient for market test.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures tetered over a fairly broad price range Friday on the Board of Trade but finished in a moderate flurry of buying at their highs for the day, up mostly in major fractions.

Twice during the active session in that pit, all contracts skipped from major fractions above to major fractions below previous closes. Profit takers jumped on the bulges and shorts used the setbacks to cover commitments as dealers noted reports that dry weather in the major producing region of central Illinois had damaged the crop somewhat and already had cut the yield outlook as much as 50 per cent in at least a few scattered spots.

The same drouth reports had a steadying effect in the corn pit despite the recent government forecast that the crop appeared headed for record high production.

Otherwise trade was dull with wheat and oats under mild selling pressure mainly because of slow commercial demand.

The grain trade generally called the 1959 winter wheat harvest at an end Friday so far as the seasonal peak pressure of hedge selling is concerned.

Wheat closed unchanged to ⅝ cent a bushel lower on the 1959 crop months, July $1.86⅛-86, and the 1959 crop months ¾-1 cent lower; corn ⅛-½ cent higher, July $1.25¼-⅜; oats ⅛ higher to ½ lower, July new type contract 67¾; rye ⅝-1⅝ higher, July $1.27 ⅜; soybeans ⅜-¾ higher, July $2.20½-⅝.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

QUASHED SUBPENA

A federal judge quashed a government subpena Friday that would have forced General Motors Corp. to open its books dating as far back as 1929 in connection with a Justice Department probe into possible monopoly in the auto industry. The judge ruled that the information sought from GM was "unprecedented" in the court's experience and "unreasonable."

DEFENSE CONTRACTS

Navy officials admitted to congressional investigators they did a "bad" job in negotiating 14 defense contracts on which the government was overcharged more than $12 million. The Navy said it had taken steps to prevent such a recurrence but couldn't "guarantee" that it wouldn't.

GRAIN FUEL

The House Appropriations Committee recommends that the government investigate the possibility of extracting fuel from grain by bombarding it with radiation. The committee voted $10 million to conduct the study.

FOREIGN CURRENIES

President Eisenhower asks Congress to approve spending $32,400,000 in foreign currencies credited to the U.S. government in return for surplus crops sent abroad. The President said he planned to spend the foreign currency on research projects abroad.

STOCKS DECLINE

Stocks lost more ground Friday with rails, steels, motors and electronics leading the way. Despite the over-all easiness of the market, there were a number of good gains in the list as issues responded to favorable corporate developments.

Stock Prices Close Lower For Session

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks closed lower for the second straight session Friday in moderate trading.

A late rally helped to pare losses throughout the list but losses outnumbered declines by a good margin at the close. The Steels, electrical equipments, chemicals, and rails were the chief offenders in the decline.

There were some fairly sharp gains in the main list, mainly among stocks outside the group used to compile the averages. Some issues responded strongly to favorable corporate developments such as stock splits, increased dividends and mergers.

Fears of a long steel strike, and the effects it would have on corporate earnings and dividends this year, helped to keep the market off balance.

The rails showed the sharpest decline in the averages. This industry already has begun to feel the impact of the steel strike and the effects will get worse as the strike drags on. Norfolk & Western was off more than 2 points while losses of a point or more appeared in Baltimore & Ohio, Great Northern, and Southern Pacific.

Leading steel stocks lost fractions to around a point or more in Jones & Laughlin, and Republic Steel. Youngstown Sheet & Tube rallied to finish more than a point higher. Auto stocks showed losses running to more than a point in Ford.

Black & Decker responded to a stock split and dividend hike with a gain running past 3 points. John R. Thompson was up more than 4 for the same reason.

TICKER TAPE HIGHLIGHTS

PRICES MIXED

Yesterday a closing rally pared losses and the market ended on a fairly firm note. Specialties generated some interest with Black and Decker ahead 3¼ and J. R. Thompson plus 4¼ on proposed splits. Rohm and Haas tacked on 20 more while Eastman Kodak was 1⅜ to a new top. Spencer Chemical added 1⅝ while Dow dropped 2. Steels were also mixed with Granite City up 2¼ to a new high Youngstown ahead 1⅞ and Republic off 1¾.

DRUGS VARIED

Drugs were varied with Vick, Plough, and Schering each up about 1½ as Merck and Bristol Myers slipped 1. Airlines and Aircrafts were largely neglected although Douglas dropped to a new low and Piper rose 1⅝. Coppers and tobaccos were also quiet as Lorillard gave up 1⅜ of recent gains. Oils showed fractional gains to 1¼ by Amerada. Moderate profit taking clipped fractions in Aluminums as Reynolds dropped 1⅞.

PAPERS RISE

Mixed Electronics featured Beckman up 4⅞ while General Electric, Motorla and Zenith dropped 1. Motors were soft with Ford and General Motors off about 1½ each. Building and paper shares were ignored although Georgia Pacific rose 1⅜ and U. S. Plywood dropped a similar amount as a contest over acquisition of Booth-Kelly was apparently resolved. Firestone added 1¼ in quiet rubbers while specialty action included Wagner Electric up 3½. Cocoa Cola ahead 3¼. Average plus 2 with IBM down 3 and Caterpillar off 2¼. Rails continued recent weakness as Norfolk and Western slid 2¼ Southern Pacific gave up 1½ and great Northern fell 1.

AVERAGES LOW

The Industrials off $1 at 11 a.m., drifted to minus 1.95 at 2.00 p.m., and rallied moderately to show a new loss of 1.16 to 657.13. The rails also reached a low point around 2 p.m., but still ended off 1.54 at 166.95. The Utilities were minus 24 to 88.95.

Going Nowhere

All three main lines of the Santa Fe Railroad were blocked today at Emporia, Kan. when these 29 cars of a 124-car eastbound freight train derailed 12 miles west of Emporia. Three of the wrecked cars contained liquid pertoleum gas but neither fire nor explosion resulted. Cause of the wreck was not immediately determined. Rail traffic between Newton, Kan., and Kansas City was rerouted over other lines until the tracks could be cleared. (AP Wirephoto)

BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

Labor Controls Bill Completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Labor Committee completed a labor controls bill Friday which takes some of the force out of the Senate-passed antiracketeering measure.

More than 100 committee amendments represented a virtual rewriting of the Senate's "bill of rights" for union members, its election safeguards, Taft-Hartley Act revision and other provisions.

As its final action winding up five weeks of closed-door sessions, the committee eliminated Senate-approved suggestions for adoption of voluntary codes of ethics by unions and business.

Republicans called the bill much weaker than the Senate measure.

Democrats had varying opinions. Rep. Roy W. Wier (D-Minn) summed up: "It has something in it for everybody."

The sessions closed with a blast by Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) at "outside influences" he accused of attempting to dictate to the committee during its working hours.

He did not identify them. But his charges followed closely grumbling among some committee members about what they called pressures exerted by representatives of labor unions.

Barden contended the committee's bill virtually destroyed the Senate version and just about knocked out of it entirely the union members' bill of rights backed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Labor-Management Committee.

The bill may be ready to send to the House next week. It is certain to touch off a free-ofr-all battle to rewrite it on the floor.

The House version follows only the framework of the Senate bill.

The bill of rights was rewarded to delete criminal penalties for violation of the rights spelled out for union members.

Instead of a jail term and fine for union officials convicted of coercing or discipling members who exercise their rights, the House bill provides that aggrieved members must use internal union procedure for six months and then seek an injunction in federal court.

The bill removes authority proposed for the secretary of labor by the Senate to investigate union elections for improprieties, or to refer evidence of wrongdoing to any other government agency.

On the other hand, the bill tightens up requirements on both unions and employers to report financial dealings involving labor-management relations.

A major House action would change the Taft-Hartley law to enlarge the National Labor Relations Board from five to seven members and require it to take jurisdiction in all labor cases.

Crippled Plane 'Talked-In' For Landing In Fog

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — A Marine C 47 with one engine out and 24 persons aboard was "talked-in" to Olmstead Air Force Base during a fog Friday morning, the Air Force announced late Friday.

Aboard the two-engine plane were Marine pilot Col. J. P. Coursey and co-pilot M. Sgt. W.L. Simpson, along with 22 other Marines. The plane had taken off from Quantico, Va., and was en route to Niagra Falls, N. Y.

About 15 miles from Harrisburg the engine failed and the pilot radioed Harrisburg State Airport. The airport turned the pilot over to Olmstead which has a ground controlled approach set up.

Air Force M. Sgt. George Sutton "talked-in" the pilot from 10 miles out in a fog that limited visibility to one mile and the ceiling to 500 feet. The plane landed without mishap.

Late in the afternoon another plane came up from Quantico and took the Marines to Niagra Falls. An Air Force spokesman said no other names, ages or addresses are available.

Sutton is a native of Stubenville, Ohio. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Sutton, live in Mechanicstown, Ohio.

General Motors Winner In Fight On Old Records

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors Corp. won its court fight Friday against digging up 30 years of its records for a grand jury.

Lawyers for the nation's biggest auto producer argued that the federal government wanted the records as part of a "fishing expedition" to support a civil antitrust action against GM.

The company said the government subpoena of the records would involve tons of files lodged in more than 100,000 drawers.

The government replied that it needed the documents to trace GM policy decisions and thus determine whether legal action was justified against GM.

U.S. Dist. Judge John F. X. McGohey threw out the subpoena, ruling: "It is settled law that a demand for production of documents must be reasonable. I hold that this subpoena is unreasonable. It will be quashed. In view of what has been said, it is unnecessary to pass now on the corporation's contention that in any event the government is misusing the grand jury process to discover evidence to support a civil suit."

IN FEDERAL COURT

Charges Against James Dismissed

SHREVEPORT (Special)—Embezzlement charges against N. Bryant James, chairman of the State Republican Central Committee and former Farmerville banker, were dismissed in federal court here Thursday because of defective wording.

U. S. District Attorney T. Fitzhugh Wilson said the indictment issued May 14 was dismissed because the government after further research discovered the terms "money, funds or credit" used therein did not apply to the furniture and fixtures James was alleged to have embezzled from the Farmerville bank.

Wilson said, however, the government now will seek a superceding indictment from the next grand jury convened. He said no date is set at present for a calling of the next federal grand jury.

The dismissal signed by Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins dropped charges against James and canceled the $2,000 bond under which he has been at liberty since the indictment.

James pleaded innocent to acquiring the furnishings from the Farmerville Bank ne headed as president from 1943-58. The furniture was taken by the bank from a West Monroe men's store in bankruptcy proceedings.

Wilson said the government elected to not oppose James' motion for dismissal of the case after a re-examination of the wording of the indictment. But he said there definitely will be "further prosecutive action."

The former Farmerville banker, now president of the James Security Co. and an officer of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Union Parish, is represented by another leading Louisiana Republican party member, George M. Snelling Jr. of Monroe. James first headed the state party in 1952, and has been at its helm since.

Castro Hurls Hot Charges At Urrutia

May Take Over As President In Cuba Upheaval

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro resigned as prime minister of Cuba Friday night, accusing President Manuel Urrutia of "an attitude bordering on treason."

He also accused the President, a former judge he personally put in office earlier this year, of immobility and of failing to discharge his duties.

BULLETIN

HAVANA, Saturday (UPI) — Fidel Castro withdrew his resignation as prime minister of Cuba early Saturday after forcing President Manuel Urrutia Llea to resign

This in turn, Castro told a television audience, has created "discrepancies of moral order."

He did not immediately elaborate.

SECOND ACCUSATION

This is the second time within the past two weeks that the bearded rebel leader had accused close associates of treason or near treason. The other was the case of former Cuban air force chief, Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, who accused Castro of being a Communist.

Urrutia, who has also strongly criticized communism in Cuba was not available for comment. At the presidential palace he refused to receive newsmen.

Heavy pressure was building up to force Urrutia out of office, perhaps to make way for Castro to take over as president.

Urrutia's quick resignation was expected.

Castro declared in a TV speech: "My resignation is caused by the impossibility to discharge my duties in the present circumstances because of difficulties with the President."

Shortly before Castro spoke, the the powerful, half-million-member Sugar Workers Assn., called for Urrutia to resign in deference to Castro.

There had been rumors from time to time of differences between Castro and Urrutia over matters of policy and the way Castro was carrying it out.

Castro put Urrutia in office aft-

Baton Rouge Port Counsel Resigns Post

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The Greater Baton Rouge Port Commission said Friday Theo F. Cangelosi has submitted his resignation as its legal counsel.

The resignation came in a letter to Ernest D. Wilson, commission president.

Cangelosi has come under criticism of Gov. Earl K. Long since the governor's commitment to Texas and Louisiana mental institutions last month.

He stepped out as attorney for Gov. and Mrs. Long in the mixup of their filing cross-suits for legal separation.

But Cangelosi made it clear his stepping aside as legal officer for the Port Commission here does not mean he will quit his post as chairman of the Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors.

Cangelosi has been on the LSU board about eight years and has 12 more years to serve on a 14-year appointment by Gov. Long.

The governor has indicated earlier he wanted to get Cangelosi out of the port job.

Cangelosi said, "If the chairman of the LSU board, whomsoever he might be, would resign under such circumstances as the present he would do irreparable damage to LSU academically and otherwise.

"Under no circumstances, whatsoever, therefore, would I resign as chairman of the LSU board."

Cangelosi said his withdrawal as general counsel for the Port Commission here ""is effective at the pleasure of the commission."

Soviet Composer Plans U. S. Visit

MOSCOW (AP) — Composer Dmitri Shostakovich will visit the United States for a month starting in September. Sergei Aksyuk, one of the leaders of the Soviet Composers Union, announced the trip Friday at a news conference and said it will repay a visit by a group of American composers.

Tass said Shostakovich will be accompanied by Dmitri Kabalevsky and Tihon Khrennikov, two other well-known composers, and Eugenn Kapp, an Estonian musician.

In Court With 79 Tickets

Mrs. Marilyn J. Perron, a French Quarter waitress, waits before bench in traffic court in New Orleans Friday where she appeared to settle 79 parking meter tickets. Judge Andrew J. Bucaro dismissed 29 of the tickets and sentenced Mrs. Perron to pay $100 or serve 30 days for the remainder. (AP Wirephoto)

NEW COMPLAINT MADE

Kidnapping Case Suspect Charged

HAMBURG, Ark. (Special) — Kenneth W. Ellis, 28, of Pioneer, charged with kidnaping and armed robbery, will be taken to the Arkansas State Hospital in Little Rock within a few days for mental observation.

Meanwhile, an attractive Montrose, Ark. housewife reported that Ellis molested her three hours before he kidnaped Mrs. Ira G. Riley, 33, near here Thursday afternoon.

Ashley County Prosecuting Attorney Jimmy Linder said late yesterday that he will not press charges against Ellis in connection with the molesting of Mrs. James Vaughn, 30, of Montrose.

Linder filed kidnapping and armed robbery charges against sullen, blue-eyed Ellis yesterday, and set his bond at $50,000.

OBSERVATION

Ellis will be kept at the state hospital for 30-days observation.

Mrs. Vaughn and her nine-year old son identified Ellis yesterday as the man who forced his way into their rural home at 11:30 a.m. Thursday.

The tall, slender brunette told Ashley County Sheriff B. A. Courson that Ellis held a single-barrel shotgun on her, made her tie her son's hands and lock him in an outdoor toilet, then ordered her to disrobe in a bedroom.

He did not harm her daughters, age 1 and 2, who were asleep on the bed, but molested

Schools

In this column, in a past issue, it was stated that Monroe's public schools would open the day following Labor day. This is incorrect, states Supt. W. W. Ward of the Ouachita Parish Public schools. August 31, will be opening date for parish and city schools here.

Explaining the early opening, Superintendent Ward states that when he first became connected with the school here in 1940, the opening date was September 16.

Now he explains that as an entire week is allotted for Easter vacation, instead of only two days as once was the case, it is vitally important to open school earlier. That is why it will be on August 31 this year. Thus, in a comparatively few weeks, schools will again be in session.

Test Of Cosmic Ray Rocket Fails

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP) —The Navy's second attempt to fire a 150-mile-high cosmic ray rocket fizzled Friday.

The second stage of the Nike-Asp combination failed to fire, officers said. The rocket reached an altitude of 90,000 feet, they said, before falling back into the Pacific Ocean.

BY LAS VEGAS SHERIFF

Officer Gets Fired For Plans To Wed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—"They don't think I'm good enough for him." sniffed showgirl Jackie Winter Friday after the sheriff fired her fiance, Detective Chief William O'Reilly.

"It's that undersheriff, Lloyd Bell — he hates my guts," Miss Winter told reporters. She refused to say why.

O'Reilly, 45, got the sack Thursday after Sheriff W. E. (Butch) Leypoldt received a formal announcement of his planned wedding Aug. 2 to Miss Winter at Christ Episcopal church.

Leypoldt said he warned O'Reilly three months ago, when he took out a marriage license, that the union would not be in the best interest of the department.

"They're trying to imply something about Jackie," O'Reilly said, "and they're wrong."

The sheriff, however, said, "It is the policy of police departments everywhere to terminate officers who marry wealth."

"I don't want any captain of mine coming to work in a Cadillac and living in a $50,000 house."

Miss Winter, 27, insisted she is not wealthy, but does own a Cadillac.

"I worked as a showgirl when I first came here two years ago," she said. "Since then I've invested my earnings in real estate, and I'm still paying on it."

O'Reilly said he wasn't sure what kind of work he would do, now that he has been fired after seven years on the force.

Miss Winter, however, wasn't worried. She said she had a job starting Aug. 20 as a chorus girl in the line at one of the casino hotels in this gambling resort. She

Woman Admits Killing Young Golf Pro Lover

Body Found On Campus Road In Car

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — A shapely, dark-haired waitress admitted Friday night, police reported, that she shot and killed the young golf pro she loved. The slaying occurred earlier in the day on the St. Lawrence University campus.

The 23-year-old woman. Miss Theresa de Francesco of Rochester, said the man did not return her love. Dist. Atty. Charles E. Bowers of St. Lawrence County said.

Bowers said she would be charged with first-degree murder.

SHOT TWICE

The body of Richard Smith, 27, was found dangling from his car, which had skidded to a stop on a road on the university campus. He had been shot twice, at close range.

Smith was golf coach at the university and pro at a nearby country club.

Police in Rochester said Miss De Francesco pleaded guilty in 1952 to a shoplifting charge. She was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for one year.

State police picked up Miss De Francesco late Friday as she rode toward Watertown in a taxicab hired at Massena. The search for her had extended throughout northern New York.

Troopers said the .22-caliber revolver with which Smith was slain was found in her luggage.

A man who had driven her around for several hours, unaware that she was the object of a widespread search, was released after police questioning.

Miss de Francesco was questioned at the state police substation in Watertown before being taken to Canton for arraignment.

The district attorney said he un-

Admits Shooting Brothers; Arms, Legs Hacked Off

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP)—Police said Friday that tall, dark-haired Viola Hyatt told them she killed and mutilated two brothers living on her father's farm, then hauled the bodies up to 50 miles away before dumping them.

The plump, 30-year-old resident of White Plains, Ala., a small community in northeast Calhoun County, was questioned for about six hours Thursday night before she began to tell the story, officers added.

Walter L. Allen, chief investigator for the State Department of Public Safety, said two warrants were issued charging Miss Hyatt with murder. Sheriff Roy Snead of Calhoun County said it will be up to a grand jury to fix the degree of murder.

IDENTIFY VICTIMS

Floyd Mann, state public safety director, said four things contributed to the motive in the brutal slayings three weeks ago.

He listed them as physical abuse to her by the men, physical abuse to her father, "Drinking habits" of the men which irritated the family, and argument over the use of a car.

Authorities identified the victims as Emmett Harper, 48, and Lee Ander Harper, 55.

Both lived in a box-type house trailer near the unpainted frame farm house where Miss Hyatt lived with her elderly father and

Registration Books Close Here At Noon

The voter registration books for Monroe close at noon today, and will not be re-opened until August 19.

Mrs. Mae Lucky, Ouachita Parish registrar of voters said that her office in the Courthouse will remain open until 12 for all Monroe residents wishing to register as voters.

State law requires that registration books be closed for 30-days prior to an election.

On August 18, Monroe property owners will go to the polls to decide on a proposed $5½ million revenue bond issue election.

The City Council called for the election at the request of the Utilities Commission, for an addition to the city power plant.

Pointing out that if the election passes it will involve no additional taxes, officials commented that the bonds will be paid for by revenues from the Utilities Commission.

Only voters in Wards 3 and 10 within the Monroe city limits will be affected by the closing of the registration books.

Eligible persons residing in all other wards and precincts of the parish outside Monroe may continue to register during the 30-day period, Mrs. Lucky explained.

Arkansas Joins In Court Fight

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Arkansas received permission Friday to join Louisiana in a federal court challenge of the Civil Rights Commission.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett of Arkansas had asked permission to file a brief as a friend of the court of support to plaintiff's testing the legality of the commission.

A special three-judge federal court was created to consider the question here Aug. 7 after U. S. District Judge Ben C. Dawkins Jr. last Sunday granted a temporary restraining order banning the commission from forcing 17 registrars to testify on complaints they had unlawfully deprived Negroes of their rights to vote. The request for the order was filed by Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion of Louisiana.

Aides Quit Long To Return Home

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — Gov. Earl K. Long tried Friday to kick down the door of a hotel room to get at sleeping aides who deserted him on a tour of Juarez, Mexico, nightclubs.

The aides simply couldn't keep up with Long, who is 63 and suffering from a nervous breakdown, heart trouble and the aftereffects of a stroke.

So Long, after sunup, stormed into the Hilton Hotel to berate his companions for their lack of stamina. The door was locked and Long tried to kick it in.

"G-- D--- you, wake up in there," Long shouted in rage. Cap Douglas Durrett of the Louisiana State Police tried to pacify Long but the Governor pushed him aside.

TELLS OFF FRIENDS

A bellboy eventually arrived with a key. Long pushed into the room and in loud, profane language told his friends what he thought of them.

Durrett, a tough, veteran state police officer, went into the room and tried to act as a peacemaker. He came out weeping.

"And they say he's sick," Durrett said. "Why, right now, that man could whip any 50 men in Texas."

Exhausted by his rage and an extensive tour of the nightclubs of Juarez, across the border from El Paso, Long finally went to sleep.

While Long was asleep, State Sen. B. B. (Sixty) Rayburn and State Rep. Spencer Myrick, two of Long's closest friends, left in a Louisiana National Gurad C45 plane, taking Durrett with them.

They said they had to go home "on business" and Rayburn said he will rejoin Long Sunday. But it was known that they were on the point of exhaustion.

After Long awoke Friday, he called in State Police Capt. Joe Anselmo and ordered him home. Anselmo packed his bag and left for the El Paso Airport.

Long arrived in El Paso Thursday night after a leisurely trip across West Texas from Fort

Gibbs Seeking Re-Election As Representative

Brushing aside reports that he may be a candidate for the state senate, Rep. Lawrence Gibbs of Monroe yesterday announced he is a candidate for re-election.

Here is Gibbs' statement:

"Until now I have been reluctant to make a public announcement regarding my plans. I have been requested by many of my friends to make the race for the Senate from the Ouachita-Jackson Parish district. After considering all that would be involved, I have decided to run for re-election to the House.

"My decision was based partly on the fact that Senator James D. Sparks and Representative Gilbert Faulk have both declined to run for re-election. This means that I would be the only experienced legislator representing our parish, and I felt that I could accomplish more for our people by remaining in the House, where all appropriation bills originate and where an experienced legisla-

Thundershowers, Warm Expected

Another warm, humid day is forecast for the Twin Cities.

A ground fog is expected early this morning, followed by widely scattered thundershowers starting in mid-morning and becoming more numerous by mid-afternoon. Skies will be partly cloudy today and tomorrow in the Monroe area.

Yesterday's high was 94, low 72 compared with 91 and 71 Thursday.

Considerable cloudiness will prevail over Arkansas today and tomorrow, with scattered thundershowers.

Foreign Aid Funds Hiked By Conferees

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A congressional conference committee handed President Eisenhower a partial victory Friday by approving a $3,556,200,000 foreign aid bill that was bigger than either the Senate of House had originally approved.

The compromise measure, however, was still about 353 million dollars short of the $3,909,000,000 Eisenhower sought to bolster U.S. Allies around the world against the Communist threat. This represented a cut of about 9 per cent.

Even so, the compromise total was an improvement from Eisenhower's viewpoint over the $3,542,600,000 voted by the House and the $3,543,320,000 voted by the Senate.

BATTLE NOT OVER

The President had threatened to recall Congress in special session this fall unless the lawmakers approved what he called an adequate aid bill.

The compromise now goes to both houses for final approval.

Although the measure appeared certain of congressional passage, the foreign aid battle was far from over. Economy advocate will get a further crack at the program when Congress considers another bill carrying the actual cash authorized by Friday's measure.

Congress wound up voting $3,298,072,500 for the program last year.

The fact that the compromise was larger than either the Senate or House totals resulted from the fact that the conferees generally

JEOPARDIZES EDUCATION

Miss Omaha Gives Up Beauty Crown

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Blue-eyed, blonde Miss Omaha gave up her beauty title Friday rather than jeopardize her Catholic college education.

Mary Jean Belitz, 18, said she had been told that if she kept the title and participated in the Miss Nebraska contest, she would be barred from re-entering Duchesne College where she'll be a sophomore in the fall.

Mary Jean said she also was told by the Very Rev. C. M. Reinert, S. J., president of Creighton University, she could not transfer to that Catholic university.

Neither the Creighton nor Duchesne presidents were available for comment.

The chief obstacle to taking part in the beauty contests, Mary Jean said she was told, is bathing suit competition.

Earlier this month, Sue Ingersoll, 20, New Mexico's Miss Universe hopeful, said she would remain in that contest despite a Catholic Church announcement that it would deny her the sacraments for an unspecified period of time if she participated.

Crowd Panics In Stadium, 62 Are Killed

SEOUL, Korea, Saturday (UPI) —At least 62 persons were reported killed and hundreds injured Friday when a sudden rainstorm sent thousands of panic-stricken persons stampeding out of a crowded stadium in Pusan.

Latest reports said the death toll included 34 women and more than a dozen children.

Orient Press news agency said the death toll was expected to rise.

The victims were crushed, smothered and trampled to death in the wild confusion and panic.

Dispatches sent from Pusan by Orient Press said thousands of spectators rose almost in a body and began pushing and clawing their way out of the stadium through a narrow gate when the storm struck.

Police telephone lines to Pusan were knocked out of service by winds and rains from typhoon Billie, which roared up from Formosa and Japan early Friday and fanned out violently over the Yellow Sea and the Asian mainland.

An estimated 50,000 persons were reported to have been in the Pusan stadium to watch a special "free citizens" show sponsored by the newspaper Kikje Shinbo when

Cuban Prexy Has Dislike Of Violence

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban President Manuel Urrutia, accused by Fidel Castro of an attitude bordering on treason, is a soft-spoken man who dislikes violence.

Even before Castro started the 1956-58 revolt that deposed President Fulgencio Batista, Urrutia lost his post as a judge for opposing prosecution of those who opposed Batista's government.

While Castro was waging his 25-month war against Batista, the revolutionary leader named Urrutia to be provisional president.

Batista fled Cuba last Jan. 1. Urrutia, 5?, took the oath as provisional president Jan. 3.

Following the triumph of the revolution it looked as though he would in fact be the leader of the government.

Castro had said he did not want a political office.

But in a surprise move Castro became prime minister Feb. 13. Since then Urrutia's role in governing the country has decreased until he is little more than a figurehead.

Before being fired by Batista, Urrutia was a judge for 31 years.

He is a native of Santiago, a member of an old and respected family. He began his public career as a judge in easternmost Oriente province, which later became Castro's revolutionary stamping ground.

In 1951, Urrutia became magistrate of Oriente's Provincial Court. A coup brought Batista to power the next year.

In 1955, a year before Castro started his successful guerrilla warfare, Urrutia publicly took a stand against prosecution of those who opposed the government.

For this, Batista removed Urrutia from his post as magistrate.

Urrutia remained in Cuba until April 19, 1957. Then he fled to exile in New York. Late last year he secretly rejoined Castro in the mountains of Oriente province.

Both O'Reilly and Miss Winter, a statuesque brunette, have been divorced. He has a 10-year-old daughter living with his former wife in Los Angeles.

Miss Winter's 10-year-old son and 6-year-old daughter are living with her mother, Mrs. Karl E. Richeta of Dallas. All three plan to come here for the wedding, she said.

Miss Winter said she came here two years ago from Buffalo, N.Y., where she worked as a TV actress and model.

Bunche Drops Racial Case Against Club

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche was ready Friday to drop his complaint against the West Side Tennis Club. But a city racial commission was less willing to forgive and forget.

After hearing thea Nobel Prize winning Negro, the city's Commission on Intergroup Relations said it may seek to force private clubs to make their membership lists public.

The commission also went ahead with plans to interrogate representatives of the tennis club, which operates the Forest Hills arena in Queens where many championship matches are held.

Dr. Bunche, a United Nations undersecretary, originally inquired about the possibility of joining the tennis club so his 15-year-old son would have a place to practice the game.

Bunche said he was told by the club president, Wilfred Burglund, that Negroes and Jews were not eligible for membership.

Earlier this week, Burglund resigned and the club issued a statement saying it considers membership applications without regard to race, creed or color.

The club invited Bunche and his son to submit formal applications and promised them every consideration. Bunche said he is not interested now in joining. His son still is thinking the matter over.

Before Friday's meeting with the commission, Bunche said: "This has not been a pleasant experience and I am glad it is over.

Driver Injured In Wreck Here

Two cars clashed together at the intersection of South Third St. and Ouachita Ave. last night and one of the drivers was hospitalized and ticketed on a charge of reckless driving. He was Mitchell J. Oliver, 25, 1007 Florida St.

Police said Oliver was driving his car north on South Third and his brakes went out as he approached the stop sign at Ouachita Ave. He broadsided a car pulling a boat trailer driven by Ezra F. Hammett, 35, 1600 South Seventh. Both cars, the trailer and the boat were damaged.

According to authorities, Oliver showed no visible signs of injury but was taken to the St. Francis for observation.

Officer R. H. Breland investigated the accident.

derstood that Smith had received money and diamonds from the woman last winter.

State police said Smith had a date with another woman Thursday night. He said good night to her about 2 a.m. Friday, then met Miss de Francesco, who had arrived in Canton Thursday night, they reported.

Smith was divorced. His former wife and their two young children live in Johnson City, near Binghamton in south-central New York.

Smith's father, Ernest E. Smith, a golf pro at Binghamton, said his son and the woman apparently became acquainted last winter in Miami, Fla. The elder Smith said she telephoned his son from Miami several times after he returned to his parents' home this spring. He took the jobs in Canton in April.

The father said he knew of no serious attachment between his son and the waitress.

Miss de Francesco had been staying recently in Lake Placid.

She arrived in Canton Thursday night, apparently by bus, carrying only a make-up case and a cardboard box that apparently contained a dress. When she disappeared Friday morning, she left behind the empty box and a $6 hotel bill.

State police said she hitchhiked a ride on a truck to Malone.

From Malone, she telephoned a friend, Patrick J. McCarthy, 49, of Bombay, at the hotel in Fort Covington, near Malone, where he was staying. She asked him to pick her up and take her back to Fort Covington with him, McCarthy said.

McCarthy told troopers that, when he met her, she asked that he first drive to Lake Placid. They picked up four suitcases at her rooming house in the Adirondack resort, then drove to Massena where they stopped for lunch.

At Massena, McCarthy said, Miss de Francesco proposed that he drive her to Rochester but he refused. Then, he said, she called a taxi and said she would go to Watertown to catch a bus for Rochester.

McCarthy told state police the woman never mentioned being in any trouble. He said he had met her about two weeks ago in Malone.

State police still were seeking McCarthy and his green and white convertible when he appeared at the state police substation in Massena. He said he had heard on a radio broadcast that they were looking for him. Troopers released him after questioning.

Smith and the woman, who was first identified as Terry Francis of Miami, were seen together in Canton early Friday.

At 4 a.m., a village police sergeant noticed the woman walking in the downtown area and spoke to her. She asked for a ride to her hotel and he took her there. Police said she seemed calm.

The business section is about a mile from the spot where a workman discovered Smith's body at 7 a.m. The road runs between the university campus and the course of St. Lawrence Golf and Country Club, where he was pro.

Six-foot skid marks on the road indicated the car had been stopped suddenly. Police said there was no evidence of a struggle.

stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hyatt.

The bodies were found June 28 and 29 in rural areas near Gadsden, Ala. Their faces were blasted beyond recognition by a shotgun charge and their arms and legs were hacked off and missing.

The first body was found in Etowah County beside an abandoned shack just off U.S. 11. The second was found the next day some 10 miles further south along the highway. It too was dumped beside an empty house.

Police said one body was 38 miles from the Hyatt house and the other 49 miles from the house.

State and county officers said the woman told of shooting the men in their trailer home and dragging their bodies outside where the limbs were hacked off.

A bloodstained, double-edged ax, believed used in the mutilation, was dug up in a cornfield a few yards behind the trailer Friday.

Officers quoted the woman as saying she put the bodies in a homemade wheel barrow and took them to her car.

She accompanied police on a predawn ride Friday, pointing out spots where she threw arms and legs from her car.

Police recovered several limbs, and said apparently some of the others were thrown in the Tallapoosa River in Cleburne County and on Saddler's Mountain near Piedmont, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt, about 75 years old and parents of the accused woman, were detained Thursday night along with Dewey Darroll, about 35, who lives near the Hyatt residence.

They were released Friday and police said they were not involved.

"Before long I will republish that same platform and will ask the public to compare my accomplishments with my original promises. I plan to conduct a vigorous campaign for re-election and will try to see personally every voter in the parish.

"I re-emphasize that I am an independent candidate as I was four years ago. I will continue to battle for complete segregation with separate and equal school facilities for both white and colored, and I will strive at all times to be of service to the people just as I have during the past four years."

Castro Hurls Hot Charges At Urrutia

er the revolution toppled ex-President Fulgencio Batista Jan. 1. Urrutia has been at best only a figurehead.

All decisions have been initiated or made by Castro.

The word earlier Friday that Castro planned to resign set off immediate demands that he reconsider. The situation supported a widespread opinion that any Castro departure from office would be brief.

Dozens of Havana city buses crowded with passengers toured the streets. Slogans painted on the sides of the vehicles said, "Fidel, we're with you until death. Do not resign, Fidel, we need you."

The plaza in front of the National Palace—Urrutia's home and office — was jammed with hundreds of workers, students and curious civilians.

Special security police, many of them carrying rifles, were on duty in various sections of the city. No serious disorders were reported.

A newsman who visited Urrutia said the President told him he would resign if Castro asked for his resignation. Another newsman said the President had told him just the opposite.

It was first believed that Castro's decision to resign was to convince critics at home and abroad that the Cuban masses are behind him.

Then came the public disclosure of differences between Castro and the former judge.

The immediate call for Urrutia to quit came from Secretary General Conrado Bequer of the sugar workers organization.

"We make this request because Fidel Castro is the defender of the liberty and rights of the people," Bequer said "We cannot lose the destinies of the revolution, won with the support of Castro as its major figure, simply because of disagreements and because of a group of plotters.

Raul Castro, brother and heir apparent to the Cuban leadership, said in a statement earlier that his brother had resigned.

LUXURY LOOK STRESSED

Fur Motif Prevails In Fall Fashions

NEW YORK (UPI) —There's so much fur around for fall that even the fur side inside is no longer a novelty.

Coats, jackets, dresses, even ball gowns, are trimmed in a variety of pelts from opossum to chinchilla. Capes, coats, evening mantles, cocktail suits and dresses are lined in white, brown or blank mink, beaver, seal, mole, fox, or sable. Sleeves have big fur muff cuffs.. Even some at - home costumes are lined or trimmed with fur.

Monte-Sano and Pruzan, which previewed its styles in the New York couture group's annual fall fashion round-up, stressed the luxury look of fur—golden chinchilla, mink, silver fox, fisher, nutria and sable. Collars wrapped around the neck like fur scarves or dip low on the shoulders. Tweed was lined with nutria; Italian rib ottoman with mink.

So strong is fur's influence that even cloth coats have such colors as "chinchilla grey" and "sable brown."

Monte - Sano's coat silhouettes include the princess line; slim, sphercal, fitted types; and double-breasted coats falling from wide cape collars.

Two unusual silhouettes — the "dalai lama coat," a collarless, ample style with full, side, straight sleeves inspired by the "Tibetan look;" and the "kite coat," which is shaped in back, sloping off the shoulders to a wide line at the elbow and tapering to the hem.

"Indian purdah costumes" are conversation - piece jackets worn over dresses. The jackets have tremendous collars which can be pulled up over tre head like a cowl, veiling the hair and part of the face.

Vera Stewart favored sweater costumes with collars of chinchilla, silver fox and mole. Matching dresses were made of chiffon flannel, gabardine, wool, wool jersey, wool crepe or velveteen.

Highlights of other collections:

Edward Abbott—Designer Wilson Folmar added a new twist to the halter neck: halters strapped in back to follow the curve of the shoulder blades.

Sanual Winston — this collection was one of the most extravagant in the week's showings.

It was lavish with fur, expensive fabrics, tnd rich colors, such as ruby red, emergald green, orage, yelllow, pusple, gold, rut, and lime. Some suits had snap-on fur collars.

Ann Fogerty — This designer showed her shirtwaist trade-mark for both day and evening. Other silhouettes included the "body line," a form fitting sheath, a "slip dress," with a slim skirt and camisole-type bodice; the tune walking suit; the walking suit with jadket long enough to be a topper and trenchcoats.

Larry Aldrich —He showed tunics, mannish suits, easy-fit suits, dresses with large, droopy sleeves, evening shirt waists and overblouses. Aldrich also presented a special group of clothes which he called "designs of the future." They were termed "experimental lowered waistlines," but actually were chemises.

Self-Defense Is Claimed In Slaying Case

CLARKSDALE, Miss. (AP) — A night club owner charged with the fatal shooting of an 18-year-old construction worker said Friday he shot in self-defense.

Alec Allegrazza, 36-year-old owner of a night spot near Shaw, testified that he shot and killed Abner Lee Smith March 8 when the youth advanced on him with a knife.

Allegrazza testified he broke up a fight between two men at the club when one of the men hit him. As he staggered from the blow, Allegrazza said he saw Smith coming at him with a knife in his hand.

"'I asked him to drop it," Allegrazza said. "I was backing up all the time. I fired once over his head, thinking he would drop the knife. He kept coming and I shot again. I thought I had hit him in the leg. I had no intention of killing the man."

Allegrazza earlier claimed he did not know Smith, but under district attorney Charles Sullivan's cross-examination, he said Smith was one of the men involved in the fight he tried to stop.

Allegrazza's wife testified she saw something in Smith's hand as he walked toward her husband. The prosecution attempted to discredit her testimony by challenging light conditions in the club at the time of the shooting.

ADAMANT, HOSTILE

Gromyko Angers West Ministers

GENEVA (UPI)— Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko Friday repeated Russia's take-it-or-else Berlin truce proposal in a "tough and unyielding" statement that left the Western Big Three foreign ministers visibly angered at their secret meeting Friday.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev himself underlined the deadlock in a speech at Szczecin (Stettin) Poland, in which he pledged again that Russia would keep trying to "abolish the occupation regime" of the United States, Britain and France in West Berlin.

Conference sources described Gromyko as adamant, hostile and evasive at the two-hour lunch meeting in the villa of French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville. His attitude left the West more pessimistic than ever about the chance of ending the Soviet threat to West Berlin.

The meeting broke a four-day blockade by Gromyko against any secret sessions unless both East and West German delegations were admitted. He surrendered to the West on their demand for closed, non-German meetings, but on nothing else.

The Soviet diplomat warned that Russia's price for a Berlin truce remained an all-German commission to discuss German reunification on which East and West Germany would have equal representation. The West has rejected this as a loaded demand that might lead to a Communist takeover of free West Germany.

Western sourecs described the meeting Friday as being held in an "extremely bad" atmosphere —a revesral of the usually friendly attitudes taken by the ministers at private sessions during the May 11-June 20 sessions of the conference here.

After Gromyko drove off, Secretary of State Christain A. Herter and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd remained behind to confer with Couve de Murville for another three hours. When they emerged, they were obviously in an angry mood.

Gromyko was said to have warned the other ministers' repeatedly that they must pay the Soviet price if they want a settlement of the Berlin issue.

Sources said he was "absolutely tough and unyielding" in his demands.

Herter tried to get Gromyko to state clearly what might happen at the end of a truce period, would Russia guarantee it would not resume its demands that the West clear out of the city?

Gromyjo refused to be pinned down. He would not even reply when the others asked him about the meaning of Soviet statements on grounds he had "already answered" the questions.

The lunch ended with Gromyko's request for another semi-public plenary session Monday. The western ministers wanted a secret session.

Lloyd settled it by inviting all the ministers to lunch for a private session at his Villa Monday with a plenary session to follow on Tuesday.

With some reluctance, Gromyko agreed to this.

NOTED ARCHITECT DIES

MOSCOW (UPI)—Ivan Zheltovsky, 92, a leading Russian architect, died Thursday. He achieved fame before the Communist revolution with the construction of the Hotel Metropole and several public buildings in Moscow.

Board Chairman For Washington Newspapers Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eugene Meyer, chairman of the board of the Washington Post and Times-Herald, died Friday. He was 83.

The widely known newspaper executive was a former president of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (World Bank) and had held a number of major government posts dating back to World War I days.

Death came at 2:35 p.m. at Georgetown Hospital.

Meyer is survived by his wife, Agnes, a writer and lecturer on educational and other matter; and five children. A son-in-law Philip L. Graham, is president and publisher of the Post and Times-Herald.

Meyer amassed a considerable fortune as head of his own New York investment firm before turning to government service. He said he had a theory that men who achieved a competence and a reasonable success in business owned a period of public service. He held appontments under every president beginning with Woodrow Wilson.

PENNIES WON'T DO

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) —Police insisted that John J. Edenfeild, 43, pay his $15 bail on a drunk charge by check. The only cash Edenfield had with him was 4,000 pennies, collected from the vending machines he operates.

Sanctions For Cuba

The United States has made some mistakes in dealing with Cuba, and the end is not in sight.

There are many who believe that our first major mistake was removing our protectorate from that country before it was able to govern itself. It has been confronted with a series of dictators and has thus placed the western hemisphere's democracy in jeopardy, although it has not been alone in that.

U.S. senators have just voted to suspend foreign aid to any nation which seizes property owned by American nationals without just compensation.

Cuban Treasury Minister Ruso Lopez-Fresquet arrogantly replied, "So what?" to suggestions that the United States eliminate aid to his country.

The senate vote obviously was a move inspired by Cuba's policy of breaking up large land holdings, a policy which has fallen heavily on U. S. investors in sugar and cattle industries, since Prime Minister Fidel Castro, the insolent dictator, has merely sent in troops, seized the land and turned it over to the peasants, who have no idea of operation or management.

Sr. Lopez-Fresquet shrugged off the implications of the senate's action with the remark that it did not matter—Cuba wasn't down on the foreign aid bill for a handout.

This is surprising, since the United States is helping most of the nations of the world.

Technically, however, he is correct, since Cuba is not now receiving direct assistance. But over the years this has not been true. Since World War II, Cuba has been allowed some $84 billion in "soft" loans and credits, only part of which has been repaid or is likely to be repaid.

Sr. Lopez-Fresquet knows full well that, aside from outright grants and development loans, the United States has been the strong prop of Cuba's economy. Only a few weeks ago the treasury minister was in Washington, along with Dictator Castro to plead for a larger share of U.S. sugar purchases. These recent rebels, who rose to power when Premier Fulgencio Batista suddenly became terrified and, to the surprise of everybody, including Castro, fled the country and turned it over to the rebels, ordinarily have barely a civil word for the United States. It is only when they are asking for something that they can refrain from hurling insults.

At that time the Cuban emissaries asked to supply all the U.S. sugar import needs, at a price well above the present world market. They ignored the fact that this would wreck the economy of several Caribbean nations.

The United States now guarantees Cuba a market for more than three million tons annually. This is about half of Cuba's production and the price is higher than it gets for the remained on the open market.

Cuba's sugar industry faces an uncertain future. The land reform program is breaking up large plantations. More than two million acres owned by American companies are being confiscated. They will be divided among landless peasants for family-type operations. There is no reason to think that this land will be managed as efficiently or will produce as well in the hands of these inexperienced people as it did in the hands of the professional sugar-growers.

There are many who believe the United States can't win in the cold war against Russia by simply attempting to buy favor from the various countries while Russia exerts the pressure necessary to hold the people of its satellite countries in line. If we permit Cuba to be taken over by Communists while we continue to support the economy of that nation, how can we expect to maintain our strength in this hemisphere? If we continue to lose more countries while Russia acquires them, where will we wind up?

If we can't have a protectorate for the little country lying directly off our shore, which we voluntarily gave up, we should at least be able to apply sanctions.

If Castro is against us, which his defiant expressions indicate he is, why should we guarantee to buy any more of his sugar than we need or pay any more for it than the market price? If we can't interfere in a military way in Cuba's internal affairs, as Russia would certainly do, we at least don't have to help an enemy.

Practical Side Of Space

Achievements other than military are likely to come in the next two years from the intense missile and space competition between this country and Russia.

Most of the money spent in this field will continue to go, necessarily, into weapons. But not all of the accomplishments in space will go under the heading of defense.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration expects to send up about 150 information gathering rockets during 1959-60. This figure includes up to 14 earth satellites to gather information which may prove of value right here on earth.

For example, distances on the earth's surfaces — particularly widely separated points on today's maps — are known to be inaccurate. It is believed one or more satellites with brilliant lights photographed against a background of stars, could set up a celestial chart to reduce these probable errors.

The distance from Tokyo, Japan, to Rekjavik, Iceland over the top of the North Pole may be on maps now in use several miles off. With satellites in orbit to take readings from, such measurements may be made accurate to within 200 feet or less.

Skillfully orbited satellites — traveling a fixed orbit at a known speed—could furnish accurate direction finders for ships and airplanes when landmarks, sun and stars were not visible.

Though the "weather-eye" satellite last month failed to go into orbit, plans include the launching of two of these before the end of 1960. Through the use of a television camera in one of these, it is planned to photograph an 800-mile strip of clouds over presently unmonitored oceans to assist in accurate weather forecasting.

A space balloon is also planned —to be inflated after it reaches an altitude of 1,000 miles aboard a rocket. Such a sphere with an aluminized surface could be used as an instrument to reflect high power radio signals beamed upward from the ground. This could make for better—and cheaper — communications between distant points on the earth in the foreseeable future.

As pointed out above, these are not dream plans of peace loving scientists who want to refer rather hopefully to the peacetime use of rocket power. These are actual projects of the next two years.

It has been a known fact for centuries that a visible, distant point of fixed location is an asset to the more accurate measurement and location of points on the ground. Satellites can supply these visible, distant points.

In these and other respects, satellites can produce — or help produce — information for maps, weather forecasts and communications. Even though the budget for these projects is smaller than that for the intercontinental "Atlas" and other warhead carriers, their results will be more immediate and farther reaching.

Russians Surprise Many

Those At Soviet Fair Astonished To Find People White, European And Know Arithmetic

The basis of John Foster Dulles' policy always was that there was no way to convince the Russians that their doctrine was wrong, but that a way might be found to show them that the next war would be unprofitable. Many less experienced persons disagreed with Dulles. They believed that washing machines, ranch houses, fancy dresses, and jazz music would convince Khrushchev and his associates that they were all wrong about capitalism.

Today, many Americans are patrioticaly impelled to take their summer vacation in M !oscow, where, at $30 a day, they can see the Red Square, with maybe a side trip to Kiev. Others believe that they will save their country from war if they see the Russian fair at the Coliseum in New York and they astonish themselves by discovering that the Russians are white, European and know arithmetic. Those who studied chemistry either at high school or college may recall that the Table of Valences was worked out by Mendelejev (1834-1907), a Russian who lived before the atom bomb was stolen.

It seems as though our people, all of whom were forced to go to school at one time or another, have a happy faculty of forgetting everything they were ever taught—or most of it. The Ford Foundation has taken note of this condition and has set aside some money for "The Fund for Adult Education." This money is not to be spent on the unlearned and unwashed, but on the educated and intelligent who are preparing themselves for public leadership.

It is a recognition, in a very practical way, of the need for knowledge by those who have pretentions to or the actuality of national significance.

How many will avail themselves of such opportunities as will be offered, it is difficult to estimate. About five years ago, a group of friends of Robert A. Taft thought that a fitting memorial for him would be an institute devoted to research into the type of democratic - republicanism for which he was so long responsible in the Senate. It was a very good idea along the same line for which the Ford Foundation is seeking a formula, except that the Ford Foundation will have to be so broad, to satisfy all the differences of view on the board of directors of The Fund for Adult Education, that it may smear itself very thin.

I have read their prospectus carefully and am waiting to see what genius can produce 13 half-hour dramatizations of De Tocqueville's analysis of life in America. If it can be done, it will be a brilliant achievement and it may even stimulate the readings of De Tocqueville and after that of "The Federalist." Who knows? We might even encourage members of Congress to familiarize themselves with the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States and the many documents which went into the formation of this nation.

The work of this Fund should be encouraged and watched. I receive daily a very large fan mail, as it is called. Today, for instance, I received a letter of 45 pages from a reader who did not sign his name but who dealt with some rather primitive ideas in psychology, physiology and Biblical history. His spelling was correct, but his punctuation and sentence structure were atrocious.

I make the point that this is an active even aggressive citizen who has ideas but requires re-education. Many more important men could stand a refresher course. They have forgotten what they were taught and reach conclusions based on prejudices and preconceptions.

This disease is not limited to liberals. I saw an editorial in a New York City newspaper, referring to Robert Moses who is nowadays a ripe target for criticism. It contained this paragraph:

"For all his talents, it becomes increasingly apparent that Mr. Moses has spread himself too thin. There simply are not enough hours in a day for him to give all those jobs the close attention they require. No man could."

But the fact is that most competent administrators do operate on a great many fronts simultaneously. Take, for instance, the president of a complex company such as U.S. Steel or General Electric or General Motors! The writer of the editorial either does not know how a multi-faceted position is organized or he believes that those in public service must necessarily be incompetent. Truly a school for educated men is needed.

1961 Recession?

Economists Think Great Prosperity Should Develop In 1960

Heading the vitally important economics research department of New York City's largest and the nation's second largest bank are two young economists who are gaining an enviable reputation among the tops in their profession for shrewd analysis and accurate forecasts.

They are John D. Wilson and William F. Butler, both vice presidents of the giant $8 billion Chase Manhattan Bank. Thus, when I had the privilege of lunching with them at the bank's head office the other day, I seized the chance to ask them questions which I know are on the minds of countless thoughtful Americans today. Here are my major questions with a simple summary of the answers of Wilson and Butler.

Q. How long do you think today's business boom will last? Why?

A.: The expansion should continue right through 1959 — despite some slowdown in the immediate pace of rise because of the steel strike — and it should develop into very great prosperity in 1960.

The first force now powering the upswing is rising spending by business for new plants and equipment. Corporations will be investing in modern factories this year and next not only to increase the efficiency of their operations but also to turn out the new products they're now ready to bring to market.

The second force which will spur us on is continuing and rising spending by consumers as their incomes climb. And if the new car models appeal to the public, 1960 could be a spectacular auto sales year.

Q.: What happens in 1961? Another recession?

A.: There will be another recession in the next two to three years, although it's too early to foresee its precise timing. The pattern since World War II suggests the recession could start in 1961, though.

Q.: Why do we have to look forward to another recession?

A.: We are an economy of growth and the definition of growth involves change. The process of change in our country usually has meant a too rapid upswing in periods of expansion—thereby creating a necessity for periods of recession so we can consolidate the gains.

By 1961 this advance — which began in April 1958 —will be pretty 'old' by past standards, and since periodic adjustments in the form of recessions are inevitable, 1961 could be the time for one.

Q.: Can't we make these periodic downturns a lot less painful?

A.: Sure we can. We have made significant progress in moderating our recessions — primarily through unemployment insurance and social security payments — and we can do much more. We can and should improve our unemployment insurance program.

We can do a great deal with the potent weapon of taxes by reducing taxes in times of recession, raising them in times of boom.

Q.: Won't tight money hasten the next recession?

A.: Tight money is one of the two areas raising questions about the life of the boom, for it will restrict the flow of money into mortgages and lead to a slowdown in housing. We have taken this housing slowdown into consideration in our forecasts, however. The other area which presents a problem is our lagging exports. We expect our exports to increase, but these two areas demand watching.

Q.: Can we have a boom and high employment without inflation?

A.: Yes, if we do two things:

(1) Balance the budget and keep restraints on the supply of credit in times of prosperity and high employment;

(2) Hold the average annual increase in wage rates to 3 per cent. This 3 per cent rise would be in line with the growth in our economy's efficiency and wouldn't be inflationary.

We are making progress on both counts.

Decision Rapped

Ruling Seen As Making Shambles Of Industrial Security System

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In its term which ended last month, the Supreme Court handed down two decisions (Greene and Frank) which irked conservatives without giving any particular satisfaction to the liberals.

Greene was an industrial vice president whose company held some Defense Department contracts. The Federal Government denied this man access to classified information on grounds that his security was risky. In its last session of the term, the Supreme Court ruled against the Government's right to take such action without allowing the accused to face his accusers.

Although confrontation sounds like a simple and inalienable right for any individual in trouble, such is not by any means the whole story. A man who is denied security clearance is "accused" only in a vague although hurtful sense, but not in any criminal meaning. Besides, the individual is not the only one with rights. The American nation and people deserve consideration. The Supreme Court ruled earlier this year in the Barenblatt decision that:

"In the last analysis this (Congressional investigative) power rests on the right of self - preservation, 'the ultimate value in any society'."

Thus many lawyers on the Judiciary committee and the staffs were alarmed by the Greene decision. "It has made a shambles of our industrial security system," said Senator Keating of New York, a moderate Republican. "All of our nation's vital defense facilities are now at the mercy of Communist sabotage, espionage and subversion," said Senator Butler of Maryland, an Old Guard Republican. Even Joseph Rauh, an ultra - liberal who was testifying for the Democrats for Democratic Action, urged the Senate to pass another industrial security bill this session — but to provide somehow for confrontation.

The decision known as Frank vs. Maryland is another which has been a little unsatisfactory to the opposing camps of liberals and conservatives. A Baltimore health inspector named Gentry was refused entry to a house which he was suspected was rat-infested. The owner was arrested and fined $20.

There is no issue of the midnight knock or of the police force's kicking down the door. In reading the majority opinion Justice Frankfurter cited an older case:

". . . the 'unreasonable searches and seizures' condemned in the Fourth Amendment are almost always made for the purpose of compelling a man to give evidence against himself, which in criminal cases is condemned in the Fifth Amendment."

Justice Frankfurter goes on to say that there are two "rights" for the individual involved here. One is the plain right of privacy, the other of self - defense—but Mr. Frankfurter is not much impressed with the argument that either of these rights was abused. The health inspector came more than once, at convenient times of day, and exerted no force against the home owner. Besides, as in the Greene case, the community also had some rights, and Justice Frankfurter says:

"The need to maintain basic, minimal standards of housing, to prevent the spread of disease and . . . slums . . . has mounted to a major concern of American government."

To this point, nobody could reasonably disagree, but then Justice Frankfurter, speaking for a 5-4 majority, carries the argument into the tricky waters where sociology seems to be replacing law. In defending the State of Maryland's right to convict the home owner, the Justice made two remarks that caused strict Constitutionalists to shudder. Mr. Frankfurter said that:

(a) The compulsory inspection of a man's home is all right because "these inspections are apparently welcomed by all but an insignificant few."

(b) Health inspections, against the will of a home owner, are justified because "history and dominant public opinion has sanctioned" them.

Well, there is a view of the American Constitution which holds that the Bill of Rights should apply to all, including "an insignificant few" who did not agree with the majority. And there are a lot of persons trained in the Law who feel that "history and public opinion" are not the grounds upon which the Supreme Court should decide landmark cases of constitutional significance.

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Claustrophobia

Woman Advised Not To Take Plane Trip Because Of Fear

Fellow patients will understand the following letter from a reader who has suffered for years from chronic anxiety. Every once in a while, I reprint a similar letter, because I think it is good for family members and friends to know how much these people suffer.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have had paralyzing anxiety since a nervous breakdown in my early thirties (not requiring institutionalizing). Now, I am in my late 40's. I have fought all the symptoms — off and on since the first attack.

Some years have been better than others. Despite all this misery, I fell in love, married an understanding, sensitive man, have managed household and garden chores, pursued many hobbies and traveled for pleasure. Sounds like I'm O. K.?

Well, in between feeling fairly normal, there have been months on end of hardly any social life — and even going to the grocery store a tough job, emotionally. Even during my "good periods," severe claustrophobia persists. There are several things that I can't or won't do any more This is due to the extreme strain it puts on my whole physical and emotional system.

1. One is to visit certain relatives either alone or with my husband, which requires spending one or more nights away. (Or, having them as house guests.) We stay in motels, now.

2. Another is going to church, concerts, plays or dinner. I can attend an occasional movie on a back aisle seat. I can, on "good days," ride in self service elevators, and drive across town through traffic to shop or see a friend. I can, on "good days" have guests for dinner, if I know them well — or go to their homes

3. The final frightening experience is flying. This is the real reason for writing for your opinion. My husband and our wonderful internist both say I must not take flying off my list at my age.

My husband says he will "dope me up" so I won't be frightened on my next flight. He and the doctor feel that when a pleasure trip is in the offing, I should fly. We've had several short vacations in the past in which I did fly; each flight was more terrifying than the last.

It's even bad for me when we take a bedroom on the train for long trips. Dining car meals are "agonizing." But at least one can get up and leave for a walk through the train — or in the extreme, get off the train!

But in a plane! There's just no going anywhere. That is what is so terrifying. I honestly feel that if I fly again I will scream and fight to get out! Please give me your advice in the matter.

Sincerely, Mrs. X.

COMMENT: I make it a rule not to interfere with any decisions a doctor hands down to his patient. Occasionally, where a rule can be broken without causing "any harm" — I don't hesitate to disagree with a reader's physician. I think wholesome disagreement is good for the soul—and, often for the patient.

If you were my patient, Mrs. X., I would go along with your way of thinking — and feeling. Forget that there is such a means of transportation as flying. You can't just explain away fears and other emotions.

I think that a future horrible flying experience is liable to tip you back over into your serious emotional problems of a few years back.

Respectfully disagree with your husband — and doctor—and put the blame on me!

Daily Devotional

It was the Sabbath day when Jesus made the clay and opened his eyes. — John 9:14.

It is to be expected that those who do not believe in God will habitually ignore Bible teaching as to Sabbath observance — but what about the truly Christian? Christ healed the sick on Sunday; He stated that "The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath"; and "Which of you shall have as ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabbath day?" Perhaps the test is whether or not one is "in the spirit" on the Lord's Day! Worship, good deeds, and rest are certainly approved.

Heavenly Father, give us the right attitude toward Sunday observance — the desire to best serve Thee and Thy cause. In His name we ask. Amen.

Weather Bureau Forecast

Fair skies are expected Saturday through most of the northeast and from the Rockies to Pacific coast. Partly cloudy skies, occasionally interrupted by scattered showers and thunderstorms, are slated over most of middle and south Atlantic coast states, Ohio, Tennessee and Mississippi Valleys and Gulf coast. Partly cloudy skies with widely scattered thunderstorms are forecast for central and southern plains states. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Aides Quit Long To Return Home

Worth, where he started a "vacation" last Saturday.

The colorful, 63-year-old governor held a two-man press conference from his hotel suite bed Friday in resting from a hectic night across the Rio Grande in Juarez, Mexico.

Clad in his usual hotel room garb of a white shirt and a pair of undershorts, Long was asked if he thought the amount of public swearing he had been doing would hurt him in the public eye.

"All I did," he said, "was tell those newspaper b------- to get the hell out of the restaurant.

"If I have to give up my individuality, then ---- the governorship."

"Huey cussed and I have cussed. How many people do you think really pay any attention to all those damns and hells?"

The governor's public utterances lately have gone far beyond those two words.

"On this crazy business," Long said, "people read about it and say, 'Hell, I may be next.' Michigan and Minnesota have twice as many insane people but the same population as Louisiana."

Long, who has frequently changed his plans without notice, outlined what he said was his itinerary for the rest of his western catation with trips to Phoenix, Colorado Springs, Hot Springs, Ark., and back home for a stumping tour of the state starting July 28 to push his announced special session.

While he didn't think the insanity allegations or swearing would harm him, Long expressed some worries over what people might think of "a cheap divorce."

Long reaffirmed his intention of divorcing his wife, who first committed him to a Texas mental institution May 30, but said he didn't want a one-day Mexican divorce. Long said:

"Those one-day divorces ain't worth the paper they're written on. They've got a getter one that takes six or seven days and don't cost one-third as much. . .those cheap shortcut divorces might hurt me."

Long said a 60-day divorce is available in Hot Springs. He expressed the intention of traveling to Hot Springs from his farm at Winnfield to "add up days" for a 60-day Arkansas divorce.

Long said he expected to have "my big National Guard plane" back Sunday and intends to use it on the remainder of his vacation trip.

"It's been in the shop and I'll have it here if it's fixed in time," he said.

He said he plans to visit the race track at Ruidoso, N. M., Saturday or Sunday, go to Monterrey, Mexico, Sunday night, to Phoenix on July 20, Colorado Springs July 21 "for about three days, to Kansas City Auly 23 or 24 and to Hot Springs on July 25-28 "or roughly that."

Starting July 28, Long said, he plans to start a stumping tour of Louisiana, touching Monroe and Shreveport July 28, Alexandria July 29, Lake Charles July 30, Lafayette July 31 and Opelousas Aug. 1.

Long has called for a special session of the Louisiana Legislature Aug. 10. Friday he took notice of reports that some lawmakers might not show up for the session. He said such talk was "a lot of crap." It was toward the end of the last legislative session that Long collapsed after a violent harangue and was flown to a Galveston mental hospital.

His stumping tour, Long said, would be to "meet with as many senators and representatives as will come" to explain his special session program.

As Long talked with newsmen, he held in his lap a copy of the New Orleans Times - Picayune, Louisiana's largest newspaper which Long has frequently attacked.

"The Times-Picayune lock, stock and barrel runs Tulane University," he interjected at one point. He would not amplify the statement.

He waved a copy of the Evening Leader of Leighton, Pa., published June 16 just as Long gained freedom from a Texas psychiatric clinic. The paper had a front-page editorial titled, "An old man stands alone."

The tenor of the editorial was that no one should be locked up because of his political beliefs or political enemies.

"That's what 80 per cent of the people say, that I talk to or get letters from," the governor said. "They could put me in a room for 40 years and I couldn't write anything as good."

"I'd be better off running in Texas than Louisiana because there's no New Orleans in Texas," he said, "referring to Louisiana's largest city and the home of Mayor deLesseps Morrison, the governor's ancient rival and a leading contender in the governor's race next December.

"I'd get all the votes in Fort Worth," Long said.

He said he didn't think he would return to Juarez Friday, "but I may go back Saturday night.

"When I went over there I was staggering," he said.

As for the furor with newspapermen, Long declared:

"All I did was give some s.o.b. a $50 check and get out of there. All I got was one glass of Mexican champagne. I got so ------ upset I haven't eaten yet."

He said he plans to eat a little milk and bread and was planning to try that diet "largely because of what happened last night. When you can't eat, you can't eat. You just shove something down and you vomit."

Long said he liked the Pennsylvania paper's editorial so well he was going to put it right at the middle of his next campaign circular.

Long didn't return to his hotel room until 6 a.m. Friday and his entrance then was on as noisy a par as his evening across the border in Juarez.

En Route to a plush Juarez restaurant, the Charmont, Long's taxi stopped after circling a block in an effort to shake newsmen.

His cousin and close associate, David Bell of Baton Rouge, got out and told the reporters:

"If you fellows follow us anymore, you're going to have to fight all of us right now."

In the taxi were Long, Bell, Louisiana state police Capt. D. L. Durrett and state Sen. B. B. Rayburn.

At the restaurant, Long objected strenuously and profanely to the presence of photographers.

"I'm going to shoot the b-------. I'll shoot 'em. I'll shoot 'em," he roared.

Before leaving his hotel, he had told newsmen::

"If you don't leave me alone, I'll shoot the whole damn bunch of you."

Long gestured wildly at the photographers when they appeared at the entrance to the Juarez restaurant's dinning room. His aides tried to calm him, then asked the photographers to leave.

"Why don't you go out there and fight them, damn it?" Long shouted to his aides. Then he bellowed: "Bring me the check."

Long and his party ostebsibly headed back to El Paso. But later the governor and some of his associates slipped back across the Rio Grande to Juarez. There, they spent the night in an establishment widely noted for its entertainment.

Long surrounded himself with a Mexican musical group and sometimes as many as 12 female entertainers.

Returning to his hotel in the morning, Long pounded loudly on the door of his room, seeking to gain entrance and shouting:

"Wake up, wake up."

As the door was opened, he saw two newsmen in the hall and shouted obscenities at them.

Later, Long sent his Louisiana National Guard C-54 back to Baton Rouge. With it went many of his closest associates, obviously fatigued by trying to follow the governor around.

When the C-57 stopped in Dallas to refuel, reporter Stan White of radio station KLIF attempted to interview Durrett. The captain refused to talk.

When White followed him into a cafeteria, Durrett threw back his fists and declared:

"Now you've had it buster. Now you've had it."

But Rayburn intervened and Durrett sat down.

Rayburn, too, before he left El Paso tangled with the press.

When Long left the Hilton Hotel Thursday night for Juarez, photographers and reporters were told not to follow him. Sanky Trimble, New Mexico bureau chief of The Associated Press, suggested that if, as the photographers had suggested to a Long aide earlier, they were allowed to take one picture, placing Long in Juarez, the Long party probably wouldn't be bothered as much.

"Rayburn got the impression that I had said the proposal was made to him," said Trimble, who stands 5'-6'. "He came charging back across the lobby, put his hands around my throat and shook me like a wet puppy—a little. Later he came around and apologized."

Kidnapping Case Suspect Charged

Mrs. Vaughn; he did not rape her, she told officers.

Ellis threatened to kill her, demanded money (which she did not have) and before leaving warned her that if she reported it to the law, he would "get her if it takes 10 years," she said.

Locked behind the thick steel doors and bars of the Ashley County jail here, Ellis maintained yesterday that he "doesn't know anything and can't remember what happened."

CHARGED

He is charged with kidnapping Mrs. Riley from her home on the Promise Land rural road near here at 2:30 p.m. Thursday and robbing her of $6. He left her three young daughters at the pink farm-house.

He released her in a wooded area five miles east of Hamburg at 4:30 p.m., and was captured by her brother, Norman Higginbotham and Don Kelly, both 20, at 5:15 p.m.

In an interview with the Morning World Thursday, Mrs. Riley said that Ellis threatened to kill her, but "started talking on things he shouldn't of" only once. "I got him off the subject," she said.

She said he did not molest her.

Sheriff Courson credited both Mrs. Riley and Mrs. Vaughn with saving their own lives.

CALMNESS

"Their ability to talk calmly, and steady flow of sound reasoning kept Ellis from harming them," he said.

Courson and Mrs. Riley's father, Gaston Higginbotham, agreed that if a search car had caught up with Ellis while Mrs. Riley was with him, he might have killed her.

The gun which he held on the women was found by the Sheriff's Department at noon yesterday, near the wooded area where Ellis parked with Mrs. Riley.

"We don't have his record yet," said Courson. He added that Ellis "is a little more alert today than he was Thursday, but he just isn't talking." Thursday night, officials said that Ellis appeared "very drunk."

Courson said there was no mob violence when Ellis was brought in.

"There was a little wild talk, as it happens when anything like this occurs," the Sheriff added.

If Ellis is found sane, his case cannot come up for trial before October.

Separated from his wife and young son, Ellis was staying at the home of his father-in-law, George White near Lake Village. He obtained the old-model shotgun from there.

His only show of emotion in jail came when officers asked him about a letter found in his possessions.

The letter, postmarked New Mexico, was from his wife.

the storm hit, at about 9:30 p.m. (Korea time).

Flight from the storm swiftly turned into panic and many died and were injured in the frantic, screaming struggle that developed at the narrow entrance gate to the stadium, Orient Press said.

Just as Typhoon Billie hit the Korean peninsula and the Communist Chinese mainland, Nationalist Chinese and Americans on Formosa began to dig out from under a blanket of mud and debris left by Taipei's worst flash floods in seven years.

Foreign Aid Funds Hiked By Conferees

split the differences on money items in the two versions.

On the main issues, the conferees:

—Approved $1,400,000,000 for military aid, compared with $1,600,000,000 asked by Eisenhower, $1,440,000,000 voted by the House and $1,300,000,000 by the Senate.

—Approved a two-year program of congressional appropriations for the Development Loan Fund, through which most economic aid is channelled. It voted $70,000,000 for this year and $1,100,000,000 for next year.

—Approved 751 million dollars for so-called defense support—money used to bolster the economies of weaker allies so that they can divert more of their own funds to their armed services.

—Approved $247,500,000 for outright "special assistance" grants.

—Left "Point Four" technical assistance funds untouched from the $179,500,000 originally requested by the President and approved by both houses.

—Cut the President's special contingency fund, for use in international emergencies, to 155 million dollars from the 200 million dollars he asked. The House had slashed the fund to 100 million dollars. But the Senate raised it to 188 million dollars.

ABOUT PEOPLE, EVENTS

..LAKE PROVIDENCE — Oscar L. Cloud, apprentice training representative for the Louisiana State Department of Labor in Monroe, emphasized the need for skilled mechanics over the nation because of the increased population and great demands for autos, TVs and other industries in a speech before the regular meeting of the Lake Providence Rotary Club.

Cloud gave a brief history of the apprentice training program and outlined the general set-up of the organization, stating that the apprentice training period ranges from two to six years.

He pointed out that a survey of manpower in 1955 showed that approximately 250,000 new skilled workers were required each year to replace those dropped from industry for various reasons.

William M. Knobles, Rotary president, presided during the meeting.

LAKE PROVIDENCE — Marvin Ragland, president of the East Carroll Parish Farm Bureau, and E. V. Parker, will represent the local organization as official delegates at the State Farm Bureau meeting to be held in Monroe beginning July 19.

Sylvia Whatley has been selected by the members as queen to compete in the state queen contest. Also, Della Graves, Transylvanian will enter in the essay contest, and two brothers and one sister of Monticello Community, Basil, Wilford and Lois McCarty will compete in the talent find contest.

Others listed who will attend the meeting are Crawford A. Rose, county agent; Excell Hankins, associate county agent; Jack Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Phillips, and Mrs. Ragland.

EROS — Kenneth Spillers of Eros has been named to the honor roll at Northwestern State College in Natchitoches for the session of 1958-59.

Spillers, a pre-med student, averaged "A" in four subjects and "B" in two others.

The son of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Harvey Spillers of Eros, Kenneth is a 1958 graduate of Eros High School.

Russia Drops Nixon Visit Censorship

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon announced Friday that the sovite government has given assurances that American newsmen accompanying him to Russia will be able to file stories freely and without delay.

Nixon interpreted this to mean that American correspondents will be allowed to cover the trip "without censorship"—one of several goals sought by the vice president in connection with his visit.

Nixon said in a statement that the Soviet Foreign Office had advised the U. S. government that the rules applicable to American newsmen will be "just as in the Macmillan case."

The vice president noted that during the recent Moscow visit of British Prime Minister Macmillan to Russia censorship restrictions were dropped for members of the press accredited to his party.

Nixon said the word from Moscow was that newsmen with him will be "allowed to file their stories from hotel rooms in Moscow and from other cities freely and without delay."

It was expected that the giant Boeing intercontinental jet 707 that will carry the press party of at least 56 newsmen to Moscow will attempt to better the New York-to-Moscow flight time of Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov. Kozlov made the flight in a Soviet TU144 jet prop in 9 hours and 48 minutes.

Nixon's plane will not be trying for any record. He will make the trip in a military version of the standard Boeing jet 707 now making daily transatlantic commercial flights. According to present plans, the plane plans a refueling stop at Keflavik Air Base in Iceland.

Nixon's official party will include 34 persons not counting the crew. Among them will be Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the so-called "father" of the atomic submarine, and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the president's brother.

It was learned that the decision to include Rickover in the official party was reached after consultation with the President.

Others in the official party will include George V. Allen, director of the U. S. Information Agency; Foy D. Kohler, deputy assistant secretary of state for European Affairs, and 15 members of the President's Advisory Committee o the Moscow Exhibit.

Staying In The Contest

Miss Sue Ingersoll, 22-year-old brown-eyed redhead and Miss New Mexico in the Miss Universe contest at Long Beach displays her contest bathing suit yesterday after announcing she's staying in the competition despite the opposition of her church. Miss Ingersoll is a Catholic. She said during a news conference that Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne of Albuquerque had informed her that her appearance in the contest while wearing a swim suit would cause her to be deprived of confession and communion for an indefinite period. (AP Wirephoto)

IKE, MITCHELL CONFER

Effects Of Steel Strike Spreading

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The effects of the 3-day-old steel strike cut deeper into the nation's economy Friday with more layoffs, walkouts and soaring production losses.

In Washington, President Eisenhower conferred on the steel situation with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell. The White House declined to provide any details.

Elsewhere public officials got ready for an avalance of relief requests; defense plans were snarled in at least one installation; and 20 million dollars worth of construction work in steel plants was halted.

The strike of half a million United Steelworkers of America already has brought idleness to 30,000 workers in railroads, coal mines, Great Lakes ore carriers, trucking and other industies.

Each day the strike continues the production loss amounts to 300,000 ingot tons of steel with wage losses running 70 million dollars a week.

So far there's no sign of settlement. Federal mediation talks in the dispute will be resumed Monday in New York. Neither industry nor the union has shown any signs of retreating from their last bargaining positions.

An estimated 5,000 building tradesmen in the Chicago-Gary-East Chicago, Ind., area refused to cross Steelworkers picket lines Friday, halting work on some 200 million dollars of construction work in steel plants.

This included 100 million dollars of work at U.S. Steel's Chicago an Gary works and about 85 million dollars worth of construction at Inland Steel's Indiana Harbor plant.

Also affected were Youngstown Sheet & Tube in East Chicago and the Acme Steel Co., Riverdale, Ill., with about 20 million dollars in projects halted.

The strike also spread to the core of the nation's defense with plans snarled for the completion of three Atlas missile-launching sites near Cheyenne, Wyo.

Construction officials said the first site is expected to be finished on schedule Sept. 20, but high pressure tanks for other sites are not expected to be delivered in time for the scheduled November completion.

In Pittsburgh, the Allegheny County Board of Assistance girded for a deluge of relief applications from striking Steelworkers by adding 80 emergency workers to its staff.

George P. Mills, executive director of the board, said his staff plans to handle an expected 7,500 relief applications early next week.

Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania named a special committee of state officials to muster the commonwealth's resources to avoid family distress resulting from the steel strike.

Lawrence said he would ask the Legislature Monday for additional stop-gap appropriations for relief. He said he also would contact federal officials to increase the quantity and variety of surplus foods for distribution in areas hard-hit by the steel strike.

This is the sixth walkout since World War II. Steelworkers had been averaging $3.10 an hour. A three-year contract expired June 30 but was extended until last Tuesday midnight.

Picketing was quiet and, in at least one case, pleasant for the strikers. At a struck plant in a Pittsburgh suburb one picket brought a portable swimming pool from home. The Bethlehem Steel Co. provided the water and the pickets donned bathing suits.

DRINKING RECORD SET

LONDON (UPI)—The winner of a "Yard of Ale" contest sponsored by doctor's hospital Thursday night was Kevin Murphy, 28, who downed two pints of beer in 13.5 seconds. The record for the feat is ten seconds. Second place in the contest went to a sailor who said he didn't do better only because he had "spent too much time rehearsing." A "yard of ale" consists of two pints.

State Court

Nine persons were fined $25 and court costs each in state court this week by Judge W. M. Harper.

Pleading guilty to speeding were John F. Kelson Sr., Preston L. Anderson, Maudine V. Morris, Juanita J. Pailette and Archie A. Parker.

Joe E. Freeman admitted disturbing the peace.

Paralee Nabors and Grace Ellen Tillman, each were fined for driving without a license.

Robert L. Sheppard, pled guilty to permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his vehicle.

Peace warrant charges against Earl Perry were dropped. He was charged with threatening Vera Perry on July 6.

United States railroad payrolls totaled almost five billion dollars in 1958.

Trans-Atlantic Telephone Call Trips Pair In New York 'Shake Down' Plot

NEW YORK (AP)—A transatlantic telephone call by no less a person than the U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain, John Hay Whitney, tripped up two cops who were allegedly trying to shake down an obscure East Side bar owner for $250, it was reported today.

The New York Post tells this story:

It seems the bar owner's wife happens to be Mrs. Whitney's hairdresser. Furthermore, sportsman Jock Whitney enjoys an occasional sparring session with the bar owner, former European welterweight boxer Saverio Turiello.

And to top the table of interesting coincidences, financier Whitney put $10,000 into helping Turiello open his bar three years ago. The loan has since been repaid, but the Whitneys friendship with the Turiellos is still running.

Turiello was plenty burned when six weeks ago, he said, two vice cops came into his Piccolo Club at 55th St. and 2nd ave. and threatened to charge him with letting prostitutes hang around his place. Such a charge could cost him his liquor license, although Turiello has twice before won dismissal of similar charges.

The price for silence was $250, Turiello said.

"Why should I give you money?" Turiello said he told one of the cops, Lt. Francis Crotty. "You're a thief with a badge. Take off that gun and badge and I'll show you what you'll get."

Turiello told his wife, Marguerite, that night, and next day when Mrs. Turiello was dressing Mrs. Whitney's hair she told her.

Mrs. Whitney called London. Whitney called New York Police Commissioner Stephen Kennedy, person to person. The official wheels moved fast. Kennedy's special investigators came privately to Turiello's home that night and laid a trap.

It was sprung Wednesday night, police said, when Turiello handed Crotty, and his henchman, Patrolman William Shuker, the $250 in marked bills. Crotty and Shuker were booked Thursday for conspiracy and acting in concert to solicit a bribe.

Blues Singer, 44, Dies In N. Y. Hospital

NEW YORK (UPI)—Billie Holiday, 44, a shriveled shadow of the lady who sang the blues, died on a hospital bed Friday.

More than two decades of drug addiction, alcoholism and one-night stands took their toll at 3:20 a.m. in a sixth floor room in Metropolitan Hospital.

Acclaimed by many as the greatest jazz singer of all time, the singer known as "Lady Day" entered the hospital 46 days ago with kidnay disease and a faltering heart.

She fought death as stubbornly as the friends who had begged and pleaded with her to enter a hospital before it was too late. They finally got her to the hospital after she collapsed at her home. Placed under an oxygen tent, she rallied for a few days but then began losing ground.

Her husband, Louis McKay, had sat at her bedside the last two nights as her condition became steadily worse. He left the room a few minutes before she died. Her physician said Billie succumbed to lung congestion and heart ailments.

She apparently had not been able to shake the narcotics habit even while dying. A nurse making a routine check last month noticed white powder on Billie's nose. Police found an envelope containing heroin in her room and Billie admitted that she had "sniffed" it occasionally.

In her autobiography, "Lady Sings the Blues," she had written: "There isn't a soul on this earth who can say for sure that their fight with dope is over until they're dead."

If she had lived, Billie would once again have had to face arraignment on a narcotics charge. She began using narcotics as a teen-ager while singing in Harlem night clubs for money that patrons threw on the dance floor.

Billie was born in Baltimore on April 7, 1915. Her father was a jazz musician and her mother took in washing. Billie later described her home as "just another one-night stand."

She was only 15 when she got her first job singing in a Harlem night club for $18 a week after she had applied for a job as a dancer.

Billie—she borrowed the name from movie star Billie Dove — drifted from club to club, delivering songs in the earthy style she had picked up from listening to the records of blues singer Bessie Smith and Louis Armstrong. Her talent was quickly recognized by jazz artists.

She cut her first record with Benny Goodman and went on to make nationwide tours with the Count Basie and Artie Shaw bands.

Her trademarks while crooning sad, soft songs were a white gown and a white gardenia in her hair.

Motorized Cars For Youngsters Held Dangerous

CHICAGO (UPI) —The National Safety Council warned Friday that motorized children's cars are more than toys and downright dangerous.

"Some of these miniature automobiles are so heavily powered they can go 40 to 50 miles an hour," said Gen. George C. Stewart, executive vice president of the council.

"That's too fast for any youngster under 16 to drive anywhere, anytime, and parents are only begging for trouble when they permit a child to do it.

"We realize that some of these little cars won't go more than five miles an hour. There is an understandable feeling by some parents that such a car can be driven safely by a 7-yard-old child in his own backyard.

"This may be true. . .but the variation in circumstances (is) so great that there is only one really safe rule for their use—don't use them."

The council urged parents not even to allow their children to race their midget cars on supervised tracks.

"We do this at the recognized risk of being written off as fuddy-duddies and despoilers of childhood fun," Stewart said. "But we firmly believe that children under 16 are too young to drive cars of any size anywhere without their parents going along. And somehow we doubt the average father could squeeze into one of these pint-sized miniature cars along with his son or daughter."

PARTNER SHOOTS CONVICT

TORONTO (UPI) —An escaped convict was shot dead Thursday by his partner during a robbery. Police said Ronald Watts, 22, and another bandit, George Burton, 42, entered a care on Toronto's waterfront bent on robbing it. A customer, Arthur Keay, an ex-policeman, tried to strike Watts with a pop bottle. The other gunman fired, missing Keay and hitting Watts. Burton was apprehended and charged with murder.

The national average pay of school teachers in the United States is $4,325 annually.

Paralytic Polio Warning Issued

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Surgeon General Leroy E. Buruney warned Friday that paralytic polio is on the upsurge and taking its heaviest toll among the unvaccinated.

Pointing up his warning, the Public Health Service reported that the nation's polio count climbed last week by 179 cases. Of these, 111 were paralytic.

The increase brought the total polio toll for the first 27 weeks of the year to 1,208 cases—791 of them of the crippling type.

The health service said the number of paralytic cases so far is more than double the 385 reported for the same period of 1958.

The total number of cases, including non-paralytic, at the same time last year was 754 cases.

Burney said nine out of 10 of the new polio cases have occurred among persons who have not had Salk vaccine shots. So far, about 70 million of 170 million Americans have had one or more of the anti-polio shots.

There have been three deaths from polio this year, all adult males.

"I cannot urge too strongly," Burney said, "the need for pushing ahead with the drive to vaccinate the unvaccinated. It is not too late either to start or complete the Salk shot series."

Five states accounted for more than half of last week's new polio cases. They were Texas with 31, of which 17 were paralytic, and Arkansas, 14; Iowa, 13, Alabama, 11 and Oklahoma 7, all of which were paralytic.

Missouri, which had had nine new cases the previous week, reported only four additional ones last week. Kansas had 11 and Ohio 10 but most of these were non-paralytic.

No polio was reported in the New England states.

Last week's 179 new cases compared with 174 the previous week and 104 for the same week of 1958. The number of paralytic cases in each instance was 111, 105 and 56.

On a percentage basis, the health service said, about 65 per cent of the total number of cases so far this year have been paralytic, compared with 51 per cent in the same period of 1958 and 42 per cent in 1957.

Caddy Faces 16 Years In Prison After Robbery

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (UPI) — A golf caddy faced 16 years in prison on Friday for beating and robbing greenskeeper Hansel (Hank) Karnes, brother-in-law of professional golfer Sam Snead.

Gordon Baker, 29, told circuit Judge Earl L. Abbott that he attacked Karnes because he "needed some quick money to pay some bills."

Karnes, who works at the Cascades Course here, said Baker beat him with a stock and robbed him of about $120 last June 3. He was cutting grass at the 6th green of the course when the attack occurred.

Ninety stitches were required to close cuts on Karnes' face, head and chest.

Karnes is a brother of Snead's wife.

Baker was sentenced Thursday.

Copies Of Booklet To Be Destroyed

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — British doctors have decided to destroy 50,000 copies of a sex-instruction booklet that is fetching 10 times its original price in black market dealings.

The British Medical Assn. withdrew "Getting Married," a one-shilling—14-cent—paperback booklet from newsstands last March after a storm of protest from church leaders.

Among questions "Getting Married" posed:

"Is chastity outmoded, outdated, out?"

"So you're getting married?

During the four days the booklet was available it sold 200,000 copies. Another 50,000 were withdrawn.

Doctors meeting Thursday voted 175-144 to keep their remaining copies out of circulation. Now they will be destroyed. The vote represented a narrow victory for Dr. Wolomon Wand, BMA Council chairman who originally ordered the book's withdrawal.

"Although we know that moral laxity exists, both the medium and the purpose of an educational pamphlet have to be considered," he told the assembly.

"This one purported to give advice to single men and women at the most unstable moment of their lives—advice apparently tendered by 70,000 British doctors.

"I take full responsibility for my action in suspending publication. If I were asked to do the same thing tomorrow I would do it."

In the controversial article on chastity, Dr. Eustace Chesser, a prominent London psychologist, contended the individual citizen should have the right to choose between being chaste or unchaste.

Chesser claimed one woman in three in Britain admits to premarital sexual intercourse. One in 20 births are known to be illegitimate. One in eight would have been but for subsequent marriage of the parents. One is six of all babies is conceived ahead of marriage.

"Do these figures mean that chastity is outmoded?" Chesser asked. "I doubt it, but it cannot be denied we are moving in that direction.

"Premarital sexual intercourse, despite the fact that it is a limited relationship, can also be more than ordinarily pleasant. True chastity can only come from within ourselves. Which means it is we who must be free to make the choice."

Nun Is Planning To Break Sound Barrier In Jet

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) —A 65-year-old Roman Catholic nun said Friday she'll break the sound barrier in a U.S. Air Force jet, flying as co-pilot.

Sister Aquinas, science education supervisor for the Green Bay Archdiocese, said she is slated to co-pilot a jet sometime next month at Hamilton Field near San Francisco.

She leaves for the west coast Sunday—by plane, naturally after conducting a two-week science workshop at the University of San Francisco she will receive jet briefing at Hamilton before taking off in one of the jets there.

She has logged 168 hours of flying time and is licensed to fly single-engine craft. She has flown helicopters and a T33 jet trainer.

"I'm 65," she said, "but I'm keeping young by keeping ahead of the children by work. That's how to keep young, you know, by work."

Sister Aquinas said American education needs to take some jet-speed steps too.

"There's too much conservatism in education," she said. "Educators are not alert enough to adapt curricula to the newer trends and needs of our country."

"If I stopped learning for two weeks I would be six weeks behind. That's how fast progress is. There never comes a time when a teacher ceases to be a student."

Soviets Get Surprise At Fashion Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Three of the Soviet Union's top fashion authorities learned about American glamor Friday, as they paid a surprise visit to the New York Dress Institute fall style showings here. They gazed with polite disbelief at bare-backed evening gowns and fabulous brocade dinner dresses.

Most of the 240 fashion editors here for the press week showings made a beeline for the Russians when they appeared in the ballroom during the Edward Abbott showing of strictly elegant day and evening fashions.

"We have things like that in Moscow, too," said Alexi Kulichev, bushy-haired director of the All-Union House of Fashion in Moscow, speaking through an interpreter, as he gazed open-mouthed at a black velvet backless dinner dress.

"But they are worn mostly by actresses," sniffed Lydia Dani-Lina, a Russian designer, who who proudly said she had designed the dress she was wearing, a somewhat nondescript brown crepe.

"We know high fashion, but in Moscow the need is for clothes for women who work, not social butterflies," said Clara Pobedinskaia, a young and attractive desgner, who also designed her own dress — a summer print with a permanently pleated skirt.

All three are in New York in connection with the Soviet exhibition at the Coliseum. All spoke through an interpreter.

The first two collections they saw — Edward Abbott and Branell — featured the king of middle-price-range fashions that most American women buy. But there was plenty of glamor in both.

Wilson Folmar, designer for Abbott, concentrates on "allure at a glance" in his current fall collection, highlights of which are backless sheaths of velvet, satin or brocade, and dresses with revealing tops and full "parachute" skirts.

Branell shows a wearable collection of suave daytime clothes, climaxed by a group of dazzling evening outfits, many in metallic brocades.

After the showings the Russians obligingly posed for pictures with one of the Branell models. With various editors who had been interviewing them, they sat down to a capitalist lunch, complete with more fashion shows.

New Benefits Are Granted City Workers

Granting its power and water plant employes a pay raise, the Monroe Utilities Commission has refused to convert the plant into a "labor shop," it was learned yesterday.

Commission chairman Travis Oliver Jr. said the Operating Engineers, a union, requested that the power plant employ "union men only."

When the commission refused, union representatives walked out on negotiations, Oliver said.

The commission granted 41 plant employes — the entire staff — a 5 to 9 per cent hourly pay raise and installed a new benefit program. Negotiations with the union were conducted throughout the week.

Turning to benefits offered by the Utilities Commission, Oliver listed them as:

1. Full pay for six months when injured on the job.
2. Full medical expenses when injured on the job.
3. Additional overtime benefits.
4. Additional paid time off to attend the funeral of the employe's family.

"Our employes already have the benefit of paid vacations, sick leave, jury pay and holiday pay," Oliver stated.

Returning to labor negotiations, Oliver said, "During the course of our negotiations we had offered to give substantial benefits not enjoyed by many employes in private industry."

"In the face of the union's walk-out, we have made immediately available to all of our employes the benefits which we have proposed as has been listed," he stated.

The pay raise went into effect Wednesday, Oliver said, and employes were briefed this morning on the new benefits.

DOCTORS BAN BOOK

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI)—A best-selling booklet on sex called "Getting Married" has been banned once and for all by the British Medical Association. Nearly 200,000 copies of the booklet have been sold, but its frank headlines and articles on sex and intimate marriage problem raised a storm of protest. One chapter was headed: "Is Chastity Outmoded? Outdated? Out?"

Rocket Bases Draw Blast From Soviet

SZCZECIN, Poland (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev charged Friday that aggressive circles want to establish rocket bases in Scandinavia to draw Soviet nuclear retaliation there instead of on themselves.

The Soviet Premier did not specify whom he meant by aggressive circles but the United States seemed an obvious target.

In a vigorous speech before about 10,000 Poles in this former German port city of Stettin, he also pledged armed Soviet defense of the border between East and West Germany.

Khrushchev also proclaimed his country's determination to fight against an attempt to take away from Communist Poland the territories it gained from Germany after World War II.

To dramatize this stand, Khrushchev was made an honorary citizen of Szczecin in a ceremony in the town hall.

Two weeks before he is to leave on a good-will tour through Scandinavian nations, Khrushchev took this occasion to warn those nations of possible destruction if rocket bases are established on their soil.

He said it is to the advantage of aggressive forces of certain states to have rocket bases in Scandinavia.

"Why?" he asked. "Simply because that if there are such bases there, those bases, in case of war, will attract counterblows of atomic and hydrogen bombs which will fall on those bases in those states. That means, to speak openly, that the politicians of certain states think that in this case 'the smaller number of bombs will fall on my state.'"

Concerning Germany he said, "The frontier which we will defends now between East Germany and West Germany. This is the frontier which divides the world of socialism and the world of capitalism and we will defend this frontier with all our strength."

Khrushchev looked suntanned and healthy, but at times showed signs of strain on the fifth day of a visit that has taken him from one end of Poland to the other.

He drove through Szczecin in an open 1948 model Buck and took a short cruise in Szczecin Harbor.

In his speech, he said again that the Soviet Union wants to solve all problems by negotiation, but that there are certain circles which want to continue international tension.

"Tesimony to this," he said, "is installation of American rocket bases on territories of other states, accelerated armament of West Germany and preparations to equip the West German army with atomic bombs."

MAJOR ISSUES LOOM

Agriculture Laws To Be Examined

Political hopefuls in Louisiana's upcoming state elections may get a preview of some major issues in the race when the influential Louisiana Farm Bureau Federation holds its annual convention in Monroe July 19-20.

Voting delegates and presidents tions will be meeting during the four day period to decide the policies which will govern the 25,000-member farmers organization for the next 12 months. Some of the major agricultural issues scheduled for consideration will concern legislative action on a trespass bill, dairy marketing, brucellosis eradication, changes in shrimping laws, and establishing standards for grading grains.

Among the controversial subjects on which the Farm Bureau delegates are expected to take a stand are the right-to-work issue and the state welfare program.

POLICIES

In deciding the policies concerning welfare, the voting delegates are expected to rely heavily on the findings of a special Farm Bureau committee which has just completed a six-month study of the Louisiana welfare program.

Some key items in national legislation also will be aired by the delegates, who will hear Sen. Allen J. Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation and Rep. Otto Passman of the Fifth Congressional District in the course of their deliverations.

The 61 parish presidents, who make up the Resolutions Committee for the state organization, will begin their work Sunday, July 19, at the Virginia Hotel, and continue through Monday. Senator Ellender will speak to the convention Monday night, with morning.

The convention schedule calls for the seating of the voting delegates from the parish Farm Bureaus on Tuesday, July 21, with special commodity conferences to follow during the day.

Final action of the voting delegates will come Wednesday following an address by AFBF President Shuman and the election of state officers and board members.

Nelson Eddy, noted stage and screen singer, was a newspaperman before turning to singing.

Pale Sox Break Up Terry's No-Hitter, Beat Yanks, 2-0

NEW YORK (AP) — The first-place Chicago White Sox, blanked without a hit for eight innings, beat young Ralph Terry and the New York Yankees 2-0 Friday night on Jim Landis' bases-loaded single in the ninth.

Early Wynn allowed the Yankees only two hits for his 261st career victory.

Wynn, 39, had allowed only one hit—Terry's disputed infield single in the sixth inning—before the ninth. Norm Siebern opened the ninth for the Yankees with a single, but Mickey Mantle then grounded into a doubleplay.

Wynn retired Yogi Berra on a pop up to end it for his 12th victory against six defeats.

Rookie Jim McAnany singled through the box leading off the ninth for the White Sox' first hit. Wynn then laid down a bunt, and Terry's throw to second was too late to nail McAnany. Luis Aparicio sacrificed the runners to third and second, and Fox received an intentional walk to load the bases.

Landis then broke it up—after Berra was unable to catch his foul tip on a 1-2 pitch—knifing a single to right that scored McAnanay and Wynn.

The White Sox, retaining their one-game American League lead over Cleveland, backed Wynn with superb fielding throughout.

Landis made a running, one-hand stab of Mantle's 430-foot drive to center in the fourth. Al Smith made a belly - whopping catch of Enos Slaughter's fly to left in the fifth. And Fox went behind second base for a fine play on Gil McDougald's grounder in the fifth.

Terry, 23, pitching only his fourth complete game in a dozen starts this season, faced 25 men —one over the minimum—through eight innings. He gave up three walks in that span, two to Earl Torgeson, who was the only White Sox runner to reach second until the ninth inning.

Torgy got there in the fifth, when Smith grounded to third on a hit and run. Torgeson also walked in the eighth, but was doubled up when Smith's liner was snared by third baseman Hector Lopez.

Smith received Terry's other walk, with two out in the second inning.

Only two Yankees had reached base against Wynn until Terry was called safe by first base Umpire Ed Rommel leading off the back-hand stop of Terry's grounder, but his throw reached first on one bounce.

With two out in the sixth, Wynn walked Mantle. But then he got out of the jam by getting Berra on a fly to left.

Wynn, breaking a tie with Ted Lyons for No. 20 on the all-time list of winners in the majors, struck out one, as did Terry, and walked two.

The Yankees, still fourth, but now 6½ games behind the White Sox, put two men on base in the first inning when McAnany was hit in the groin by Mantle's liner to right, and Berra walked. Lopez flied out to end the inning.

McAnany, incidentally, is batting .392 for the White Sox in 14 games since coming up from Indianapolis of the American Assn.

SPAHN BEATEN

Cardinals Stun Milwaukee, 4-3

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals stunned old nemesis Warren Spahn with a two-run rally in the eighth inning capped by rookie Gene Oliver's game-winning single for a 4-3 victory over the staggering Milwaukee Braves Friday night.

Spahn was rolling along in unstoppable fashion against his favorite victims when the Red Birds struck with two out and none on. Ken Boyer singled, Joe Cunningham scored him with a long double to left center and Oliver stroked a single to hand the Braves their fourth loss in a row and make Spahn's record 11-10.

The 38-year-old Brave ace was seeking his 54th victory over St. Louis. Instead his lifetime record now is 53-31 against the Cards.

Lind McDaniel struck out four in the last two innings to get the victory, his eighth against 10 defeats.

After Oliver singled, Spahn walked Hal Smith and was lifted. Don McMahon walked Alex Gammas to load the bases but fanned McDaniel to end the rally.

It was the sixth defeat in eight games for the Braves since the All-Star Game interlude and left them three games from the top.

The Braves bombed starter Larry Jackson for two runs and a 3-1 lead in the third. Eddie Mathews led off with a triple. Hank Aaron by Don Blasingame's triple and Bill White's run-scoring double.

Spahn missed tagging first base for an error on Gino Cimoli's grounder in the third, White singled him to third and he scored on Cunningham's foul fly.

rifled a double and Frank Torre doubled, scoring Aaron.

MCMULLEN, O'CONNER HOMER

Dubach Bombed By Sports, 22-2

Ike McMullen and John O'Conner socked home runs and batted in nine runs between them to power the Monroe Sports to a 22-2 runaway victory over Dubach in a La-Ark League contest here last night.

Righthander Carroll George hurled three-hit ball and set the Hornets down without a run until the sixth inning. Curtis Tubbs, the first of a trio of Dubach flingers, was charged with the loss after being shelled for ten runs in four innings.

O'Conner drove in five runs on a home run, a single and an infield out. He smashed a two-run circuit clout inside the park in the three-run fourth which helped finish Tubbs.

McMullen's poke was a mightier one, a 330-foot blast over the right field wall with the bases filled in the sixth inning. Ike, equipped with spectacles — but minus lenses — parked the ball over the fence and into the Little League park outfield.

The Sports upped their league lead a half game over idle West Monroe. It was the 15th win of the year for Monroe against one loss, that coming at the hands at Dubach.

Monroe scored in every inning but started off slow, picking up a single tally in the first, adding three more in the second, third and fourth, and erupting for nine in the fifth.

George picked up his second win of the year without a loss and didn't allow a hit until the fourth inning. Melvin Fuller broke the ice for Dubach with a looping double to center in the fourth and slammed another double in the sixth to score the first Hornet run. He rode home on a sacrifice fly by Tom Colvin to finish the invaders' scoring.

Monroe collected 17 hits and manager Bob Carter almost cleared the bench in an effort to hold down the score. Even George, supposedly weak with the stick as a pitcher, belted three hits, two of which came in the same inning.

Eddie McGowan and James Mock each had 2-2, including a triple. Tommy Crowe, who came in the game in the fourth frame, and McGowan drove in three runs apiece.

Homer Sends Phillies Over Dodgers, 3-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harry Anderson hit his 11th home run of the season Friday night to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-2 victory over the second - place Los Angeles Dodgers.

Anderson sent a pitch by right-hander Roger Craig over the right field wall in the seventh inning to break a 2-2 tie.

The Dodgers threatened to tie it in the top of the eighth when right fielder Norm Larker tripled with none out. But Jim Ownes, who earned his fifth win, retired the next three Dodgers in order.

Craig and Art Fowler, who came in to pitch for the Dodgers in the eighth, scattered four hits, including three singles and Anderson's home run. Owens gave up 10 hits but left 10 Dodgers on base. It was Craig's first loss of the year. He's won four.

Big hitters for the Dodgers were Larker, who had a single, double and triple, and second baseman Charlie Neal, who collected a double and a triple.

The Phillies got their first run in the second inning. A single by Lonnett scored Gene Freese from second base. Their second run came in the sixth on a single by Ed Bouchee, scoring Solly Drake.

Indians Survive Red Sox Rally To Post 8-7 Victory

BOSTON (AP)—Cleveland held on desperately against a ninth inning Boston Red Sox onslaught Friday night to salvage a rhubarb-filled 8-7 victory that kept the Indians on Chicago's heels in the American League race.

Gary Bell fanned pinch hitter Bobby Avila with the tying run on second base to end the zany contest before 26,432 fans at Fenway Park.

The Indians, by winning, remained a game behind the White Sox who replaced them atop the American League standings. But for Cleveland, breaking a three-game losing streak, it was a tough struggle.

Leading 8-1 after 6½ innings, the Indians saw rookie Bobby Locke, the eventual winner, chased by three runs, two of them on a Marty Keough homer.

The Red Sox came up with three more in the ninth. Jackie Jensen doubled across one and Gene Stephens singled for the others.

Bell was summoned to relieve Jim Perry and was greeetd by the Stephens drive to right.

Frank Malzone singled Stephens to second but Avila batted for Sammy White and looked at a third strike.

Rocky Colavito drilled his 29th homer into the left field screen for Cleveland in the third inning after Boston errors played a part in two-run outbursts by the visitors in each of the first two frames.

Indians' Manager Joe Gordon and outfielder Minnie Minoso were chased by the empires in a frantic eighth inning.

With Woody Held on a second and Vic Power on first, Tito Francona hit a grounder to second baseman Herb Plews who grabbed the ball, made a tag at Power running by and then dropped the ball. Second base umpire Jim Honochick ruled Power was out for interference and ordered Held back to second.

After a lengthy argument, plate Umpire Frank Umont thumbed out Gordon.

The count was 1-1 on Minoso when the argument flared again as the Cleveland bench was a bedlam of catcalls and cavorting.

With Minoso out of the box, Boston's Leo Kiely fired two pitches over the plate. Umont called them strikes and Minnie blew his top. He threw his bat along the ground with a furious swing and Umont had to leap in the air to avoid being hit. Colavito, Vic Power and Coach Red Kress forcibly restrained Minoso from charging the umpire.

Locke, a 25-year-old right-hander, was credited with his first major league triumph.

LEGION FINALS

Ruston, Monroe To Clash Today

RUSTON, La. (Special) —Ruston's T. L. James Contractors, some of their luster dimmed after narrowly edging West Monroe in the semi-finals, host Monroe's Brown-Rivers-Scogin nine at 3 this afternoon here in the first game of their best-of-three American Legion baseball district finals.

The scene will shift to Monroe's Legion Stadium for the second game Monday and also the third game, if necessary.

Ruston, which had only a forfeit loss to Oak Grove to mar its record in regular season, lost the first game of its series to West Monroe, 3-1, in 10 innings but bounced back to take the second, 14-8.

The regular season pennant winners squeezed past fourth place West Monroe, 3-2, in the final game to gain a finals berth.

Monroe, meanwhile, easily swept past third place Oak Grove with two straight wins to nail down the other spot in the fifth district finals.

However, Ruston remains a heavy favorite to retain the district title they won from Monroe's defending state champions in 1958 on the strength of two regular season wins, the only two defeats suffered by Red Sims' club.

Jackie Moreland will probably start John Porter, who lost the first game of the semi-finals, against Monroe. Sims will probably counter with one of his three top pitchers, righthanders Neal Gunn and Bob Saterfield or lefty L. M. Welch.

Ronnie Marrus and Max Lewis, the regular third baseman, picked up the Ruston wins over West Monroe but outfielder John Bailey got most of the pitching laurels. He preserved both wins with excellent relief work.

Ruston went on to finish second in the state last season and has most of the players back from that outfit. Monroe finished second in the district last year.

Recreation Softball

Jack Hollingsworth lost his no-hitter and a 3-0 lead in the top of the 7th but Tom Gibbons drove in the winning run with a triple in the bottom of the frame to give the West Monroe Lions Club a 4-3 nod over the National Guard in the West Monroe Adult League. Two errors and one hit scored three runs for the Guard to tie it up in the top of the 7th.

St. Paschal's edged First Christian, 9-8, with Joe Jacola the winner over McKeithen in a Church "A" contest last night. Bryan hit two home runs to head the winners' attack while M. Wroten got 2-4 for the losers. Temple beat Trinity, 11-9, as Foust bested Walker. Walker got 2-2 for the losers and Fletcher hit 2-3 for Temple. Ronnie Gallien homered as West Monroe Baptist beat Victory, 6-3. Slater and Farmer won over McGough.

McBeth got 3-3 with a homer to pace Emmanuel to its 11th win against six defeats, a 15-8 rout of Stone Avenue. McDonald and Plunkett was the winning battery over Cummins and Crawford. Bowen contributed 3-4 for Emmanuel and Grimsley got the same for Stone.

In the Junior League, West Monroe Baptist beat Gordon Avenue, 14-8, and Trinity beat College Place by forfeit. Kincaid and Duckley beat Hudson and Stokes and White of the winners and Gordy of Gordon each got 2-4.

L.T.I. edged Ouachita Band, 11-10, in the Senior circuit and West Monroe Baptist forfeited to the Speedsters. Vauclin got 2-4 for L.T.I. while losing pitcher Wyatt had the same for the bandsmen. Perkins and Daigle was the winning battery.

Youth, Alhambra Shaken Up In Hollywood Spill

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Exercise boy Ross Fenstermaker suffered a broken leg and Alhambra, a swift sprinter owned by Fred Hooper, was shaken up in a spill at Hollywood Park Friday.

The horse shied when another crossed in front during a workout. The rider was thrown and Alhambra, tangled in his reins, fell.

Alhambra apparently was not hurt. He was flown here to run in the Lakes and Flowers Handicap Monday after winning the Arch Ward Memorial Handicap in Chicago last Saturday.

Littler Continues Hot Subpar Pace

By LOU BLACK

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Gene Littler's sizzling golf matched the weather here Friday. He fired a 5-under-par 66 for a 36-hole total of 130 to increase his lead at the halfway mark in the $25,000 Insurance City Open Golf Tournament.

Littler, whose first round 64 yesterday gave him a two-stroke edge, was five strokes in front of his nearest challengers after the second round.

They were Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., and Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, each with 135.

Littler, former National Amateur champion, toured the par-71 Wethersfield Country Club 6,548-yard course in 31-35. His round included six birdies and one bogie.

He was 12 strokes under par at this point in the tournament.

Littler, who will be 29 next Tuesday, started off sensationally this afternoon with two birdies. He picked up two more just before reaching the turn in 31.

Gene birdied the 10th and canned a short putt for another birdie on the 18th to climax his exciting game.

As in his opening round, the 5-9, 167-pound Littler needed only 29 putts. They included a birdie 15-footer on the 168-yard fifth and a birdie 20-footer on the 356-yard eighth.

He missed one from three feet for par on the 374-yard 12th hole, his only bad hole in the two rounds.

Crampton, former Australian Open champion, and Goalby, a veteran of the pro circuit, were five strokes off the pace but playing good golf. The only trouble was that Littler was playing better.

More than 5,000 fans followed and thrilled at the magic of his putting and other clubs. With two more days to go the tourney has settled down to Littler against the field.

The cool, calculating Littler doesn't mind. "I like to lead," he said.

Furillo Sees 4-Club Race For NL Flag

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Any one of the current top four clubs could win the National League pennant, and that includes the Los Angeles Dodgers.

A sidelined Dodger star, Carl Furillo, so predicted Friday as he puttered around his home at Manhattan Beach, marking time until he can rejoin the team.

The 37-year-old outfielder, one of the all-time heroes of the old guard Dodgers, spiked speculation that he would meet the club when it moves into San Francisco Monday.

He tore the muscles in his left leg in a game against the Giants here June 29.

"The doctor says it will be at least 10 days before I can think about playing. My leg still feels like a balloon full of water," he explained.

He added it would take more time to play himself back into the form he had reached when the mishap occurred—the second to hit him this season.

Furillo was batting a lusty .328, second now to Jim Gilliam's .336 on the club.

Carl said he is working the leg out each day, taking whirlpool treatment "and everything else to get it back in shape."

As for the pennant race, he declared:

"Any of the first four clubs could win it. The first one that gets a break, a winning streak going, can do it.

"We could do it. We've got a good chance. But we've got to win the big games. Any time a seventh place club beats us, man, that hurts. You can't lose those ball games."

Furillo referred to the two important games the club lost to Cincinnati July 12-13.

"Understand, I'm not second guessing anyone. But those hurt," he concluded.

Fay Crocker In Alliance Tourney Lead

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Fay Crocker of Montivideo, Uruguay, fired a one-under par 70 Friday for a 141 total and a two-stroke lead at the halfway mark in the $12,500 Alliance International Golf Tournament for women.

The 44-year-old, 155-pound South American held a two-stroke edge over veteran Patty Berg, St. Andrews, Ill., who add a 72 to her opening round 71. A stroke back at 144 was 5 - foot - 3 inch, 110-pound Marlene Hagge, Pittsburgh, who limped in with a par 71 and said: "My feet hurt and I'm tired."

Wright Beats Essig To Gain Meet Finals

DENVER (AP) — Bill Wright, Seattle's putting sensation, defeated Don Essig III, the 1957 champion 1-up and Frank Campbell of Jacksonville, Fla., crushed San Fransisco patrolman Bill McCool 3 and 1 in Friday's 36-hole semifinals of the National Public Links Golf Toornament.

Campbell, 38, an insurance agent, and Wright, 23, Negro collegian, play 36 holes Saturday over the 6,617-yard par 71 Wellshire Course for the championship. Defending champion Dan Sikes Jr., Jacksonville law student, lost in the second round.

Wright, never trailing after the seventh hole, had 23 one - putt greens in a performance that Essig said "was just unbeatable. How can you win against putting like that." Essig, 20, Indianapolis, is a student at Louisiana State.

Wright, closed out the match on the 18th with a typical 12 - foot putt for a birdie 4 after Essig's putt for an eagle missed by one inch.

Wright, off the tee and overshooting with his irons at times, more than made up for it with his long putts. On the first nine this morning, for example, he hit trees on three holes and yet scored two birdies.

Campbell, shooting par golf over the morning 18, built a 2-up lead and widened the margin to four up by taking the 25th and 26th holes. He won the 25th when McCool, having putter trouble all day, missed a four footer. McCool went out of bounds back of the green on 26 to allow Campbell to go four up.

Cincinnati players cast a glance at Chicago Cubs runner Jim Marshall after a double play left him in this position in the third inning yesterday. Ceccarelli's 6-Hitter Stops Cincinnati, 1-0

CHICAGO (AP)—Southpaw Art Ceccarelli turned his second National League start into his second victory as he blanked Cincinnati on six hits and scored the run in the Chicago Cubs' 1-0 triumph Friday.

The 29-year-old Ceccarelli, recalled from Fort Worth of the American Assn. 10 days ago, walked six and fanned but one to give the Cubs their fourth straight victory and sixth in seven games. They moved over the .500 mark at 45-44.

Bob Purkey suffered his 10th loss — third to Chicago — against eight victories. Purkey gave up seven hits.

The Cubs scored in the fifth. Catcher Sammy Taylor opened with a single, but was forced at second on Ceccarelli's sacrifice attempt. Tony Taylor bunted for a single and the pitcher moved to second.

The Reds, dropping their sixth of 11 games to Chicago, left 12 runners stranded in Cincinnati's first game here since Freddie Hutchinson replaced Mayo Smith as manager.

Duck Season Not Set Yet For La.

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

A misleading report from Washington has Louisiana duck hunters pulling their hair.

To sum up the confusion quickly, a wire story announced that the federal government has set the waterfowl frame-work for the coming season at Sept. 1 to Dec. 3.

What the report failed to mention was that the September to December duck season is for Alaska — not Louisiana and her sister states located in the Mississippi Flyway.

In short, the framework for Louisiana and the Mississippi Flyway has not been determined.

That will come at a meeting in Washington Aug. 4-5 with the Department of the Interior handing down the decision. The Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission then will have 10 days to set the Louisiana season.

Under federal regulations, the framework must be announced at least 30 days prior to the season, which explains the early announcement for the State of Alaska.

When contacted in New Orleans yesterday, Louisiana wildlife officials said a letter from Director Rudolph P. Easterly recommending a framework would be presented to the federal government.

At present, the Louisiana commission apparently has no plans of sending a representative to the Washington meeting. However, Tom Evans, chief of the game division for the State of Illinois, will represent the Mississippi Flyway.

Easterly said yesterday that Louisiana has been notified that a reduction in either the season or bag limit can be expected.

A 30-day season has been mentioned. So has the possibility of reducing the bag to two ducks.

Louisiana would go for a 30-day season or reduction in the number of days rather than a cutback in the bag limit.

Still, the outlook for the coming duck season is gloomy.

Meanwhile, the Louisiana department currently is in the process of setting the dove season. The framework handed down by the federal government was as follows:

Within the September 1-January 15 framework, all states east of the Mississippi River, and Arkansas and Louisiana, may submit recommendations for hunting seasons that conform to the following conditions:

1. Hunting only between the hours of noon to sunset.
2. 65 consecutive half-days.
3. Or two periods totaling 65 half - days.

'Beisbol' Game Baffles Reds

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — This game of "beisbol," which they invented, continues to baffle the Russians.

Soviet track and field athletes here for a dual meet with the American squad sat through two innings of the San Francisco-Philadelphia doubleheader Thursday night, and came up with questions showing their bewilderment.

Such questions as:

What are baseballs made of?

What do they weigh?

Is the infield made that way intentionally or is it because people have worn the grass out running on it so much?

What happens if a member of a team that is batting catches the ball?

They didn't try to find out about the great American institution—the hot dog. Photographers insisted they pose with the delicacy. But they weren't hungry enough to nibble on them.

American, Russian Track Stars Vie In Philadelphia

By TED SMITS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The United States and Russia clash Saturday in a dual meet that brings together most of the world's best men and women in track and field.

America is favored to win in the men's events and Russia in the women's in the two-day competition which, with good weather, should draw 40,000 each day to Franklin Field.

The forecast for the week end is good. Rain has fallen off and on most of the week but stopped Thursday.

This is the first time Russia has sent a track team to the United States. Last year in Moscow in the first meeting of the two national teams the U.S. men won 126-109 but the Russian women triumphed 63-44. Russia insisted on combining the two scores for a Soviet victory of 172-170.

The powerful Russian team includes such stars as Igor Kashkarov, who has high jumped 7 feet ½ inch; Vasily Kuznetsov, who has bettered the world record in the decathlon; and Igor Ter-Ovanesyan, a 26 - foot broad jumper.

The United States is counting on veteran aces Harold Connolly in the hammer, Al Oerter in the discus, Greg Bell in the broad jump, and Parry O'Brien in the shot—all Olympic champions—together with such sensational youngsters as Ray Norton in the sprints, Tom Murphy in the 800, and Al Cantello, who recently threw the javelin 282-3½ to better the world record.

In the women's events the United States is looking to Earlene Brown in the weights, Isabelle Daniels in the 200, and Wilma Rudolph in the 100 for points.

One of the blue ribbon events should be the pole vault. Russia has a 15-foot pole vaulter in Vladimir Bulatov, but the USA's Don Bragg, who set a world indoor record at 15-9½, should stop him.

The high jump brings together three men who have bettered the magic seven foot mark — Kashkarov and his teammate, Yuri Stepanov, pitted against Charlie Dumas of the United States.

The United States might surprise in the distances with Bill Dellinger in the 5,000 and Dyrol Burleson in the 1,500.

Powerful as is the American team, some of the best of the nation's stars are sidelined by injuries, including Bobby Morrow, the Olympic 100 and 200 - meter champion; Rafer Johnson, who beat Kuznetsov last year in Moscow in the decathlon in the most thrilling event of the meet; John Thomas, who set a world record in the high jump at 7-1¼; and Glenn Davis, world record holder in the 400-meter hurdles.

Opening ceremonies Saturday are at 2 p.m., EST, but competition starts in the broad jump at 1:40 p.m. in order to give Russia's Ter-Ovanesyan a chance to compete in both this event and the decathlon. NBC is televising Sunday's competition from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m., EST. The meet is sponsored by the Philadelphia Inquirer Charities in conjunction with the Amateur Athletic Union.

Whitney Reed Enters Finals On Clay Court

CHICAGO (AP)—Whitney Reed, NCAA champion, ended the upstart antics of young fellow Californian Larry Nagler Friday to enter the finals of the National Clay Court Tennis Tournament.

Reed huffed and puffed and finally blew down the steady-stroking game of his slightly built opponent 6-4, 7-5, 1-6, 9-7 in a semifinals marathon at suburban River Forest Tennis Club.

Reed, 26, of San Jose State College and a resident of Alameda, earned the questionable privilege of meeting the winner of Saturday's semifinals match between defending champion Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of Dallas and 28-year-old Abe Segal of South Africa. Segal upset top-seeded Alex Olmedo Thursday.

No matter who wins that second semifinals battle, the primarily defensive tactics of both participants guarantees a long afternoon's work for the slugging Reed in Sunday's championship final.

BEHIND JONES

Giants Take 4-1 Win To Up Lead

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The San Francisco Giants socked four doubles and capitalized on an error Friday night as they whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-1 behind the effective pitching of Sam Jones.

Jones gave up seven hits, struck out seven and walked one in picking up his 13th victory. He has lost nine.

He gave up the only Pirate run on a pair of singles in the second inning.

The San Francisco victory, coupled with Los Angeles' 3-2 loss to Philadelphia, increased the Giants hold on first place to two full games over the runner-up Dodgers.

A near capacity crowd of 33,220 turned out for the opener of a four game series and saw Pirate starter Ronnie Kline give up a run in the first inning on back-to-back doubles by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda after the first two batters had been retired.

The Pirates tied the score in the second. With two men out, Don Hoak singled, stole second and scored on Roberto Clemente's single.

The Giants got another run off Kline in the seventh when Ed Bressoud doubled and came home on another double by Willie Kirkland.

Kline was lifted for a pinch hitter in the bottom half of the seventh and was replaced on the mound by Elroy Face.

The Giants got two runs off Face in the eighth. Cepeda singled, stole second and third and came home on a squeeze play as Pirate first baseman Dick Stuart fumbled Hobbie Landrith's bunt. Jackie Brandt, who had walked earlier, moved to second on the Stuart error, and scored from there on Bressoud's single.

Kline, who was charged with the loss, now has a record of seven victories and eight defeats.

Calhoun Beats Dick Tiger On Split Decision

[illegible]

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Middleweights Rory Calhoun and Dick Tiger dawdled through 10 rounds Friday night with Calhoun taking a split and disputed decision.

Each weighed 162 pounds.

The fight bore little resemblance to the exciting draw the two fought five weeks ago in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Laughs and boos greeted the announcers' word that Judges Dick Fazio and Harold McGrath had given Calhoun six rounds to four for Tiger. Referee Joe Palmer say the fight 5-3-2 for Tiger, the same as the AP.

The slim crowd booed and clapped for action at the end of the sixth, eighth and ninth rounds of the nationally televised fight.

A flurry enlived the seventh, Calhoun slipping after taking a right to the face and dragging Tiger to the mat atop him. Both sprawled under the ropes. There was no knockdowns.

The sleepy-eyed Calhoun, counterpunching effectively, won the last three rounds on the McGrath and Fazio cards.

A last-minute rally had helped the 24-year-old Rory to his earlier draw.

Mothers Play In Ferriday Game

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — Mom shows junior how it's supposed to be done next Friday night, July 24, when the "Major League Mothers" play the "Minor League Mothers" in a baseball game here.

The teams, made up of mothers of Little Boys League players, will clash in a benefit game with the proceeds going to help pay the expenses of sending the local Little Boys all-star team to the district tournament at Mangham.

League secretary-treasurer F. R. Goynes will manage the minor league team and league president George Perry the major league mothers.

Rebel League

Piggly Wiggly - Miller's handed Brown - Rivers - Scogin its first defeat of the Rebel League season yesterday, a 10-2 pasting behind the one-hit pitching of Jones.

Jones fanned 11 in winning over the losing hurler, Brown. Jimmy Morgan got 3-4 for the winners and Fred Newton 2-3.

Little League

Cerniglaro allowed only one hit as Monroe Police downed Gay's, 7-0, in the Northside circuit. Reitzell and Gallagher each got 4-4 to pace the winner while Dahl got the lone hit for Gay's. Hesdoffer was the loser.

Oglesbee and Gilbert Lee hit 2-3 each and Charles Hill homered to spearhead KLIC's 11 - 10 victory over Lennon Motors in the Southside. Warlick and Foreman won over Price and Roye. Pearson got 3-4 and Roye 2-3 with a homer for Lennon.

Minor League

Steve's Market edged R&A Jewelers, 1-0, on Sandy Cain's one - hitter in one of the best Minor League games this year at Bendel. Cain and Burrough got the only hits off loser Moon in the hour and 10-minute game while Smith collected the losers' only hit in the "B" contest.

Antie pitched a no - hitter as Fire Department routed People's League. Antie also led the hitting for the winners with 2-3 off the losing battery of Ryals, Duffy and Boyett.

Saul Adler whipped Montgomery Insurance, 20-10, with Reiss going 3-5, Rogers 3-4 and Wilson 4-4. Myrick won over Aycock in the "C" League game.

Bob Allison, star rookie with the Washington Senators, led the Piedmont League in putouts with 289 and in assists with 24 when he played for Hagerstown in 1955.

Kansas City Rallies In 7th To Beat Nats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dick Williams and Harry Chiti triggered a four-run Kansas City rally in the seventh that clinched a 7-4 victory over Washington Friday night.

Ned Garver, with some help in the final 2 1-3 innings from Murry Dickson and Bob Grim, won his seventh game against nine losses.

Russ Kemmerer who won four of his first five games, now has lost nine out of the last 10 times he started.

The Athletics combined three hits and two walks in the seventh for the winning rally. Williams socked a two-run single and Chiti hammered a double that drove in the other two runs.

A paying crowd of 9,842 raised Washington's season attendance to 428,201—100,754 ahead of the Senators' attendance pace of a year ago.

Roy Sievers blasted his 12th homer in the second with none on, boosting Washington's team home run total to 112, tops in the major leagues.

Bridges Errs, Orioles Take 3-2 Triumph

BALTIMORE (AP)—A two-run error by shortstop Rocky Bridges of the Detroit Tigers presented the Baltimore Orioles with a 3-2 victory Friday night.

It was the fifth straight defeat for the Tigers and their 12th in the last 14 games.

Bridges' error on Willie Tasby's grounder with the bases loaded let in two runs after Brooks Robinson had smacked his first homer since being recalled by the Orioles July 8.

Don Mossi held the Orioles to a total of three hits only to drop his fourth decision in 11 games.

Harold (Skinny) Brown gave up a homer to Frank Bolling, his sixth, in the third inning and when the Tigers scored again in the eighth Milt Pappas came on to preserve his sixth triumph in 11 games of record.

Mossi retired 15 batters in a row before giving way to a pinch hitter in the eighth and Tom Morgan set the Orioles down in order in their last bats.

Brown was hit for only Bolling's homer and Harvey Kuenn's double in the seventh before the eighth inning Tiger threat.

Singles by Gail Harris, Bolling and pinch hitter Eddie Yost produced a run and Pappas was called upon to stem the tide.

After Robinson homered with two outs in the second inning, Billy Gardner walked and Willie Miranda and Brown walked. Bridges then let Tasby's grounder skim through his legs while Gardner and Miranda scored.

The only other Oriole safety was Joe Taylor's single in the third.

Qualifying For Highland Meet Ends Friday

Qualifying rounds in the annual Highland Park Country Club four-ball golf tournament will continue through next Friday, according to club pro James Aulds.

All matches in the four-ball affair will be over 18 holes and with match play rules. Duplicate prizes will be awarded to winners and runnerups in each flight and consolation winners.

A pro-am tourney, held in conjunction with the meet, is scheduled for Friday along with the championship qualifying.

Van Trow Meets Ark. Champions

Van Trow tangles with Haney's Refrigeration, defending Arkansas champions, in a softball doubleheader on the Barkdull Faulk diamond at 7:30 tonight.

Fuzzy Huff, manager of the local nine, has named Angelo Danna to hurl the first game and Danny Sullivan to toss the nightcap. Guy Gannaway and Don Nelson will be behind the plate.

Household Hints That Assist, Aid Today's Women

United Press International

Blend apple juice with honey, heat and serve with pancakes.

Clothing specialists recommend low to medium temperatures for ironing cotton wash - and - wear finishes.

Dumplings for lamb stew will taste and look good if you add chopped parsley or chives and grated carrot to the batter.

Hose down bamboo, reed, cane or wicker furniture occasionally to prevent it from drying and splitting.

Iron draperies with the thread of the material to prevent sideways stretching.

Cover a vacuum cleaner nozzl with cheesecloth held in place with a rubber band. Then clean button boxes, dresser drawers, and sewing kits without disturbing the articles inside.

Rub French chalk with a small brush into dull spots left on rugs by furniture pressure. Then vacuum the area.

When frying foods which tend to splatter, place paper towels or cut foil or waxed paper over burners not in use.

Dessert in a jiffy: syrup parfait. Arrange layers of vanilla ice cream, chopped toasted almonds and dark corn syrup in serving glasses. Serve with spice cookies.

Broiled canned peach halves go well with ham steak. Brush the drained fruit with dark corn syrup before broiling.

Fresh Colors Can Make A Lot Of Difference

CHICAGO (UPI) — A new color scheme can make the kitchen seem degrees cooler on hot summer days.

Only about $10 worth of paint is needed to cover the average room. Use an odorless semi-gloss or gloss paint. This kind dries quickly, will not interfere with cooking when first applied, and will retain its fresh look after countless washings.

Before painting, wash dirt and grease from the walls and woodwork. Remove loose or cracked pain with a wire brush or sandpaper, and sanddown any glossy surfaces so the new coat will adhere better.

Experts agree that the coolest colors include most shades of green, turquoise, light blue, gray-blue and green - blue. If warm colors are essenial to your happiness, add them by means of the curtains or as accents in the form of plates, pictures or bric-a-brac.

These are suggested as pleasant combinations for a cool kitchen:

— Ice - blue walls; chartreuse floor; medium - blue counters; white or blue cabinets; chartreuse curtains; orange accents.

— Sea - green walls; deep green floor; champagne counters and cabinets; deep green, yellow and white curtains; raspberry red accents.

— Pale turquoise walls; deep turquoise floor; natural wood or ivory cabinets; pale melon counters; melon and ivory curtains.

By BETTY PEPIS

Q. — We have selected a modern toast and gold colored sofa and matching chair and end and coffee tables in a transitional style in a cherry mood finish. I would like ideas for another chair, a rug and particularly for types of accessories.

A. — Seems like you have a good start toward a room that could be effectively bland and neutral in color but a fascinating background for brilliant accessories. Keep to the toast tones for floor covering, walls and the extra chair. Then pick two brilliant colors and let yourself go with accessories. Turquoise and emerald would be good. You can find these colors in pottery, glass or enamel in sufficient variety. Concentrate on these shades for boxes, bowls, ashtrays, lamp bases and the like, and of course, repeat the identical tones in throw and floor pillows.

Q. — In my living room I have three bay windows. My furniture is decidedly traditional. If it proper to use cafe curtains with this type of furniture? Should I use two equal tiers top and bottom?

A. — Either would be correct. A somewhat more interesting method and one which has become popular of late is to use cafe curtains in tiers of different lengths beginning with the shortest at top and ending with the longest at bottom. I have seen this done with both three and five tiers. In neither case is a valance necessary.

Q. — My living and dining room adjoin. Walls and draperies in both are a soft green. Could I use a solid carpet in the living room and a floral in the dining room?

A. — Since the other backgrounds are coordinated a change of pace in the carpet would be a wise decorating move. The two carpets should, however, be separated by a wood border. The floral carpet might repeat the shape of the dining table and be just large enough to fit under it while the plain living room carpet might be conventionally rectangular.

Q. — Our bedroom is very large and has a small alcove with a window set into it. It also has a second window under which we have placed our bed. Furniture is amber-toned mahogany. What would you do with walls and ceilings, with bedspread, curtains, draperies and throw rugs? I love yellows and oranges.

A. — Put wallpaper in the alcove and on the entire ceiling. Try to find one which has a white background but favorite yellows and oranges. Have a roller shade made of the paper for the alcove window and dispense with both curtains and draperies there. Paint the rest of the room (including woodwork) with a yellow contained in the pattern. Use an open work white lacy bedspread over orange on the bed. Throw rugs in orange and fluffy white curtains at the second window should result in a very gay room.

Informal Party Compliments Doctor's Wives

Mrs. Charles A. Spears and Mrs. Henry L'heureux, Jr., both formerly of St. Petersburg, Fla. rida, entertained at an informal party on Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Spears in the Garnier Apartments, honoring the new Resident Physicians' wives of Charity Hospital.

The dining room table was covered with an imported handmade cut work cloth and the centerpiece was an arrangement of pink pom poms and green foliage.

Those present for the occasion, including the hostesses, were Mesdames O. J. Blackwell, Bob G. Baniester, Keith H. Johansen, R. N. Fabricius, R. A. Armstrong, Richard F. Harper and D. W. Williams.

Garden Society Holds Regular Monthly Meeting

The Dixieland Daylily Society held its regular monthly meeting in the Agricultural Building in West Monroe on Monday night. Mrs. W. R. Gates, president, presided.

A business session was held and all committee reports were given, and the officers for the coming year were named. They are: president, Mrs. E. W. Earl; first vice - president, Mrs. Julius Irving; second vice - president, Mrs. J. A. Kilpatrick; recording secretary, Mrs. T. S. Mangham; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Gates; treasurer, Mrs. Ernest B. Turner; historian, Mrs. Mary Willett; and publicity, Mrs. John Williams. These officers will be installed at the August meeting.

Hostesses were Mrs. June Hill and Mrs. J. H. Savage, and the guests were Mrs. C. L. Cain, Mrs. A. R. Robinson. The members present were: Ms. Pattie Carr, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gates, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Clay, Mrs. E. C. Davidson, Mrs. Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Irving, Mrs. Suzee Gorman, Mrs. J. G. Haynes, Mrs. T. S. Mangham, Mrs. Warren McGee, Mrs. R. C. Pittard, Mrs. J. H. Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Turner, Mrs. L. C. Willett, Mrs. John Williams, and Mrs. Abbie Leckie.

Rehearsal Party Compliments Bridal Couple

Mrs. James S. Osterland and Mrs. Howard Morgan were hostesses at a rehearsal supper honoring the bridal party of the Osterland - Patterson wedding on Friday evening prior to the wedding, in the Fellowship Hall of the Gordon Avenue Methodist Church.

The long white linen covered table was centered with a decoration of pink roses.

The guests included the bride and groom - elect, Miss Joan Patterson and A-2c Leon Osterland, Z. S. Patterson, Mrs. Mary Sue Owens, matron of honor, Paul Roye, best man, Miss Elizabeth Averitt, organist, H. D. Hankins and Reverend W. M. Allen.

ANN LANDERS
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My fiance plans to give me a ring on my 18th birthday. He's 19 and we are both high school graduates.

He insists this is one of the biggest moments of our entire lives. He wants his young brother to be on hand taking moving pictures of him putting the ring on my finger, the kiss to seal it, and our folks congratulating us. He claims we will be very glad we have this on film for posterity.

I am violently against this idea and have said so. I think this sacred moment should be between two people. The idea of having his kid brother hanging around with a moving picture camera makes me sick. I don't want his parents or mine looking on either.

He feels so strongly about this that he says either I agree or the engagement is off.

I thought I loved him but now I'm not so sure. Neither of us has ever dated anyone else. We've lived next door since we were 7. I'd like your opinion before I turn over the apple-cart in haste. — WANTING PRIVACY

Dear Wanting: If all the engagement means to him is something to take pictures of—then you'd better tip over the apple-cart and pronto.

In my opinion, you are both too young for marriage. And he's an immature 19-year-old as evidenced by his notion of what an engagement ring presentation should be.

I suggest you call off the engagement and both date others. If after a year or so you two think you were meant for each other, pick up the loose ends and go together again. You both remind me of the worm in horse radish. He thought it was the sweetest place in the world—because that was the only place he'd ever been.

Dear Ann: I'm so confused I don't know what to do. Two years ago I divorced my husband against the violent protests of my three daughters. He begged me to reconsider, but my pride was hurt and I went through with it.

I began dating a European man and was quite thrilled with his fine manners and his warm attitude toward my daughters. Now I feel as if the bottom has dropped out of mmy world. He is a different person entirely.

He became very strict with the girls and they've soured on him. He made me quit work and sell my car. He had the telephone removed and insists on opening all the mail. He stopped the daily paper and I have to buy it on the stand.

Yesterday he struck the eldest girl and she threatened to tell her father. If she does tell he'll try to take all the girls from me. I know now my first husband was more of a man than this one will ever be. I shouldn't have divorced him. I'm miserable and heartsick. What shall I do? — M.M.M.

Dear M.M.M.: This problem should be discussed with your clergyman. Sounds like you jumped from the frying pan into the fire. Maybe with luck you can get back into the frying pan.

Dear Ann: I'm 16 and madly in love with a boy 18 who works at the gasoline station near my house. We used to go steady, but he dropped me.

The reason he dropped me is I got made at him for standing me up on dates. Four times in a row he promised to take me to a certain movie and he didn't show up or call to say he wasn't coming.

Now I hear he's dating a girl who looks very much like me. Everyone comments on this. Do you think this means anything? Shall I call him? I think he still cares about me but he's stubborn. — DOT

Dear Dot: Quit puffing on that dream pipe. If he wanted you he wouldn't have had to settle for a substitute. Forget him. He's a heel.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Lowly Animal Again Appears On Fall Scene

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—Those once-humble little animals—the raccoon, the civet cat and the opossum—have come out of Uncle Remus stories and into the spotlight of high fashion.

Brer Fox is here, too, in all his glory—and even Peter Rabbit shows up occasionally in budget lines.

The animals are star performers in the current fall fashion previews of the New York Dress Institute, staged for the benefit of 240 fashion editors from newspapers throughout the United States.

The second day of the crowded press week showings ended on a high note, with lush collections by Nettie Rosenstein, Philippe Tournaye of the House of Marquise, and Ceil Chapman, designer of after-five fashions for many personalities of stage, screen and television.

Nettie Rosenstein, famous as America's leading advocate of the "little black dress," shows it in many versions, but this season adds glamor in the form of elegant evening gowns in rich brocades. She also introduces her favorite color of the season, "Opossum," a soft taupe, which she teams with real 'possum fur hats and accessories.

MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED
Your Baby And Mine

If there were rules which told a parent when and how much to punish and what knid of punishment worked best, child rearing would be greatly simplified.

But everyone — parent and observer alike — has a different idea on the subject. One is unalterably for spanking; another just as firmly against it. Each one thinks he or she has the answer to discipline.

If we can be unbiased observers of the paternal scene, we have to admit that there are too many types of parents and too many types of children to make any one way of acting represent them all or influence them all. We do what seems right to us, as people. And this takes into account our own type of personality.

Will Discipline Differently

There are the parents who get angry very slowly, but once angry they stay that way for a long time. There are others who get mad at the so-called drop of a hat and are over it as quickly. No one should expect that these two types of personalities will deal with their children's misconduct in the same way.

We are taking it for granted that all of these parents are thinking indivuduals and do not operate on emotions alone. We are likewise taking it for granted that they love their children and do not look upon them as hampering nuisances.

Given these two assumptions one parent can spank, another put a child in temporary isolation, another take away treats, another deny the child companionship and all of these punishments will work. It remains only for the child to know that his parents love him and to feel the punishments to be justified and then what the punishments are is of minor importance.

But, we must make one correction. If the spanking is too brutal, if the isolation is too lengthy, if too many treats are taken away and the child denied companionship for too long a time, then resentment and revengefulness will be the result.

So it isn't whether or not a parnet spanks, or whether she is more strict and severe than some other parent, that makes for good discipline. What counts is whether a parent is a worthy example of good conduct to her children; whether she is aware of what in life is of true value and whether her standards are high.

Then what she does to discipline her children will be n accord with her own nature and personality and her children will accept it as a reflection of this parent and will be moved to better behavior by it. It is therefore the parents' way of life that is important — not the type of disciplines they use.

High Necklines On Advance Fall Dresses

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Sometimes a girl can look more enticing in a high-necked dress than in one slashed for maximum exposure, says Oleg Cassini, reviewing his fall collection for members of the national fashion press.

Just to make sure, however, he shows necklines in two extremes —either high turtlenecks or plunging as low as the law allows.

The high-necked versions usually are fitted to reveal every curve of the figure, an effect of which Cassini is highly in favor. A new interpretation of the white tie—without tails — is his dramatic black velvet evening sheath, long tight and devastating, with white satin bow tie worn in a new position—at the bosom.

A highlight of his collection is a snugly fitted gray wool sheath with black turtleneck dickey and an asymetric neckline below. This one he calls "Scotch and Soda."

Ben Zuckerman, known for upper-bracket suits and coats, shows severely man-tailored suits with easy fit, and sparks them with fur "gimmicks" — his word for small ascots, of mink, leopard or ermine. The suits are shown with mannish derbies or fedoras, usually in colors to match the suits.

IN MONROE

Hixson Purchases Hall Funeral Home

The purchase of Hall Funeral Home by Hixson Brothers was made public in a joint statement by both parties yesterday.

Hixson Brothers announced that the Hall business eventually would be consolidated with Hixson facilities on Jackson Street.

The $30,000 purchase included Hall's business, equipment, caskets on hand, policy obligations, and good will. Hixson has already taken over control of operations.

The sale to Hixson did not include Hall Life Insurance Company, which will continue to be owned and operated by C. A. Hall.

Nor did the Hixson purchase include the real property of Hall located at 403 Jackson street. Hall announced the sale of the real estate last week to St. Francis Hospital for $130,000.

Hixson Brothers, operators of a funeral home chain in Louisiana, announced that all of Hall's funeral assessment obligations and other service committments would be met "in every respect." They will service the several thousand policy holders of Hall.

Hixson Brothers is affiliated with Central State Life Insurance Company, which is domiciled in Alexandria.

James L. Brooks, manager of Hixson, will manage the Hall consolidation and continue as head of Hixson's funeral business in Monroe.

Hall began his funeral business here 21 years ago with the purchase of National Funeral Home. The name of the funeral home was changed to Dixie Funeral Home for a brief period. Later the name was changed to Hall Funeral Home under which the business was operated until the sale to Hixson.

City Court

MONROE

Topping the fines levied by Judge W. M. Harper in Monroe city court yesterday was $400 or seven months on a drunken driving charge. Walter Jordon received it.

Charged with theft, Frank Robinson was assessed $300 or 300 days.

The following forfeited bonds for speeding charges:

Onnie L. Hortman, $12.50; Eugene Yeast, $5; Charlie Ward, $5; Gerald Stewart, $10; Clifford Pamsey, $12.50, and James Gagaway, $12.50.

WEST MONROE

West Monroe's city court session consisted largely of bond forfeitures yesterday. Judge Jasper Jones presided.

Forfeiting a $25 bond on a reckless driving charge was Thomas S. Brooks.

Buck Clark and Donnie D. Waldrop each forfeited a $20.50 bond for speeding charges while Bristol L. Myers forfeited a $30.50 bond on the same count.

Contract Signed To Blacktop The Holly Ridge Hwy.

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Cunningham and McCullen of Shreveport has received a $105,676 Louisiana Department of Highways contract for 3.4 miles of blacktopping work along the Holly Ridge-Darnell Hwy., State Rt. 585, in Richland Parish.

Highway Director R. B. Richardson said plans call for grading, drainage structures, aggregate type or soil cement base course and three-application bituminous surface treatment, 20-feet wide.

Work has already begun and five months will be needed for completion. The project begins at the junction of State Rouge 134 and runs north to the West Carroll Parish line.

Richardson said the contractor will not be required to provide for or maintain through traffic but will provide for local traffic at all junctions and crossings of existing traveled roads.

Fred M. Hill of Monroe is the member of the State Board of Highways from the Fifth Congressional District, in which the project is located.

Richardson said W. R. Overton of Monroe has been designated as project engineer, under direction of Wayne H. Huckaby, Highway Department district engineer at Monroe.

HEAT CAUSES WALKOUT

BRANTFORD, Ont. (UPI) — A group of employes of the Super Oil Seal Manufacturing Co. walked off their jobs Thursday because of the heat. Plant superintendent Charles Todd said the 50 workers walked out after the company refused to open windows to lessen the heat. Todd said the building has its own ventilating system and windows are kept closed.

ARSONISTS BLAMED

Home Of Hoffa's Friend Is Razed

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (UPI)—The home of a Detroit Teamster Union official and close friend of Teamster boss Jimmy Hoffa, was destroyed Thursday night by fire which police said was set by arsonists.

Three empty five-gallon gasoline cans and a fourth partly empty can were found in the two-story brick veneer hilltop house in Bloomfield Township. The home was completely destroyed. Only the shell, the basement and the garage remained. Damage was estimated between $30,000 and $50,000.

The home was occupied by Charles O'Brien, 28, business agent for Detroit Teamster Union Local 299—Hoffa's home union. O'Brien, his wife, Mary Ann, and two children, Charles, 5, and Josephine, 2, were away. O'Brien was reported in Wyoming on business. Mrs. O'Brien and the children were in Kansas City.

It was the second arson case in less than a year in Michigan involving Teamsters Union officials. Last August, Frank Kierdorf, business agent for a Teamster local in Flint, was fatally burned when he bungled an arson job at a Dry-cleaning establishment in Flint. Jack Thompson, another Teamster official, was convicted of being his accomplice in the arson and is now serving time at Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson.

In Thursday night's arson case, the house was owned by O'Brien's mother, Mrs. Sylvia Paris, a one-time official of a grocery clerk's union, and divorced wife of the late John D. Paris, secretary - treasurer of the Laundry Workers Union.

Mrs. Paris had been staying at the home while her son's family was away—but had been attending a township meeting when the fire started.

She told police her son had received a number of threats after he had tried to organize police and department of public works employes in Dearborn.

Mrs. Paris also said that a man driving an unmarked truck drove to the home last Tuesday and told her he was looking for an address on another road. She said he told her he was a telephone company repairman. She said she did not think anything of it at the time, but had let him in the house while he consulted his map.

State police said the fire was started by spewing gasoline through the downstairs living room and in the upstairs living rooms, and setting fire to it.

The entire inside of the house was burned out and part of the roof was burned away.

Another mystery of the case, according to state police Detective Sergeant Oramel O'Farrell, was that all doors and windows of the house were found locked by firemen when they arrived. They broke the lock on the front door to get inside.

Bert Brennan, president of Teamster Local 337 and a top aide of Hoffa in Detroit, said he could think of no reason why O'Brien's home would be a target of arsonists.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Forsythe Park To Be Scene Of Sunday Concert

Sunday at 3 p.m. the Twin Cities Civic Band will present a concert at Foresythe Park. There will be no admission charge.

The band, under the direction of Roland Carter, former director of West Monroe High School Band, will present a varied program ranging from the "Battle of New Orleans" to "Themes from Offenbach."

The band was organized in the spring of this year and has practiced weekly at the First Baptist Church of West Monroe, its sponsor.

Its membership is composed of junior hig, high school, and college students.

This will be the first performance open to the public, and the first of a Series of concerts planned by the organization.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 40 cents a bale higher to 5 cents lower Friday, with only distant October showing a decline.

The market was reactionary in early dealings on a fairm amount of hedging in nearby months, with New Orleans selling at one time depressing the distant 1960 positions as much as 75 cents a bale.

In later trading the market firmed as spot house buying and professional short covering broadened.

The upturn in futures was partly attributed to reports of increasing interest in new crop cotton at primary markets.

Switching operations by traders between the current crop and the 1960 crop months was relatively active.

Private crop weather reports were mixed.

Futures closed 40 cents a bale higher to 5 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

MIDDLING COTTON

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The average price of one inch spot cotton at 14 designated southern spot markets today was 10 cents a bale lower at 33.59 cents a pound; previous day 33.61; week ago 33.93; month ago 34.48; year ago 34.91. Average for the past 30 market days 34.34. Middling 15-16ths inch average 32.01. Sales 3,573.

SPOT COTTON

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Spot cotton closed steady and unchanged. Sales, none. Low middling 26.40; middling 32.90; good middling 33.60. Receipts 901. Stock 345,310.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — After a few sales at steady to strong prices the butcher hog market turned weak again Friday and finished as much as 25 cents lower.

The market barely made a $15.25 top, equal to the high of the week which was paid also on Wednesday. It went for less than 25 head of 208 lb No. 1 grade.

The supply of 4,500 head brought the total for the week to a small 36,500, off 2,500 from last week, but it left prices generally still at their lowest levels in more than 2½ years.

No. 1 and mixed 1-2 grades weighing 200-225 lbs went Friday at $14.75-15.00, the practical top, and mixed 1-3 grades in the 200-220 lb range at $14.65-$14.90 while a few 200-230 lb strictly No. 3s went for $14.00. Heavier weights sold down to $12.00.

Sows were steady to weak at $9.25-12.25.

There were no sales of slaughter steers or heifers as the cattle supply dropped to 200 head. There were a few sales of vealers and bulls at quotabley steady prices. Vealers were $33.00 for good to choice and bulls $21.50 - 24.00 for utility to commercial grades.

Only a sprinkling of slaughter lambs went on sale. They graded choice and moved at $23.00.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK (AP) —

Stocks—Lower; rails, steels motors decline.

Bonds — Mixed; governments decline.

Cotton — Irregular; mill buying in current contracts.

Chicago:

Wheat — Lower; slow demand.

Corn — Higher; light commercial demand.

Oats — Mostly lower; liquidation.

Soybeans — Higher; short covering.

Hogs — Steady to 25 cents lower; top $15.25.

Cattle — Supply insufficient for market test.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures tetered over a fairly broad price range Friday on the Board of Trade but finished in a moderate flurry of buying at their highs for the day, up mostly in major fractions.

Twice during the active session in that pit, all contracts skipped from major fractions above to major fractions below previous closes. Profit takers jumped on the bulges and shorts used the setbacks to cover commitments as dealers noted reports that dry weather in the major producing region of central Illinois had damaged the crop somewhat and already had cut the yield outlook as much as 50 per cent in at least a few scattered spots.

The same drouth reports had a steadying effect in the corn pit despite the recent government forecast that the crop appeared headed for record high production.

Otherwise trade was dull with wheat and oats under mild selling pressure mainly because of slow commercial demand.

The grain trade generally called the 1959 winter wheat harvest at an end Friday so far as the seasonal peak pressure of hedge selling is concerned.

Wheat closed unchanged to ⅝ cent a bushel lower on the 1959 crop months, July $1.86⅛-86, and the 1959 crop months ¾ - 1 cent lower; corn ⅛-½ cent higher, July $1.25¼-⅜; oats ⅛ higher to ½ lower, July new type contract 67¾; rye ⅝-1⅝ higher, July $1.27 ⅜; soybeans ⅜ - ¾ higher, July $2.20½-⅝.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

QUASHED SUBPENA

A federal judge quashed a government subpena Friday that would have forced General Motors Corp. to open its books dating as far back as 1929 in connection with a Justice Department probe into possible monopoly in the auto industry. The judge ruled that the information sought from GM was "unprecedented" in the court's experience and "unreasonable."

DEFENSE CONTRACTS

Navy officials admitted to congressional investigators they did a "bad" job in negotiating 14 defense contracts on which the government was overcharged more than $12 million. The Navy said it had taken steps to prevent such a recurrence but couldn't "guarantee" that it wouldn't.

GRAIN FUEL

The House Appropriations Committee recommends that the government investigate the possibility of extracting fuel from grain by bombarding it with radiation. The committee voted $10 million to conduct the study.

FOREIGN CURRENIES

President Eisenhower asks Congress to approve spending $32,400,000 in foreign currencies credited to the U.S. government in return for surplus crops sent abroad. The President said he planned to spend the foreign currency on research projects abroad.

STOCKS DECLINE

Stocks lost more ground Friday with rails, steels, motors and electronics leading the way. Despite the over-all easiness of the market, there were a number of good gains in the list as issues responded to favorable corporate developments.

Stock Prices Close Lower For Session

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks closed lower for the second straight session Friday in moderate trading.

A late rally helped to pare losses throughout the list but losses outnumbered declines by a good margin at the close. The Steels, electrical equipments, chemicals, and rails were the chief offenders in the decline.

There were some fairly sharp gains in the main list, mainly among stocks outside the group used to compile the averages. Some issues responded strongly to favorable corporate developments such as stock splits, increased dividends and mergers.

Fears of a long steel strike, and the effects it would have on corporate earnings and dividends this year, helped to keep the market off balance.

The rails showed the sharpest decline in the averages. This industry already has begun to feel the impact of the steel strike and the effects will get worse as the strike drags on. Norfolk & Western was off more than 2 points while losses of a point or more appeared in Baltimore & Ohio, Great Northern, and Southern Pacific.

Leading steel stocks lost fractions to around a point or more in Jones & Laughlin, and Republic Steel. Youngstown Sheet & Tube rallied to finish more than a point higher. Auto stocks showed losses running to more than a point in Ford.

Black & Decker responded to a stock split and dividend hike with a gain running past 3 points. John R. Thompson was up more than 4 for the same reason.

TICKER TAPE HIGHLIGHTS

PRICES MIXED

Yesterday a closing rally pared losses and the market ended on a fairly firm note. Specialties generated some interest with Black and Decker ahead 3¼ and J. R. Thompson plus 4¼ on proposed splits. Rohm and Haas tacked on 20 more while Eastman Kodak was 1⅜ to a new top. Spencer Chemical added 1⅝ while Dow dropped 2. Steels were also mixed with Granite City up 2¼ to a new high Youngstown ahead 1⅞ and Republic off 1¾.

DRUGS VARIED

Drugs were varied with Vick, Plough, and Schering each up about 1½ as Merck and Bristol Myers slipped 1. Airlines and Aircrafts were largely neglected although Douglas dropped to a new low and Piper rose 1⅝. Coppers and tobaccos were also quiet as Lorillard gave up 1⅜ of recent gains. Oils showed fractional gains to 1¼ by Amerada. Moderate profit taking clipped fractions in Aluminums as Reynolds dropped 1⅞.

PAPERS RISE

Mixed Electronics featured Beckman up 4⅞ while General Electric, Motorla and Zenith dropped 1. Motors were soft with Ford and General Motors off about 1½ each. Building and paper shares were ignored although Georgia Pacific rose 1⅝ and U. S. Plywood dropped a similar amount as a contest over acquisition of Booth-Kelly was apparently resolved. Firestone added 1¼ in quiet rubbers while specialty action included Wagner Electric up 3½. Cocoa Cola ahead 3¼. Average plus 2 with IBM down 3 and Caterpillar off 2¼. Rails continued recent weakness as Norfolk and Western slid 2¼ Southern Pacific gave up 1½ and great Northern fell 1.

AVERAGES LOW

The Industrials off $1 at 11 a.m., drifted to minus 1.95 at 2.00 p.m., and rallied moderately to show a new loss of 1.16 to 657.13. The rails also reached a low point around 2 p.m., but still ended off 1.54 at 166.95. The Utilities were minus 24 to 88.95.

Going Nowhere

All three main lines of the Santa Fe Railroad were blocked today at Emporia, Kan. when these 29 cars of a 124-car eastbound freight train derailed 12 miles west of Emporia. Three of the wrecked cars contained liquid pertoleum gas but neither fire nor explosion resulted. Cause of the wreck was not immediately determined. Rail traffic between Newton, Kan., and Kansas City was rerouted over other lines until the tracks could be cleared. (AP Wirephoto)

BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

Labor Controls Bill Completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Labor Committee completed a labor controls bill Friday which takes some of the force out of the Senate-passed antiracketeering measure.

More than 100 committee amendments represented a virtual rewriting of the Senate's "bill of rights" for union members, its election safeguards, Taft-Hartley Act revision and other provisions.

As its final action winding up five weeks of closed-door sessions, the committee eliminated Senate-approved suggestions for adoption of voluntary codes of ethics by unions and business.

Republicans called the bill much weaker than the Senate measure.

Democrats had varying opinions. Rep. Roy W. Wier (D-Minn) summed up: "It has something in it for everybody."

The sessions closed with a blast by Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) at "outside influences" he accused of attempting to dictate to the committee during its working hours.

He did not identify them. But his charges followed closely grumbling among some committee members about what they called pressures exerted by representatives of labor unions.

Barden contended the committee's bill virtually destroyed the Senate version and just about knocked out of it entirely the union members' bill of rights backed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Labor-Management Committee.

The bill may be ready to send to the House next week. It is certain to touch off a free-ofr-all battle to rewrite it on the floor.

The House version follows only the framework of the Senate bill.

The bill of rights was rewarded to delete criminal penalties for violation of the rights spelled out for union members.

Instead of a jail term and fine for union officials convicted of coercing or discipling members who exercise their rights, the House bill provides that aggrieved members must use internal union procedure for six months and then seek an injunction in federal court.

The bill removes authority proposed for the secretary of labor by the Senate to investigate union elections for improprieties, or to refer evidence of wrongdoing to any other government agency.

On the other hand, the bill tightens up requirements on both unions and employers to report financial dealings involving labor-management relations.

A major House action would change the Taft-Hartley law to enlarge the National Labor Relations Board from five to seven members and require it to take jurisdiction in all labor cases.

Crippled Plane 'Talked-In' For Landing In Fog

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI) — A Marine C 47 with one engine out and 24 persons aboard was "talked-in" to Olmstead Air Force Base during a fog Friday morning, the Air Force announced late Friday.

Aboard the two-engine plane were Marine pilot Col. J. P. Coursey and co-pilot M. Sgt. W.L. Simpson, along with 22 other Marines. The plane had taken off from Quantico, Va., and was en route to Niagra Falls, N. Y.

About 15 miles from Harrisburg the engine failed and the pilot radioed Harrisburg State Airport. The airport turned the pilot over to Olmstead which has a ground controlled approach set up.

Air Force M. Sgt. George Sutton "talked-in" the pilot from 10 miles out in a fog that limited visibility to one mile and the ceiling to 500 feet. The plane landed without mishap.

Late in the afternoon another plane came up from Quantico and took the Marines to Niagra Falls. An Air Force spokesman said no other names, ages or addresses are available.

Sutton is a native of Stubenville, Ohio. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Sutton, live in Mechanicstown, Ohio.

General Motors Winner In Fight On Old Records

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors Corp. won its court fight Friday against digging up 30 years of its records for a grand jury.

Lawyers for the nation's biggest auto producer argued that the federal government wanted the records as part of a "fishing expedition" to support a civil antitrust action against GM.

The company said the government subpoena of the records would involve tons of files lodged in more than 100,000 drawers.

The government replied that it needed the documents to trace GM policy decisions and thus determine whether legal action was justified against GM.

U.S. Dist. Judge John F. X. McGohey threw out the subpoena, ruling: "It is settled law that a demand for production of documents must be reasonable. I hold that this subpoena is unreasonable. It will be quashed. In view of what has been said, it is unnecessary to pass now on the corporation's contention that in any event the government is misusing the grand jury process to discover evidence to support a civil suit."

SAUD GERMANY-BOUND

SUEZ, U.A.R. (UPI) — King Saud of Saudi Arabia was on his way to West Germany Friday to undergo treatment for his health. He arrived here aboard the Greek yacht Adriatiki Thursday.

IN FEDERAL COURT

Charges Against James Dismissed

SHREVEPORT (Special)—Embezzlement charges against N. Bryant James, chairman of the State Republican Central Committee and former Farmerville banker, were dismissed in federal court here Thursday because of defective wording.

U. S. District Attorney T. Fitzhugh Wilson said the indictment issued May 14 was dismissed because the government after further research discovered the terms "money, funds or credit" used therein did not apply to the furniture and fixtures James was alleged to have embezzled from the Farmerville bank.

Wilson said, however, the government now will seek a superceding indictment from the next grand jury convened. He said no date is set at present for a calling of the next federal grand jury.

The dismissal signed by Federal Judge Ben C. Dawkins dropped charges against James and canceled the $2,000 bond under which he has been at liberty since the indictment.

James pleaded innocent to acquiring the furnishings from the Farmerville Bank ne headed as president from 1943-58. The furniture was taken by the bank from a West Monroe men's store in bankruptcy proceedings.

Wilson said the government elected to not oppose James' motion for dismissal of the case after a re-examination of the wording of the indictment. But he said there definitely will be "further prosecutive action."

The former Farmerville banker, now president of the James Security Co. and an officer of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Union Parish, is represented by another leading Louisiana Republican party member, George M. Snelling Jr. of Monroe. James first headed the state party in 1952, and has been at its helm since.

JAMES L. BROOKS, MANAGER

Hixson Brothers Funeral Home

James L. Brooks, manager of Hixson Brothers in Monroe, has been affiliated with Hixson here for 10 years. He is a native of Monroe and has a background of 23 years in the funeral business. "As a member of the Hixson organization, I extend a cordial welcome to the thousands of Hall policyholders who will be looking to us for service," Brooks said. "Through our facilities at Hixson's we will deliver the service that will warrant your appreciation and respect," Mr. Brooks promised.

STATEMENT TO HALL POLICYHOLDERS:

We have always endeavered to make progressive decisions that would benefit our policyholders and further their best interest. It is in keeping with this philosophy that we announce the sale of the Hall Funeral Home interests to Hixson Brothers, who will now service completely all operations and policy commitments of Hall Funeral Home, Hall Funeral Association and Hall Life Insurance Company.

Hixson Brothers will be solidly behind the long established service commitments of the Hall operations. We feel that the transition could not have been placed in better hands to carry out the obligations to Hall's policyholders.

To our thousands of policyholders, we would like to extend our thanks for your many years of trusted friendship and confidence. To Hixson Brothers, we extend our congratulations and best wishes.
